OF

Ralph C. Link

I am the youngest of five children. I was born just prior to the onset of the Depression. Our family was very poor. My father was an alcoholic and my mother was a very religious person who was searching for the Lord. During my childhood she did her best to teach me the things of the Lord. Later in life she came to a personal relationship with Him.

I grew up in the Evangelical and Reformed Church where salvation by grace alone was not preached nor taught. I knew all about Jesus, what He did, how He lived, His miracles, His death and resurrection, but I didn't know Him personally.

My life had many ups and downs and all the while I was attending church and striving with my good works to please God. At a very low point in my life when we were deeply in debt and my wife and three children were all ill, I came to the crossroads. I watched a Billy Graham Crusade on television from some distant city and the message he preached seemed to be directed right at me. I wrestled with making that commitment to Christ, but didn't. The next afternoon and evening at work on the 4 to 12 shift I came to the conclusion that I needed to make that commitment to Christ. It seemed like there was no other choice if life was to have any meaning. That night when I came home from work at 1:00 A.M., I laid face down on the living room floor and told God that I couldn't live my life in my own strength and I accepted the gift of salvation from my Savior Jesus Christ. My life has never been the same.

Through several meaningful circumstances I was called by God to serve Him in the Christian Ministry and to help spread that wonderful message of salvation through the shed blood of Jesus Christ. What a wonderful and rewarding time it has been and I give Him all the praise for my salvation and the opportunity to serve Him.

STATEMENT OF FAITH

Ralph C. Link

I believe the Bible, both the Old and New Testaments to be the inspired inerrant Word of God. I believe the Bible is the complete revelation of His will for the salvation of men and it is the final authority for the Christian faith and life.

I believe in one God, who is eternally existent in three persons: Father, Son and Holy Spirit.

I believe in the Deity of the Lord Jesus Christ that He is true God and true man. I believe that He was born of the Virgin Mary, that He lived in sinless life, that He performed the miracles recorded in Scripture, that He died on the cross as a sacrifice for our sins, that He bodily arose from the dead, that He ascended on high where He is at the right hand of Almighty God as our intercessor.

I believe in the Holy Spirit and that He comes and indwells each believer at the time of conversion. I believe that He lives in each believer to lead, to instruct, and to convict so that a believer may live a more godly life.

I believe that through the shed blood of Jesus Christ and through His resurrection, this is the only ground for justification and salvation for all who receive Him. A Lord and Savior and to such as receive Him, they are born of the Holy Spirit and become children of God.

I believe water baptism and the Lord's Supper are ordinances of the Church but are not means of salvation.

I believe in the personal and premillennial and imminent coming of the Lord Jesus Christ.

I believe in the resurrection of the dead, for the believer to resurrection of life and joy with the Lord, for the unbeliever to resurrection of judgement and everlasting punishment.

"Preserve And Flavor"

Scripture: Matthew 5:13

Text: Matthew 5:13

We resume our series on the Sermon On The Mount with the words of Jesus following His giving of the ~~Beatitude~~ Beatitudes. As we had said before this is a rather lengthy dissertation and most probably was not given all at one time. But Matthew remembering the words of Jesus combines them into these three chapters, 5, 6, and 7.

We looked at the Beatitudes in depth and it was there we discovered what we are, and now we begin to discover what we ~~are~~ must be. As we look at these words of Jesus we are once again confronted with the difficult position we find ourselves in striving to be a Christian.

Jesus begins by saying, "Ye are the salt of the earth." This saying has had such an impact upon the world that it is used quite frequently to speak very highly of someone. We say, "He is the salt of the earth," and the meaning is just exactly what Jesus had for it. Perhaps when we say it of someone we are not saying it in the strictly Christian sense of Jesus' meaning, but we do mean the person of whom we speak is a good person.

There are some factors involved which give direction and meaning to what Jesus said. He made this remark to an audience of people who were living in a Roman occupied land. They had brought their ideas and their thinking with them. Many of these ideas had been assimilated into the lives of these people to the extent that ~~they understood~~ Jesus used these imported ideas as illustrations in His speaking. The use of the ~~illustration~~ word "salt" in His illustration at this point is a case in point. The Romans had a jingle in Latin which said, "There is nothing more useful than sun and salt." Salt was looked upon as being the purest of all things because it came from sun and ~~salt~~ sea. It was salt which was used as an offering to the gods and it was this pinch of salt to be given in worship to the emperor that caused many of the early Christians to lose their lives because they refused to do it. But salt for the Jew had meaning and purpose as well. If you like to write down Scripture verses for reference of certain things here are a few on the mention and uses of salt. Salt was used as a binding covenant and references to this are found in Leviticus 2:13; Number 18:19; 2 Chronicles 13:5; and Ezekiel 43:24.

Salt ~~was~~ used ~~as~~ for healing and cleansing, 2 Kings ~~2:20~~ 2:20,21

Salt as a stimulant to the appetite, Job 6:6

Salt used as a preventive from decay, Luke 14:34,35

Salt as a promoter of peace, Mark 9:50

Salt as an evidence of Grace, Collosians 4:6 and salt as the mark of a Christian, Matthew 5:13.

Jesus knew and understood the world in which these people lived. He knew their thinking and He knew what that society was striving to do. They were no different than our society today. We are far more advanced, but our basic premises and ideas are the same. Jesus knew that the people who surrounded those who wanted to be His followers would always face opposition because the people who were not His followers would never understand what the Christian life stood for and was all about. As brutal and harsh as the Roman Empire may have been, one thing they sought to do, and that was to improve upon the world in which they lived. They believed their style of life and government was better than anything going at that time and so they imposed that upon the people. But if they were to be asked what they were about, their reply would have probably been, "To improve the lot of mankind." Each succeeding generation has sought to do so in one way or another, right up to our present day and age. The belief in our 20th century has been and still persists that we are on the verge of eradicating all disease, premature death, poverty, war, and so on. With each generation we see the work and dedication put into efforts to overcome all of these things. The Church perhaps since World War I has sought to have its people out fighting poverty and disease and war and the other ills. But Jesus Christ knew, and tried to impart to any who would be His followers that the people in the world are all basically evil, and no amount of good works and good efforts is going to eradicate these ills. We need to only look at one classic example in our own society to understand this. We started a program many years ago to help the poor and needy. We called it welfare. Yet the very people who have administrated this program have been the ones to steal from it and much of the money never reaches the people it is intended for. And many of those seeking help from the program are unwilling to work when they no longer need the help, when their labor would provide money to help still others. Man has that inner selfishness which has made him look out for himself at the expense of others since the beginning of time. God created a perfect atmosphere in which to live and Adam and Eve had to pervert it. Cain came along and killed his brother because of his selfishness and greed. All of the people except Noah and his family were destroyed by God because of their sinful and wicked lives. The list goes on and on. Jesus knew this and He also knew that man would never solve these problems until and unless he had a change of heart. Therefore He said, "Ye," meaning the individual Christian. You are to be the salt of the earth. He meant they were to be the preservative in the rottenness which makes up this life. He knew they had to live in the world, but they didn't have to be part and parcel of the selfishness, the greed, the wickedness around them. James, the brother of Jesus said that a person who wanted to be a follower of Jesus Christ should "keep himself unspotted from the world." We must live among those who are unsavory, perhaps rotten to the core, but we are to maintain ourselves as a preservative in the midst of the rottenness.

But Jesus didn't just stop by saying that "You are to be the salt of the earth." He added, "But if ~~salt~~ the salt have lost his savour, wherewith shall it be salted? It is thenceforth good for nothing, but to be cast out, and to be trodden under foot of men." The Christian was to be not only a preservative in the world and in the society in which he lived, but he was to flavor that world and society. After the Roman Emperor Constantine an Emperor by the name of Julian came to the throne. He wanted to go back to the old gods of Rome and to do away with Christianity as Constantine had endorsed it. This is what he said about Christians: (Illustration of this from Barclay, Mt. Vol 1, pg 116).

This is basically what Jesus was implying in the remainder of this 13th verse. He leaving ~~unspoken~~ the question, "What good is it if you say you are Christian and there is no evidence of it in your life?" Being a Christian in any age or society is much more than knowing the life which must be lived. It is living that life, but in such a way that there is life in that Christian. It isn't being sad and gloomy and making Christianity unattractive to others. But this is what many people do. I heard recently that one of the most repeated putdowns on radio talk shows this past year has been the remark against Christianity, "Those fundamental protestants." We should be fundamental and that is nothing to be ashamed of. But when we become obnoxious in our witness for our Lord, we turn people from Christianity instead of toward it. Our flavor in the world is to be such that people desire to have what we have. It should be attractive. We know the life that Jesus lived. Perhaps we may have heard what an unknown author wrote of Him, listen to this:

(Illustration Jesus born and living in obscure village etc).

Think of what the world would be if there was no Christianity in it. People may strive to do away with it; they may lash out against it; but without it this world would be a jungle. That influence of one life, Jesus Christ has made all the difference even if the world does not and will not recognize that fact. But more importantly for you and me today is the question, "What difference do you and I make in the world in which we live? Is our circle of influence different because we are living examples of that Saviour Jesus Christ? Can people tell by our actions that we live in close contact with Jesus? Is the world a better place for our living in it because we are seen as a preservative and flavoring? What will people say of us when we depart the scene? Will it be, "He or she was the salt of the earth, and it is meant because we showed forth Jesus Christ? Or will it be because we were simply a nice guy and no one knew what we believed in or stood for because we never showed it or said it? As we set off on a journey into another year, let us each keep in mind that the Lord wants us to be a preserving and flavoring element in this world, because we belong to him.

"Illumination Expected"

Scripture: Matthew 5:14-16

Text: Matthew 5:14a

The scene is still the same. A man is seated on a hillside facing a large group of people. The looks on the faces of those people gives evidence that what he is saying is having a deep impact upon their lives. They are hearing words which are new; which are giving hope in the midst of despair and confusion and depression. But some of those words seem so out of place in their particular situations. The man, is the one called Jesus Christ the newly acclaimed prophet from Nazareth. The man who may just be the messiah promised by prophets of old. The occasion is what later came to be known as "The Sermon on The Mount". The people are the common ordinary peasants from the surrounding towns and villages adjacent to this area. Some of them have traveled for many miles because they had been told this new teacher was in the area. Some of the people were the religious leaders of the nation of Israel and they were intent on hearing His message because they had heard He was saying things which were contrary to the written Mosaic Code. But for the most part, this audience is made of simple, ordinary, common, poor folk. People who had little in the way of life's goods and possessions; people who were accustomed to long hours of labor to eke out an existence to just make ends meet. They were people whose life span was short because of the poor diets, the poor housing, the poor clothing, the poor water supply, and the many diseases and illnesses which took their toll in both adults and children. What made all of this scene so incongruous was the fact that this preacher was telling them, "Ye are the light of the world." These poor bedraggled, God-forasken people. They were the light of the world? These people who were the nothings of society; who were trampled upon by anyone desirous of getting ahead; these people who were unwanted and unloved, but needed in order to get the work done, to collect the taxes from and to carry the burdens no decent self-respecting citizen would carry. These were the Light the World? Surely there must be some mistake. We can almost see the religious leaders taking a deep breath of indignation at this remark. But Jesus was say-

i. for the first time that these unimportant people of the world were the real people of the world. These were the ones who counted. These were the ones who could show forth what life was all about. But that message has come down to our day and age as well. We look about us and we see the supposed people who are important. We see those who are lifted above the rest of society by class or station in life; we see those who are considered to be the cream of society and the common ordinary person stands in the shadow of their lives. But what Jesus said then was the same thing He would say now, "Ye", "You who are God's people, You are the Light of the World." Think of it! It isn't Rockefeller, ~~Mellon~~ Rockwell, Mellon, Union, Exquisite, E.F. Hutton, or Dow Jones which is the light of the world. It is "You", those of you who call yourselves the people of God. Not money, wealth, prestige, or any of the other attributes which society looks to as being the enlightenment for the world, none of these things is what is considered as being of complete importance.

Look at the world up to and including the present day and age. What is the one thing which has always been considered that which would solve and correct all of the ailments of society? It has been the search for knowledge, and knowledge is considered as enlightenment. We are living in an age which is probably unparalleled in all of history. We have more knowledge and enlightenment than the world has ever seen. We can accurately send men into space in a precise and exact orbit. Every thing functions and men have overcome all of the problems such a vast venture can create. But back on planet earth we have ~~xxx~~ never discovered how to control man's selfishness and greed and so we have more people to be locked up than we have prisons to hold them. Medically we are more enlightened than any other age which lived. We can overcome and control many things which wiped out complete societies of other years. Yet we cannot control the abuse ~~xxxxxxdrugs~~ and misuse of these drugs created to heal and make well. In all areas of our society we are sick and degenerate and all of this in the face of the complete age of enlightenment. And the question is asked over and over again, "Why," "Why," "Why?" The answer is that the world is in darkness and will remain in darkness until it knows the true light. But Jesus added to what He was saying by giving them illustrations of what He was saying. He said, "A city that is set on a hill cannot be hid." They could understand this because as they looked across the ~~hills~~ valleys at night, they could see the lights twinkling in the windows of houses and shops. He told them of an illustration they could understand about light. "Neither do men light a candle and put it under a bushel, but on a candlestick; and it giveth light unto all that are in the house." This needed no explanation, but it gave them a picture of what light could do when exposed and how it served no purpose if hidden. Then He added, "Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works and glorify your Father which is in heaven." Here He compares light with work. They could understand then that He was not speaking of a lamp, or a candle or any other mechanical means of making light. He was telling them that their very lives were to show forth light in a society filled with darkness. But in all of this He was giving them much more than just telling them to be a candle in the dark of life. ~~xxxxx~~

(Illustration of little girl and recitation of Jesus being Light of the World; she forgot her lines and mother cued her; it came out "My Mother is the light of the World.")

This is the relationship which is uniquely the Christian's to share in this life. Jesus said, "I am the Light of the World," and in this scripture He is saying, "You are the Light of the World." Just who is the Light of the world? Is it Jesus, or is it you and me? The answer is that He is the Light of the world and because of Him, and because we are His, through Him we ARE the Light of the world. This puts us above the leaders of nations, above presidents, and Governors, above leaders of industry. We have the ultimate which anyone could ever have in this life, and that is to be the motivating or moving force for other lives so ~~xxxxx~~ that God may be glorified. A little five year old boy was asked what a saint was. He remembered seeing Biblical people portrayed in stained glass windows at church and had been told they were saints. So his answer was, "S_{aints} are people the light shines through." Think of that for a minute. There is truth from the mouth of a babe. Does the world see Light because of our lives, or does it see instead, more darkness to add to the darkness which already surrounds them?

The world is getting more ugly and dirty with each passing day. The search continues for solutions to all problems of society. Yet, the Light which can solve all of those problems is rejected as too simple, or mostly unconstitutional. What is the answer to the crime problem? What is the answer to the school problem? What is the answer to any problem in life? It is Jesus Christ and that can be proven again and again if it is tried. In those prisons where Jesus Christ is preached and the Gospel is shared, the incidence of men and women returning to prison after being released is that only about 2 or 3% ever return. Yet we are told there is no answer. In Christian Schools young men and women are being turned out into society who are not delinquent and problem people on a much larger scale than our public schools produce. The answer is again Jesus Christ. But we cannot share this information because of the hurt and cry of those who want no part of it. You and I may not be able to change vast areas of our society. But we can infiltrate our little sphere of influence wherever that may be.

(Illustration of Vancouver Public Aquarium and light from electric Eels)

Here is the lesson for all of us. ~~Jesus was~~ The Birth of Jesus was pinpointed by Light, from a Star. He gave forth light in his life. He spoke of it, He said He was the Light. His Light permeated everything and everyone around Him.

(Questions by D. Martyn Lloyd Jones)

Christian people ~~are the~~ alone are the light of the world today. Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works and glorify your Father who is in heaven. For ye are the Light of the World."

"Harmony"

Scripture: Matthew 5:17-18

Text: Matthew 5:17, "I am ~~xxxx~~ not come to destroy, but to fulfill."

For the next three Sundays we will be using this small portion of Scripture from this portion of The Sermon on The Mount. This week it is verses 17 and 18; next week it will be verses 19 and 20; and the next week it will be verse 20 by itself. I was going to have a couple men from the choir demonstrate the title of our sermon for this morning, "Harmon," but Harry tells me they haven't been able to achieve that for sometime. Perhaps we can use them next week when the message will be, "Disharmony." The following Sunday we will be looking at "The Interpretation" of all of these verses.

Thus far Jesus had taught first, how a follower of His was to live. He gave the qualities we should possess in our lives. Then He told how this was to be evidenced to the world by using the illustrations of salt and light. A Christian is to be a preservative and flavoring for life, but he is also to cast light in the darkness of everyday life. Now He comes to the place where He is going to spell out what the living of God's Laws were to be. But before He does that He has to explain himself. The reason behind this is that Jesus at this point knew that much in the way of adverse publicity was coming out about Him. People were saying, "He hasn't been schooled in the Law, how can He teach it?" Others were commenting that He was not a graduate of the Jerusalem Theological Seminary, accredited by the ~~xxxxxxx~~ of Jewish Association of Pharisaical and Scribal Scholars. The question was coming forth loud and clear how could He have any authority when He was not recognized as having standing in the accepted religious system. Being aware of this, yet not operating out of fear of the religious hierarchy of the day, Jesus set forth to make clear His teaching as compared to the accepted Law and the teaching of the Prophets. He began by saying to them: "Think not that I am come to destroy the law, or the prophets; I am not come to destroy, but to fulfill." At this point the religious leaders hearing this statement must have breathed a sigh of relief. From the ~~radical~~ unorthodox statements He had made up to this point, it showed promise that His ministry was going to be at odds with all of their teaching. But now He claims that He is going to fulfill all of it. At least it shows a desire to co-operate with them, or so they must have thought. The one word of this verse which needs to be understood in its complete context is the word, "Fulfill." The word does not be to complete as some people try and have tried to interpret it. Jesus meant that He had come to fulfill, to carry out, to be obedient to everything which was expected of Him up to and including His sacrificial death for mankind, and His rising from the grave. He meant that His task was to be the embodiment of everything which had been written and said about Him. As He lived His life preaching and teaching, it soon became evident that He was something more than just a prophet. He possessed powers which no ordinary prophet had ever had. But beyond this He spoke as no one ever had and this was said of Him quite frequently. The Apostle Paul wrote of Jesus in his letter to the people in Galatia, chapter 4, verses 4 & 5, "But when the fulness of ~~him~~ the time was come, God sent forth His Son, made of a woman, made under the law, to redeem them that were under the law, that we might receive the adoption of sons." Paul says ~~He~~ Jesus was "Made under the law." This meant that He was not separate and apart from it, but instead was under it. He says He came to fulfill it. What He was saying and what Paul and others said about Him is that all which was told in the Law and the Prophets was to be ~~accomplished~~ fulfilled in Him.

For us to know what this means we should understand what the Law and the prophets were. The Law was divided into three sections. First there was the Moral code. This consisted of the Ten Commandments and the principles laid down in them. Then there was the Judicial law which was the code of ethics set forth ~~as~~ for the nation of Israel and how to were to behave toward each other and to other people. The third section was the Ceremonial law. This had to do with the conduct of the worship of God through burnt offerings, sacrifices, and the ritual in the Temple and other places. ~~These~~ All of this was written in the Old Testament books of Exodus, Leviticus and Numbers. The Prophets were the accounts of those chosen men of God who spoke to the nation of Israel pertaining to how they were ~~living~~ living the Law wither rightly or wrongly. The writings of these men concerning future events and happenings were also a part of this record. So when Jesus said He came to fulfill the Law and the Prophets He was saying that His life was to be lived in obedience to the Old Testament. To Jesus all of this was the Word of God. It spoke of His coming, and it spoke of God's love for His people. Therefore, Jesus knew His role to be the complete giving of Himself to make that Law a reality in the lives of those who would follow Him. And it meant that all that had been foretold of Him would be fulfilled by His ministry, His death, and His resurrection.

In another portion of the Gospel of Matthew, the 22nd chapter, the 35th through the 40th verse we read this illustration. (Read this, about lawyer asking which is the great commandment and Jesus' answer to it). All of that which was written in God's Word in what we call the Old Testament can be summed up in these two statements. When we compare what Jesus said with how He lived His life we can see that He did indeed fulfill the Law and the Prophets. He ¹ love God with all of His heart, His soul, and His mind. He loved God so much that He let Himself be the sacrifice to bring mankind back to God. He loved His neighbor to the extent that He reached out to any and all in love in all circumstances regardless who or what those people were. So then we can see the embodiment of the fulfilling of the Law and the Prophets. But there is more to it than this.

Jesus added to what He said with the words of the 18th verse which tell us, "For verily I say unto you, Till heaven and earth pass, one jot or one tittle shall in no ~~way~~ wise pass from the law, till all be fulfilled." He was saying that sometime in the future God was going to complete this whole picture. It was not to be completed in Jesus' life, nor was He the completion of it. He was the fulfillment of the Law and the Prophets, but God was going to have the heaven and earth pass away in the future. But until that time not one jot or tittle would pass from the Law. In the Hebrew alphabet the smallest letter is called Yod. It looks like an apostrophe. This is the Jot Jesus was talking about. In ~~times~~ the writing of languages especially Hebrew and Greek, a small line or mark, again, much like an apostrophe will be inserted in certain letters and these change the meaning of the word or letter at that point. But it is a small hard to distinguish mark, and this is the tittle Jesus was talking about. So the gist of what He was saying was that until God completes His program, not one small insignificant mark in writing will be done away with. He is saying that He is God's representative and He was not supercede anything which He was being accused of. His message at this point was that He was in Harmony with God's Word, all of it.

(Illustration of college graduate and books that had helped him the most, "That's easy," he said, "Tom's cookbook and Dad's check book.")

Both are needed to take care of the physical hungers of life. But what about the spiritual hunger which is there?

(Illustration of Christian shoemaker and Usin and Thumbin)

Jesus gave us the example of knowing what the Law and the Prophets were because He knew God's word. This is the illustration we need for our lives if we are to be His followers and evidence it in our lives. Are our lives in "Harmony" with God, because we seek to know His word? What book ~~xxxx~~ is the most important book in our lives?

"Disharmony"

Scripture: Matthew 5:19-20

Text: Matthew 5:19

We had said last week that we wanted some of the men from the choir to give a demonstration of Harmony to illustrate the sermon title for last week. We had added that they would give a demonstration of "Disharmony" this week, but I don't believe they are prepared for this either. So as we look at this portion of Scripture we see that Jesus is adding to what He had said in the previous verses and in particular the 17th verse. Perhaps we need to look at that again to get the implication from it. (Read verse 17). We had said that the secret word of that verse is the word "fulfill," and that it meant to be obedient to, and not as is commonly thought "to complete." Jesus went on to say that not one small marking of the Law would pass away until God had brought about His plan. And the word "fulfill" at that point also means obedient, that everything would work out in obedience to God's plan and will.

~~XXXXXXXXXX~~ By saying these things Jesus was telling those who were listening to His words that He was not against the Law and the Prophets, but instead, He was in "Harmony" with them. This gave His hearers, in particular the religious leaders a sense of well-being. This unknown prophet was not striving to turn people away from the law ~~and~~ as they had at first thought. But He was actually preaching the same things they were.

But as He spoke further there were probably two different things being heard. To those who were looking at the Law from the standpoint of living up to it by following the most minute detail, Jesus was saying this is what should be done. To those who were frustrated by the inability to live up to the minute details of the Law, they had heard a "Disharmony" being preached and they were trying to sort all of this out. We know that these people were hearing new and different teaching from what they had learned and for many of them it was something they could not handle. As a result, many of them never really came to know or understand Jesus for Who and What He really was. It is pointless then for us to strive to show what they should have understood. But it is imperative that we understand all of this in its fullest context. If we who say we are followers of Jesus Christ are to live the life He wants and wanted for all of His disciples. With this in mind then, let us ask ourselves the question, "Just what was Jesus saying in this 19th verse?" "What does it say to me, personally?"

To answer, perhaps we need to back up and to point out that Jesus Christ was completely obedient to the Law. This is what He meant by the word "Fulfill." If we look at the entire Old Testament we can see from start to finish He Completed, or fulfilled all of the types which were given, pointing people to the coming of that particular person. Examples of this are; Moses. He was a type of Christ because he led the people from slavery to freedom; Abraham sacrificing his son Isaac, and the ram being a substitute; the Tabernacle with its altar, and utensils; these are just a few of the many, many types which point to His coming at a later time and Jesus Christ fulfilled, or completed every one of them.

If we look at the prophecies concerning Him in the Old Testament we see that it told where He was to be born, who would point people to Him, the outline of His death on the cross, His life and all other aspects of about Him. It told of His life, His ministry, His death, and pointed to His resurrection. All of this can be found in the Old Testament and Jesus said He wasn't doing away with any of it, but instead, was completing it.

So now we come to this 19th verse and we must break it down word by word and phrase by phrase to derive the meaning from it. The verse tells us, (read verse 19). ~~Whosoever~~ ~~means anyone~~ that law was He talking about? It was the Moral Law, the Ten Commandments. They are still in effect and have never been rescinded. Men have always tried to circumvent them, to abridge them, but it can't be done and this is exactly what Jesus is saying. He is saying, "Whosoever," which means anyone, "who shall break," and that means to sin deliberately, or to strive to get around it, "the least."; The word "Least" is from the Greek word "Micros" which means very small. We get our word Micro from it.

Jesus didn't mean the 638 or so laws the Scribes and Pharisees had put together to interpret the Ten Commandments. We shall deal with some of them next week. At this point He was saying that anyone who strives to just break the Moral Law a little bit, just a teensy, weensy, little sin, not only to do that oneself, but to teach others to do so, ~~xxxx~~ that person shall be MICROC in God's Kingdom. A good example of this would be perhaps how we interpret the Ten Commandments and then live them. We know and believe that it is sinful and breaking the Ten Commandments to use the Lord's name in vain. This means that if I hit my finger with a hammer I should not use God's name and put a swear word after it. Nor should I use the name of Jesus Christ in my conversation to emphasize what I am trying to say. Especially, if I am not talking from a religious standpoint. We all know this. But how many of us may hear some startling news, or bad news, or something of that nature and cry out, "Oh my God." That is breaking the Commandment, but in a smaller way, or so think. This is what Jesus was talking about. By our minute, MICROC way of breaking the Moral Law, we may lead others to break it in the minute, or MICROC way and thus we will be MICROCs, or small and insignificant in God's Kingdom.

But there is a comparison here. Jesus adds, "But whosoever," but anyone, who "shall do and teach them," ; He meant that anyone who acted in a manner so as to show others, either by example, or by word of mouth. The word "teach" had the meaning of "accepting," this would mean accepting the truth; and it meant "To extend the hand to." To accept the truth of God's love for mankind, and to reach out to others to share it. Whoever does this, "shall be called great in the kingdom of heaven." The word "Great" is from a Greek word "MEGAS" and it is from that word we get our English word "MEGA" which we use as a prefix for other words such as Megaphone, to enlarge the sound, make it great; Megaton which we use to denote a large explosion and so on. The person who not only accepts the law, but who passes it on, will be considered Large, Great in God's Kingdom.

But we must define this further because speaking along these lines raises the problem of Law and Grace. There are those who are Christians who are making their lives miserable because they are striving to live by the Law. Manmade rules and regulations within the Church have brought much of this about. Then there are those who say all Law is done away with through Christ and they are claiming to live by Grace. Therefore, they say, "I am saved by Grace, and it doesn't matter what I do." Both sides are partially right. In them we can see the Pharisees and the people Jesus was addressing with these words when He spoke them.

Jesus came to complete the Law, that is what "Fulfill" meant in the 17th verse. By His life, His ministry, His Death, and His Resurrection He fulfilled or completed the Law. This didn't do away with the Ten Commandments, it merely did away with all of the man made rules added to them. By His death and resurrection He gave Grace, "the Free Gift from God" to mankind. But with that Grace, man must still live the Moral Law God set forth. Grace does not free man to do anything he pleases or to live as he pleases. This is the "Disharmony" which began to become apparent between Jesus and the religious leaders of His day and this is the "Disharmony" we see in our own day and age. So what is the answer to this conflict?

Paul tells us in the 8th chapter of his letter to the Romans, verses 2 through 4, let us look at these verses, (read them). This is important. By our own weak sinful nature we can never live up to the Law of God. But when we accept God's Grace, forgiveness of sin through Jesus Christ, then we can live the Law because God's Holy Spirit comes into our lives and lives within us, and empowers us to live the Law. It doesn't mean that we can ever do it on our own strength or in our own power. But it does mean that we can do it with the help and guidance of the Holy Spirit. We must lean on Him and follow His leading in our lives.

But we must resolve this from the standpoint that we do not fall back into the works righteousness pattern. The Pharisees and the people Jesus was talking to were in this trap. They tried to live up to the law and the harder they tried, the more they became frustrated with life. So why did God really create the law? He created it because of the sinfulness of man. God brought it forth 430 years after the promises to Abraham to show man ~~xxxx~~ his inability to justify himself before God, because he was a sinner. ~~xxxxxxx~~ The Law acted as a teacher for mankind. Paul points this out in Galatians 3:24-25, (read these) All that the law does is to point us like a teacher to Jesus Christ. ~~There~~ is still the Moral Law, but there is the Grace to live it from God.

Jesus was in "Disharmony" with the religion of His day because they didn't understand God's plan for them and their lives. But there need not be any "Disharmony" for us because Jesus has come to bring us life, and that more abundantly. Are we striving to let Him live in us and motivate us and direct us with His Holy Spirit to live the Christian life we can and should live? Or are we still caught up in the rat race of living to the last letter of the law with all of its ~~amendments~~ but, and ifs, and whereas'es?

"The Interpretation"

Scripture: Matthew 5:20

We need to review the picture which is before us. ^{at this point} seated on a hillside above a large group of people is one solitary man. He is telling them with authority what life should be all about. Mostly the crowd is ~~made~~ composed of common ordinary people. Interspersed throughout the crowd are the religious leaders of the ~~ix~~ the Jews. They are identifiable by their manner of dress. Both common people and clergy are intent upon what He is saying. But what is of compelling interest to each of them is how He is interpreting the Law. His teaching thus far has been ~~ix~~ somewhat different to the extent that he has told that some of the things for which they feel downtrodden and of little importance in life, are the very things an individual should possess. This may be a little far out especially for the clergy, but what of His interpretation of the Law? How does He ~~present~~ picture ~~ixixix~~ its purpose and meaning for their lives?

He has said, (vs 17), and this definitely shows that He is in agreement with the Law, at least He has not preached the disobedience of it. He has said, (vs 19, read), and this sounds ~~xxxxxxx~~ as though He is telling them to observe and keep the 638 individual little ~~ix~~ rules and regulations which have been added to the law. But yet, He has not been quite consistent with that as far as His teaching has gone and it is just may be that He is in disagreement with those responsible for interpreting God's Law. So with renewed interest the religious leaders, the clergy among the crowd must have strained to catch the next pronouncement from Him. They may have even ^{leaned} ~~xxxx~~ forward or changed position ~~for~~ intent upon what His next words would be. And then Jesus said, (vs 20, read it).

At this point there must have been a visible sigh of relief among the Scribes and Pharisees to hear these words. There may have even been a nudge of the elbow among a few of them, or a nod of the head to one another, or even a few words that this fellow isn't the radical they had thought Him to be. There may have even been a few "amens" spoken in the crowd to assure that what He was saying was God's will and way as pointed ^{to} through the lives of these most religious of men.

But there must have been an audible sigh of dismay among the common ordinary people. Many of them were probably shaking their heads and shrugging their shoulders as if to say, "What's the use? Here we thought this was what the Priests and Rabbis had been promising us. Here we thought that perhaps this man was that deliverer, the Messiah. And His message is just the same one we have heard before and we cannot live up to the law no matter how hard we try." Both sides in essence were right. But it needed further interpretation by Jesus to make this teaching understood. He did this in future verses as we shall see each week as we continue in this chapter. But let us look at some of the things Jesus was dealing with at this point.

He had said that unless the ~~people~~ individual life of each person hearing His words, (or as in our case, reading them), unless that life exceeded, or surpassed the righteousness of the Scribes and the Pharisees, there was no way that person could enter the kingdom of heaven. This is a paraphrase of the 20th verse. To the people who heard this, and to the Scribes and the Pharisees as well, this was thought to mean that the Scribes and the Pharisees had it all together. The people looked up to the Scribes and the Pharisees for several reasons. The Scribes were the men who devoted their lives to the being and becoming complete authorities on the Law of God. Their whole lives were dedicated to the study of it. They made copies of it very laboriously and cautiously so that it was correct. For this, the common people looked up to them.

The Pharisees were men who separated themselves from the ordinary life and devoted themselves to the actual living of the Law. Their name meant "separated" and people looked up to them because their lives were lived very scrupulously in the observance of the Law. For all of this, these two groups were much admired and respected. Many of the common people probably wished or longed ~~for~~ they had the ability to live such a Godly life, but found they were unable to do so. But Jesus was actually pointing out that this was not all that it appeared to be. For the Scribe and the Pharisee there was a lot of rules and regulations which had to be lived up in order to accomplish the living of the Moral Code, or the Ten Commandments. What were these rules and regulations? William Barclay explains this somewhat in his exposition of The Gospel of Matthew Volume 1. This is found in this quote: read from page 124, (bottom), to page 126, (top).

This is merely a part of the 638 individual little rules which were to be lived in order to comply with the Law. No wonder the common people felt the hopelessness of life. No one person could possibly live this life. But the Scribes and the Pharisees did. Or so they believed. But in actuality, the Scribes and the Pharisees were unable to live up to this code, but they did a good job of covering that up from the people. ~~They~~ The common man or woman had the feeling of being completely beneath the Scribes and Pharisees to the point that they felt like dirt under their feet. "How can I possibly be like any of these men? They are sanctified and holy." These are the opinions which most of them held or expressed. Jesus was taking this first opportunity to share with these people what the Scribes and the Pharisees really were. In the 18th chapter of Luke He told of a Pharisee and a Publican going to the Temple to pray. Listen to what it says as recorded starting in the 9th verse. (Read verses 9 & 10). Then the Pharisee began to pray, (verse 11). Notice that he ticks off ~~the~~ certain parts of the Law. He doesn't cheat; he is fair to all in his dealings with them; he isn't cheating on his wife, or fooling around with someone else's wife; I'm not like this common ordinary tax-collector. Then he adds, (verse 12). See how far beyond the law he has gone? The O.T. Law only decreed that he had to fast once a year. He and all of his Pharisee buddies increased that to twice a week. The Law required that a tithe, or of fruit, wine, ~~xx~~ and oil 1 - 10th was to be given for the Lord and so the Pharisees included their smallest herbs in this as well. Jesus was pointing out ~~xx~~ that the Pharisees were guilty of leading others from God because of their external actions and lives. But He also carried it even further as we read in the 23rd chapter of Matthew. Starting with the 13th verse Jesus begins to really speak out against these Scribes and Pharisees." (Read verses 13, 14, 15, 23, 25, 27, 29). This chapter is ~~about~~ completely devoted to speaking to the lives of these religious men. So what Jesus is saying when He told His listeners, (read 5:20), is that much of the lives of the scribes and Pharisees is a life of hypocrisy. Jesus was offering these common ordinary people something simple and basic. It wasn't all wrapped up in if's and's and but's, or legalistic language. Instead, it was simply to accept God's Moral Code, strive to live it through the strength and help God provided and not look to man as being the example or paragon of righteousness.

When He said a person could not reach the kingdom of heaven unless his righteousness exceeded the righteousness of the scribes and the Pharisees," He was saying that a person was only made righteous before God, by God's Grace. It is not through living a series of external laws or man made rules; it is not through tradition or what our forefathers have wrought in the congregation; but it is by our own personal acceptance of Jesus Christ as Lord and Saviour that we are ^{made} righteous in the sight of God. Then our righteousness exceeds ^{and} the legalists that of the Scribe, the Pharisee, among us even to this day.

This is what Paul was striving to point out as we read in his letter to the Galatians, chapter 2, verse 20, (read this). We must count ourselves as being crucified with Christ. His execution, is to be my execution to sin; Because of this I live, but it is not me that is alive, but Jesus lives in me; thus the life I am now able to live in this flesh is lived being made righteous before God, and that is my complete trust, or faith in Him; because He loved me and made this possible by giving Himself for me. As we look at ourselves in this light, can we honestly say that is where we are right now? Does our righteousness exceed that of the Scribes and Pharisees among us, because we know we are made righteous before God through Jesus Christ and not rules and regulations? Is this our reality, or are we striving through our own efforts? Are we willing to say, "I AM CRUCIFIED WITH CHRIST: NEVERTHELESS I LIVE; YET NOT I, BUT CHRIST LIVETH IN ME; AND THE LIFE ~~KNOW~~ WHICH I NOW LIVE IN THE

"BESIDE I LIVE BY THE FAITH OF THE SON OF GOD, WHO LOVED ME AND GAVE HIMSELF FOR ME." Galatians 2:20. And if we can say that and know it as a reality in our lives, then we can also know what Paul added to that in the very next verse, "I DO NOT FRUSTRATE THE GRACE OF GOD: FOR IF RIGHTEOUSNESS COME BY THE LAW, THEN CHRIST IS DEAD IN VAIN." The righteousness which succeeds all man made legalism is the righteousness which comes through Grace, and if we know this Grace and it is ours, then ours is the kingdom of heaven.

THE LETTER killeth,but the spirit giveth life

says, "Ye have heard that it hath been said, ~~and in verse 46 we read, "Ye have heard it hath been said."~~ Here are six examples of Jesus pointing out something which has been said. But just what ~~was He saying or meaning~~ by that term? We will deal with them separately week by week, but we must look at them in their entirety to understand ~~in~~ the complete background of them. As we analyze this section of Scripture we must understand that you may find ~~in~~ the wording in your translation reads different from what I have read. This is not merely because I have read from the King James Version, but is a matter of linguistics. No one actually knows whether the actual wording is "Ye have heard that it hath been said, "By" or "to" them of old." The reason being that not all authorities are in agreement. As we strive to decide which meaning it has we choose up sides at this point. Those who say the word to emphasize is "To" them of old," then, the meaning is that Jesus was referring to the Law of Moses as it was given to the Fathers. If we say that the key word is "By" them of old," then it means that the Law was given to Moses and was interpreted or "said by them of old," ~~meaning~~ referring of course to the religious interpreters of the Law which were the Scribes and the Pharisees. I believe that the key word is "By" and not "To" and refers to the Pharisees and Scribes interpreting this Law. My reason for this is if the word ~~is~~ "To, them of old," then it means this is the Law as given by God and anything Jesus would say, such as, "But I say," would mean that He is giving His own interpretation, or adding to the Law and this He never did. Jesus spoke time after time about the Law, but He never gave an addition to it. The Law as given by God was complete and ~~needed~~ needed no additions, but man in his finite wisdom saw fit to do otherwise and this is why Jesus was giving this interpretation. Let's look at an illustration of this. We say that history has a tendency to repeat itself. We can point to this again and again to prove the point. The Christian Church had grown down through the years after Pentecost until it had come to a point where the Scriptures were translated and written in Latin. Each Sunday the Scripture was read in Latin and interpreted by the priest.

The people could not read or understand Latin and so they were dependent upon the priest for that interpretation. We know then that the Protestant Reformation came about and people learned that it was not by the observance of the sacraments of the church that they received salvation. This is much like the people were in the days of Jesus when He was preaching this sermon on the Mount. The people of Israel had been taken captive and taken to Babylon. While there they had ceased to know the Hebrew language. When they returned their language was Aramaic, and so they could not speak Hebrew, much less read it. The law of Moses as it was given was in Hebrew. So they were dependent upon the Scribe and the Pharisees for the interpretation of that Law. So Jesus was saying to them, "Ye have heard," or, "That is what you have been hearing," or, "This is what has been said to you." The end result of this was that what the people thought was the law, was in reality that which the Scribes and the Pharisees told them was the law. They had added their own little twists to that law and no one was able to tell which was the actual law and which was the interpretation. So Jesus is striving to make this perfectly clear to them. He is going to give them "Crystal Clarity," and ~~then~~ then they will understand what He is saying, and what the law actually said. Jesus was not giving a new set of Laws, or merely giving what He thought the law said. He was giving them the Law which He had originally given to them which He did since He was God in the flesh. Those who do not know this or understand it strive to look at what Jesus was saying here and ~~making~~ giving it the interpretation that Jesus was giving a new law. He wasn't and we need to stress this to really understand what He was saying and doing. We need to point back to the 17th verse where He says that He came to fulfill, or be obedient to the Law. God was and is and ever will be consistent. When He says something or puts it forth as His declaration on any subject, it remains the same and doesn't have all sorts of different little interpretations to suit man's whims. Jesus was God and He was God's Word. Therefore, He was giving the complete interpretation of the Law as given by God from the very beginning.

But as we strive to understand more fully just what He is saying we need to look at some principles which are involved. The first principle is that between the letter of the Law and the spirit of it. Man has always had a tendency to concentrate upon the form of something, rather than the content.

Give man a list of rules and regulations and he will strive to live up to each of those rules without thought of deeper or more important meanings. Paul tells us in the ^{3rd} ^{Ro} chapter, ^{EPH. VI 5-8} verse 6 of his second letter to the Corinthians, (read this). He was saying that living up to the letter of the law kills not only the complete meaning, but the true purpose of that law. But living the spirit, the inner content of that law gives life. This is what Jesus is going to point out in future verses here.

The second principle is that the law is not negative, but positive. It is not just to prevent us from doing something that is wrong, but it is ~~not only~~ to do the things which are right, ^{And} to love doing it. Jesus was pointing out that we should be lovers of righteousness. Psalm 19:7 tells us, "The law of the Lord is perfect, converting the soul." This means that God's law is something which should change, or reverse the natural inclinations to live worldly lives, and to begin living for Him. ~~King David said that the law of the Lord is his delight~~ ~~and that he will not forsake it. The law is within his heart and he is~~ ~~claiming that it is his law.~~ Paul expands this a little further as we read in Romans 2; beginning with the 11th verse. (Read verse 11). God has no respect for the individual. In His sight everyone is the same, and is loved the same. (Read verse 12). Those who have never heard the Law are outside of and they perish without it, this is in God's hand's, the Law and those who have heard the Law and have still ~~been~~ sinned are going to be judged for that and here is the difference in verse 13, (read this).

It is those who live what God wants that are justified. Then Paul gives the example of the lowly Gentiles, those who were considered as nothing more than dogs in the sight of the Jews as examples of what God will do with them, (read verses 14 & 15a). All of this points us to the condition of the heart. There are still many people, who take the negative aspect in regard to all of this.
They will look at their lives and make the inventory and find that they do not drink, or smoke, or gamble, or do any of the things which are often pointed out as being the no-no's of life. And then they will make the comparison to someone else's life who may do one or two of those things and ~~live~~ with pride.

In the meantime, they will not look upon that pride as being sinful, nor will they consider the envy, the greed, or the jealousy inside which they may have as being sinful. It isn't the outward living of the law only, but the inward living of it as well, the seeking after righteousness that Jesus was speaking of also.

A third principle is that of looking at the ~~xxxxxxxixxx~~ interpretation of the law as given by Jesus as being too restrictive, or oppressive and the very ~~xxxxxxxxxx~~ striving to live a holy and sanctified life is too hard and not worth it. If this is the attitude we possess we have never understood what the Christian life is all about. Paul writing to the people in the Church at Eph-^{14th}esus in the 4th chapter beginning at the ~~xxx~~ verse wrote, (read verses 11-13).

are to be instructed, to grow in the instruction and the knowledge of God to the "stature of the fulness of Christ." Why? (Read verse 14), so that we are not following wrong doctrine, but that which is of God. And again we must ask "why?" (Read verses 15-23, and explain.) All of this brings us to what we should be and Paul tells us to, (read verse 24). That should be the end result which lets us understand completely what ~~xxxxxx~~ Jesus was and is trying to say.

(Illustration of robber and priest, and no cigar because gave up for Lent)

Do we really understand that we are made free from living to the letter of a set of laws? Do we understand that it is the spirit of the law we are to observe? Do we ask ourselves perhaps when we lie down at night, "Have I lived my life today in a way which honored and glorified ~~xxx~~ God? Has there been any thing in my life which has been or is ~~xx~~ not Christlike? Is what we do merely a discipline, a form of religion at a certain time, a certain way? Do I pray at a certain time each day, or indulge in a ritual which does nothing to ~~xxxxxx~~ increase my hunger and thirst for the things of God?

If our worship together is nothing more than a mechanical thing we cannot live as Jesus wants us to. If my preaching is nothing more than ~~just~~ fulfilling a task to supply a sermon, and not to present the Gospel of Jesus Christ to help you and I to know Him better and to love Him more, ~~xxx~~ it may be the thing that will damn my soul. God forbid that we should turn our lives into just a mere religion or following of rules and regulations. "The letter killeth, but the spirit giveth life."

"Have You Heard Of Murder?"

Scripture: Matthew 5:21-26

~~in the you heard of murder? Jesus said you did. In fact He says you have heard that it was said by them of old time, but you shall not say, but you shall begin the first of six examples which He will give from the law. These are six parts of the moral code, or the Ten Commandments as we know them.~~ last week we gave an overview of this section of scripture from Matthew 5:21 through 5:48. Within each of these segments we will see how Jesus deals with this moral code, but we will see specifically how it is a vital part of our lives as well. We have a tendency as we pointed out with the Beatitudes, to look at this sermon on the Mount as something which contains some nice little illustrations of how Jesus taught, but these ideas are somehow outdated for us and the day in which we live. Nothing could be further from the truth. (One thing which I note in this chapter is that these examples are somewhat painful. They are painful to read, they are painful to apply to our lives, and they are painful to preach. There are some portions of scripture which anyone doing any preaching would like to avoid. A few of these in our series are just that. But we are looking at God's Word and we must be faithful to interpret not just what we like to hear, but to interpret as well, that which we should hear perhaps above all others. I would ask you to specifically be in prayer about these messages not only for your own enlightenment on them, but for my enlightenment and direction in presenting them. I would also urge you to remember that I am striving to give to you as faithfully as possible the words of Jesus and what He actually said, ~~xx~~ and not my interpretation of what He said. There are some blanks which we do not have the complete answer for. In these instances I shall strive to present the facts as we know them and make as truthful an interpretation as possible. Let us seriously consider these examples as Jesus gives them and seek God's opening of our lives to Him to live accordingly. Let us pray.

(Prayer for direction in these messages forthcoming)

"Have You Heard Of Murder?" Jesus said you did. In fact, He said, "We have heard that it was said by them of old time," and then He goes on to begin the first of six examples from the Moral Code, or the Ten Commandments as we know them. What is it you have heard? He adds that law, one of the Ten, "Thou shalt not kill." This is what God had written for Moses and given to him on Mt. Sinai. But as had been done with the rest of these laws, the Scribes and the Pharisees had reduced ~~this~~ this Law from its real meaning. The Law simply said, "Thou shalt not kill," and the Hebrew word for "Kill" meant specifically murder. But look at what Jesus says with this, look at that verse, "Thou shalt not kill; and whosoever shall kill shall be in danger of the judgement." Jesus is quoting what the Law actually said. He knew this and so did the Scribes and the Pharisees. The Law for killing is spelled out in Numbers ~~xx~~ 35:30-31. Now if this is so, why were the Scribes and Pharisees wrong? They were looking at the Law rightly at this point, but unfortunately it was their attitude which was mostly wrong. What this verse literally means is that anyone who does murder shall stand before the judgement. ~~and this is the meaning of this commandment~~ in each town

this was a literal court usually made up of 23 members and they meted out punishment to those who were guilty with a verdict of death by strangulation, or beheading. To the Scribe and the Pharisee "Thou shalt not kill" meant actual murder, and actual murder only. ~~Jesus is saying that this is the meaning of this commandment~~ They were right of course, but they had reduced this commandment to something to be judged by local men, and God didn't enter into it at all. If they didn't murder anyone, then they had fulfilled the law. But here is where Jesus is pointing the people as we said in the 20th verse of this chapter. We read, "~~And~~ Except your righteousness shall exceed the righteousness of the Scribes and the Pharisees, you shall in no case enter the kingdom of heaven." They were to be better people than the Scribes and the Pharisees and Jesus is going to give them specific examples how to do that.

interprets it correctly.

Jesus now ~~adds~~ look at verse 22, "But I say unto you." Here is God giving the complete interpretation of this law. ~~He~~ And this is what He says, "But whosoever is angry with his brother without a cause shall be in danger of the judgement." This isn't the judgement as administered by the small judicial council of a town or village. This is the judgment of God. That puts all of this in a different light. But Jesus knew that almost anyone he was speaking to either had ~~been~~ ^{been} angry with someone for ~~little or no cause~~ ^{little or no cause} or were at that very moment angry with someone for little or no cause. Therefore, he took this two steps further, and look what he says in that 22nd verse, "And whosoever shall say to his brother, "Raca," or "Raca," shall be in danger of the council." To call someone "Raca" was to call that person a "worthless fellow." It is a word which is given by one person who despises another person, and holds that person in contempt.

(Illustration of Rabbi Simon Ben Gleazar and calling man Raca)

Jesus said this was serious to the extent that the council may have to deal with it and the council was the entire Sanhedrin, or the Supreme Court of the Jews. But Jesus carries it one step further and says, "But whosoever shall say, 'Thou fool, shall be in danger of hell fire.' The Greek word for fool here is ~~moros~~. But it means more than just fool, it means a man who is a moral fool, or an immoral person. To brand someone with a name such as this is to take his reputation away from him, it in effect destroys his name, his reputation and is more severe than if that person making the remark actually took that other person's life. An individual guilty of this type of character assassination is in danger of hell fire. The word for hell fire here is "Gehenna" and it was something the people were familiar with. On the southwest side of Jerusalem was what was known as Hinnom Valley. This was a deep ravine where King Ahaz introduced fire worship to the heathen god Molech. This fire worship consisted of sacrificing little children by burning them in the fire. We read of this in 2 Chronicles 28. King Josiah not only reformed Israel from this evil practice, but he decreed that forever after this valley was unclean and polluted. After this, the rubbish and refuse of Jerusalem were dumped ^{over this} ~~on this~~ hill and burned. The fire burned almost constantly night and day, with dense thick smoke coming from the valley. Jesus used this to depict the fire of hell.

But as always, Jesus turns the negative into the positive. Look at the 23rd ~~verses~~ ^{verses} and the 24th verses, (read these). If a man came to the temple to offer a sacrifice for his sin and let's say he had stolen something. If the priest knew the man had not returned or made restitution for what was stolen, the priest was to remove his offering from the altar. It wasn't acceptable. The point Jesus is making is that man must be reconciled to man, before he can be reconciled before God. God is not going to hear the worship of one who will not get himself right with his fellowman. Is our worship beneficial to us when we come to God? Or does it seem as though He doesn't hear us? Perhaps we need to become reconciled to someone in order to be made right before God.

Jesus added one other dimension to this as we see in the 25th and 26th verses, (read these). He is saying that we should mend our fences before it becomes so difficult for us, that it is going to cost us dearly for that reconciliation. It is also a good possibility that Jesus is saying, "take care of getting things straightened out today, because tomorrow may never come." We must not put off to another time the opportunities we have of making things right before it is too late. One of the most sorry statements I hear is at the passing of a loved one, "Oh if I had only taken the time to do such and such." The same applies to reconciling ourselves with our fellow man.

Are we like the scribes and the Pharisees at this point as we look at our lives? Do we look at the Moral Code and say, "I've never killed anyone, so therefore, I haven't broken that law?" But have we perhaps thought of someone else as being beneath us, or below our stature and we have helped to ruin their reputation in other's eyes? Have we spread gossip or rumors about others because of how it makes us look big and others small?

(Illustration of preacher, woman gossip, and feathers from pillow)

I know a preacher some years ago this happened to and the hurt and harm it caused. God says to those within the Church today, "I cleansed you and made you whole. I took you in your dirty filthy lives and I made you mine. And yet here are many of you today within ^{My} the very Church ~~xxxxxxx~~ acting superior and unforgiving to one another." Can't we see today that we need to look at ourselves and those around us in a new way. For those we may ~~feel~~ want to consider as being less than what we are in the church, let us feel and believe "There, but for the Grace of God go I."

"Have You Heard of Sin?"

Scripture: Matthew 5:27-30.

Text: Matthew 5:27b, "In his heart."

xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx

"Have You Heard of Sin?" Jesus said you did and this morning we are going to look at the second example of part of the Moral Code as it was broken down and given the proper interpretation by Jesus. But the issue at hand concerning sin is such that we will look at what sin is this morning and next week we will look at the character of sin.

We are going to use the last three words of the 24th verse as our text for this morning. We read there, simply this, "In his heart." Now before you close your Bibles and settle back, let us instead turn to the Old Testament book of Genesis, the second chapter. From what we observed last week concerning the Commandment, "Thou shalt not kill," we are beginning to see that this moral code was more than just a list of don'ts. It went much deeper than that and this is exactly what Jesus was pointing out to these people who were struggling with their spiritual lives and realizing that they were incapable of living the "Letter of the Law." So in order to understand what will continue to unfold, we must look at the very essence of that which was prompting Jesus' remarks. Underlying all of this is "Sin" with a capital "S." We will look today at the origin of sin along with some other things about it, and next week we will look at the "Character of Sin," and how we are to deal with it.

Let us look at the 2nd chapter of Genesis and we read in the 15th through the 17th verses, (read these). Here we see that God has created man and has entrusted to him the keeping of this beautiful garden. It doesn't make any difference where this garden was, or many of the other circumstances we want to know about. What is important at this point is that we realize God created man as His special creation. Man was made perfect, in a perfect environment. He was given the responsibility of overseeing all that God had made. But there was one provision given to him, "He was not to eat of the one tree in the garden, the "Tree of the knowledge of good and evil." Adam must have traveled back and forth in that garden countless numbers of times, and each time he passed by the tree he had the remembrance of what God had told him. He knew that it was right to pass up the fruit of the tree and he knew that it would not be according to what God wanted if he partook of it.

As we read on in this chapter God decides to create a suitable companion for him and we read of this creation, plus the establishment of marriage which is an altogether different topic or series of lessons. As we look at the first verse of the 3rd chapter we read, (read this).

The class had been studying the creation and the teacher asked the question, "What did the serpent say to Eve in tempting her to eat the forbidden fruit?" One little boy who had perhaps watched too much television answered, "Try it; you'll like it."

This was not exactly what the teacher wanted so she explained that the urging of the serpent caused them to partake of the fruit of the tree. Then she asked, "After they ate of the fruit what happened?" The same little boy raised his hand, and wanting to give him a chance to perhaps redeem himself with the proper response she let him answer. He replied, "Adam said, I can't believe we ate the whole thing."

Directly, what the little fellow was saying was true. Hear what it tells us as recorded in verses 2 through 7, (read these). They "ate the whole thing."

They bought the whole package and this was sin, spelled with a capital 'S'.

~~But they didn't die~~ They didn't die, as promised by God. At least their death wasn't physical at this point. But they died spiritually, and this spiritual death separated them from God. They could no longer live eternally with God, and this is what brought on physical death and death is the penalty for sin, and sin and death separate a person from God.

But today people don't want to hear this. We have become so enlightened that sin in any shape and form is considered to be the result of breeding, or environment, or upbringing. Change the slums and you will not have violence and crime, which are fancy words for sin. Breed the perfect individuals by selective parenting or some such means, and you will create the right people for society. But God says "Not so." He points out in His Word over and over again the presence of sin in the life of every human being. Listen to some of the things we read of sin as recorded in different books of the Bible; those are just a few of the many we could read on the subject. This should lead us to see the foolishness of ~~evolution~~ the theory of evolution. Evolution teaches that everything started out at one point and gradually evolved into the present thing or type of that thing which we have today. This includes man. But evolution also teaches that the thing we have the representation of today is that much better and improved over what it started out to be. Is this true of man? Can we say man is much, much better today than when he first started out? Someone once said that "every day in every way I am getting better and better." This is a complete fallacy. We can change living conditions, we can change illiteracy, we can change the complete environment of man, and he will still kill and steal and cheat, and hate, and covet and all of the things which the Moral Code teaches are sin.

The point that Jesus was making was that the Law was good. It pointed men in the right direction. But it goes beyond just saying, "Thou shalt not commit adultery." The scribes and the Pharisees tried to meticulously keep the law. They could for the most part say, "I haven't committed adultery, I have kept the law." And they were right. But Jesus said it went far beyond just committing the actual act. Jesus said that anyone who had a lustful look toward another, or a lustful thought about someone else, had ~~broken the law~~ broken the law just as surely as if they had carried the thought or desire to its fulfillment. By the reverse point, He didn't mean that because of this the person should go out and fulfill the act, because that Law had been broken. But He was saying that all of this is "In his heart."

Paul wrestled with this and questioned why it was that no matter ^{how hard} ~~what~~ he tried to do what was right, he always ended up doing the wrong thing. He said that before he knew the law, he didn't sin in many directions because it was unknown that many of these things were sin. But he went on to say that when he learned the law, those ideas came into his heart and so he broke the law and was unable to keep it. ~~xxxx~~ Turn to the 7th chapter of Paul's letter to the Romans and look at how he sums it up. When you have a chance perhaps today or this week, read this chapter in its entirety. But let's just look at verse ~~19~~ 19 to the end of the chapter. (read verses 19-23). He is saying that he knows it is wrong to kill, or to steal, or to commit adultery, or to covet. These were the Law. But since he knew they were wrong, then wrong thoughts and ideas came to him and he was ~~ixix~~ living a wretched existence.

We are all in the same boat. But the problem is not so much that we sin, but we can make efforts to overcome sin and sins and even fool ourselves that we have done so. This is the danger. The people of the early Church thought that one way to do this was to live in monasteries and cloisters away from everything and everyone who would or could cause them to sin. But it was soon discovered that locking ~~away~~ a man away from all women did not make him forget about them but instead, made him devote more thinking in that direction. This is exactly what Jesus was saying. We have done this very thing in our society and world today in another way. Like the Scribes and the Pharisees we can look at our lives and say, "I have never committed adultery," and make this statement whether we are man or woman. But is it absolutely true? How many of us read in the newspaper or magazines all of the lurid details of juicy divorce cases involving movie stars, or celebrities? How many of us savor the intimate details of a murder or crime of passion, involving ~~xxxxxx~~ several men or women? I believe that all of us, whether we read cheap novels of murder, immorality, incest, or what have you, are committing adultery by proxy. And this is exactly what Jesus was saying, and this all comes from the heart. This thought drove Paul to the place where he asked, "O wretched man that I am! who shall deliver me from the body of this death?" Romans 7:24. Who indeed?

I read an illustration of a minister who was being shown through an underground coal mine. At the entrance of a passage deep underground he noticed a beautiful white flower growing. Its white petals were completely white even though all around it was the sooty dust created by the coal. He asked, "How can it bloom in the midst of this dirt?" One of the miners said, "Throw some dust on it and see for yourself." He did so and the dust just slid right off its petals. Its surface was so smooth that the dust could not adhere to it. The minister said it made him think that this is how the life of the Christian should be. Clean in a dirty place.

This past week I was looking out our living room window at a large portion of snow which had not completely melted like the rest. When the snow fell several weeks ago it was absolutely white. I saw it then and it was beautiful. Now, several weeks later it was dirty and black and had absorbed the soot and grime from the atmosphere. Our lives are much like this. We start out in this life a story unwritten. Although we are born with sin in us, our lives are somewhat like the new fallen snow. But as year adds to year we become spotted by the world around us and if we are in anyway normal we have times when like Paul we cry out, "who can deliver me from this dirt and filth?" Jesus held out the answer, and that answer is still valid today. He said that we could not ~~xxx~~ overcome the filth and dirt around us, because no matter how hard we strive to eradicate it, it is still there. That is what sells newspapers and magazines. That is still what creates big business in many ways. But Jesus said we could strive to live to be clean in a dirty place. And the answer was through Him. Paul says it in this 25th verse, "I thank God through Jesus Christ our Lord." It is only through Him that we can say the remainder of this verse as he does, (read rest of verse).

Are you struggling as I am to understand and know right from wrong? Are you wrestling with the things of this world, as opposed to the things of God? We can't live any part of the Law apart from Christ. It must through and in Him that we can ~~xxx~~ have the guidance and direction for our lives. Have You heard of sin? I trust that along with me you can say, "Yes, I have through Jesus Christ, and He is teaching me each day to live through His strength in me."

SUPPER WITH OUR LORD

Prelude "Go to Dark Gethsemane" Powell
*Call to Worship
When thou givest a feast, call the poor, the maimed, the lame, the blind, and thou shalt be blessed. Go out into the highways and hedges, and compel them to come in, the Lord wants His house to be filled.
Pastor: Come, let us worship God.
People: He created the world and everything in it.
He created me.
Pastor: Let us celebrate the Good News together.
People: God has come in Jesus Christ, to reconcile and to make new.
Pastor: Let us feast at His table.
Unison: He calls us to share and celebrate His presence; to love and serve others; to proclaim life through Him.
*Hymn 84 "My Faith Looks Up to Thee"
*The Invocation (in unison)
Oh God, you sent Your Son that we might have life.
He gave an invitation to His disciples to share a meal with Him and together they broke bread and drank the cup. He invited them to receive His gift of love and the offering up of Himself; and He invites us now to receive that same gift of grace. May we be drawn together by this meal and know the joy of sin forgiven.
O Thou, who called us from death to life, may we give ourselves to You, and to the love and fellowship of
Your Son, Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.
The CALL To Confession: Matthew 26:20-25, 30-35
Hymn 246 "Man of Sorrows, What a Name!"
Prayer of Confession (in unison)
Almighty God, like the disciples we have made promises we have not kept. We confess to You our frailties, our doubts, our fears. We are driven by dreams and ambitions, confused with cares and concerns. We are ruled by our motives and desires. Hear us as we come seeking your cleansing and forgiveness. This we ask in the name of our Saviour, Jesus Christ. Amen.

Assurance:

God makes new, for God is love. There is no fear in love, but perfect love casteth out fear, because fear hath punishment. He that feareth is not made perfect in love. We love Him because He first loved us, and part of that love was and is forgiveness. Amen.

The Need for Friendship: Luke 22:39-46

Pastor: Just as Jesus needed His friends, so do we.
Our call to friendship is not always easy.
It involves remembering, caring, sharing and understanding.

People: To believe in God, is to believe in someone you can trust. To believe in someone you can trust, is to have a friend. To be a friend is to give your life.

Pastor: Jesus said, "Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends." He did this for us and calls us His friends. Let us share that friendship with each other now, (shake hands with your

AFTER MANY DAYS.

"Loaves, Loaves And Bread"

Scripture: Ecclesiastes 11:1, "Cast thy bread upon the waters, for thou shalt find it after many days."

24 Luke 13:32, "Give, and it shall be given unto you; good measure pressed down, and shaken together, and running over, shall men give into your bosom. For with the measure that ye mete withal it shall be measured to you again."

I want to share with you one verse from the New Testament and along with a verse from the Old Testament amplify the words of Jesus.

In the Gospel of Luke the 6th chapter Jesus gives some guidelines for living the spiritual life. One of these is found in the 34th verse and we read, (Read this verse). Here is a principle for the life of the Christian.

One of the things all of us can enjoy, especially as we add years to our lives, is the pleasure of recalling some of the good things which we have experienced.

Who hasn't at one time or another said, "I can remember when, " and then add whatever it was that we remembered. I can remember as a boy observing a process over and over again which never ceased to enthrall me. ~~xxxxxxdxxx~~ And it was my mother making bread. Even today if I happen to be passing a bakery and the operations of the baker are visible, I will stop to watch the process of bringing forth bread. Perhaps the reason behind it involves the eating of that fresh delicious product. If I just close my eyes and think back to those days I recall coming home from school and the kitchen would be very warm, and the smell of that delicious bread was mouth watering. I can still smell it.

But all of this involved a process to bring it about.

First some ingredients had to be gathered together, like flour, and water and eggs and yeast. All of this was mixed together and formed "Dough." The dough was then set aside to rise and when this had taken place it was made into loaves and the loaves were placed in the oven and baked. The finished product which came forth was then bread.

Bread has always been synonymous with life. Bread has been called, "The staff of life," meaning of course that it was necessary to sustaining life. In whatever form it is consumed, whether bread or just the grain itself, bread is essential for life. Jesus knew this when He was preaching and so He used the illustration that He, Himself was "The bread of life." He elaborated on this by saying that ~~xxxxxx~~ anyone who came to Him would never hunger and thirst. He meant of course that it was through Him that a person found God and that hunger and thirst was satisfied by this.

But it is still the same formula today. First, it is the dough, then the loaves are produced from the dough, and the bread comes from the loaves.

Look at the slang which we use to denote wages or money. For many, many years we have spoken of money earned by working as "Dough." It has only been in the recent past that ~~xxxxxx~~ the term "Bread" has come to denote wages earned.

The connotation is the same. It takes "Dough" to buy bread, and it takes the earnings of "Bread" to buy Bread. And so significantly we are involved this year in a new venture. The idea is not new, but it is a new concept for our congregation at this point. We are asked to take loaves, (hold up loaf), for our families to use during lent. These should be placed in a place where we can see them each day to be reminded of their purpose. Into these "loaves" we are to place "Dough" or "Bread" so that others may have the help which we as Christians should give.

Jesus said, (read Luke 6:38). Because we have more than enough, we should give but Jesus said that when we give, we will receive more than we have given.

This is a principle the world cannot understand because it defies ^a ~~the~~ law of life. That law says that when you have something and you give it away, you no longer have it and it is gone. But in the Christian life this law does not apply. If you have something and you give it away, you receive more in return than you had. If we have never tested this law we are sceptical. But it does not mean that if we give away a hundred dollars we are going to get more than a hundred in return. It may come back to us in the form of an odd job which permits us to make more than that hundred. It may come in new health through winter of normally colds and flu and large doctor bills. It may come in the form of many things. But God promises this and He doesn't go back on His promises. We will never know it if we never try it. But we should not just give with the thought that we will be rewarded. Instead, we should give with no thought for reward and God will take care of the reward in His own way. There is a Scripture verse a young lady asked me about one day which points this up very vividly. It is ~~found~~ found in the book of Ecclesiastes the 11th chapter, the 1st verse. The verse reads, "Cast thy bread upon the waters: for thou shalt find it after many days." My mother used to quote this verse to me, but like many of us do so often, it didn't have all of the correct words. She would say of giving, "Cast thy bread upon the waters; and after many days it shall return again unto thee." The meaning is still the same although the wording is not. Have you ever stood and watched the ocean at low tide? Everytime I see the ocean receding I wonder where that particular amount of water I am watching will end up. Will it be hundreds of miles away that someone will see that same water coming up on the beach? Will it end up in Europe, or South America? And what this verse is saying, is that if you cast your bread upon the water, at another time, another place, you will get it back. As Solomon was writing this, perhaps he was thinking of the pagan festival which was held in honor of the god adonis. He was supposedly the god of vegetation, especailly corn. ~~That~~ That was called, "The gardens of adonis," were merely pots of grain and vegetables growing until the seeds sprouted. Then the contents of the pots were flung into the sea, or into springs and this action was to produce a good harvest sometime in the future.

A Biblical scholar named Jebb writing on this said, (quote illustration from The Treasury of Scriptural Knowledge).

Then he adds, (conclude quotation). We give and quite often we question our giving. Was it given rightly, who really benefited from it? And so on.

But if we give it in love, God will repay it with His love in kind, more than we would ever dream possible. Let us always use our "Dough" to produce "Loaves" others may have "Bread." "Cast thy bread upon the waters: for thou shalt find it after many days."

"Have You Heard Of Sin's Character?"

Scripture: Matthew 5:29-30

Text: Romans 8:13

"Have You Heard Of Sin's Character?" Jesus said ~~you have~~ and ~~this is~~ what we read as our Scripture for this morning. Perhaps we need to just backup briefly and look at the 27th and 28th verses, ~~(xxxxxxx)~~ let's look at them again, (read theses verses). Now from this Jesus was saying that this was ~~thexxxxx~~ a part of the Moral Code. ~~Yxx~~ The people to whom he was speaking had heard it, the scribes and the Pharisees present at this time were aware of it, and last of all, you and I have heard it. But Jesus was elaborating on this to the extent that he pointed out it was not just the living of the letter of the Law which was important, But that it was the intent of the heart which needed to be dealt with. Last week we spoke of Sin in general. We looked at how it came into being and how we inadvertently sin by proxy. We may not commit the actual sin, but by reading the intimate details of an illicit romance and divorce, we sin our hearts and minds with thinking wrong thoughts and having wrong desires. We spoke of how the world doesn't want to accept such as things as sin and desires that we ~~xxx~~ should instead see that man is a victim of his upbringing, his roots perhaps, or his environment and if we change these things, man will be without the problems caused by these circumstances. But Jesus says, "Not so." Man is born into sin and it is a part of his very nature. But since we know these things we must know how to deal with sin. Jesus wants everyone to know how to deal with sin and therefore he went into detail to point out the very character of sin. This is what we are going to look at this morning.

Thus far we have seen that Jesus is saying that it is not only the act of adultery, but the thought and the desire as well which is sinful. One is as bad as the other. Therefore, the scribes and the Pharisees who could boast, "I haven't committed adultery, and therefore I have kept the law," were wrong, because although they may have kept the letter, they were just as human as anyone else and had improper thoughts and desires as well. Man may not see and know our inmost thoughts and desires, but God does. He knows.

Jesus is now telling how to deal with sin and its character. Look again at what He says. In the beginning of the 29th verse He says, "If thy right eye offend thee, pluck it out, and cast it from thee." In the beginning of the 30th verse He says, "And if thy right hand offend thee, cut it off and cast it from thee." What did He actually mean? Was He advocating the maiming of our bodies in order to be free from sin? There were those in the early church who did take this literally and plucked out an eye, or cut off a hand. But why the right eye, and the right hand and not the left? At the time of Jesus the thinking was that the right eye and the right hand were more important than the left. Try telling that to someone who is lefthanded. But Jesus is using this as a vivid illustration to get His point across. Look at both of these verses! The word we need to pick out of the beginning of each one is the word, "offend." In Greek this word is skandalon, and it is from this word we derive our English word "scandal." What it meant was a stumbling block. But more definitively a bait stick of a trap. A trap set to catch an animal had a stick on which the bait was attached. When the animal touched the stick to get the food, the trap snapped shut and the animal was caught. Things of this nature we used to capture men as well. A pit would be dug in the ground and covered over with sticks and a thin layer of dirt. When the man would step on this he would be thrown into the pit below. So the word "offend," or, "scandalon" meant, anything which was used to trip something or someone up. Jesus identified the eye and the hand as being that which was a stumbling block of life. The eye sees, and desires and causes thoughts to come forth which are improper. The hand in order to carry out those thoughts and desires, reaches out and both cause a man to stumble and fall. But the question remains what happens after you dispose of one hand, or one eye? There is still the other eye and hand and they can see and act. So the answer is to cut ~~xxxxxx~~ the hand off and pluck out the other eye and it solves the problem. Right? Wrong! There is still the mind to remember and to continue to think the wrong things. So Jesus was using this as a drastic means to prove His point. The risk of this is to do away with that which can bring you to ruin. Dispose of those things which are an offence, or a stumbling block to you. He didn't mean to give up and live in a cave somewhere, or be completely isolated from everything and everybody. He knew that even in solitude sin would prevail. Instead, He wanted everyone to know of the horrible consequences of sin. He used the illustration as we see, in both these verses, "For it is profitable for thee that one of thy members shall perish, and not that thy whole body should be cast into hell." The word for "hell" is Gehenna, and referred to the Valley of Hinnom just outside the southwest gate of Jerusalem. It was a continual burning dump of refuse and garbage. It was here the jackals gathered to eat the garbage, and vermin bred such as ugly worms. Not a pretty sight. But Jesus was striving to prove His point of ~~that~~ the dire consequences involved with sin. As we think of sin we must always think what it cost. We tend to think of sin in terms of morality and we lump them into big sins and little sins. The law calls them felonies and misdemeanors. We do this too. There is murder and adultery, and fibs and little white lies. But all of this large and small brought something to bear which should always be uppermost in our minds and that is what it actually cost. What was the price of sin? That price was a human life. It was what caused a man to sweat drops of blood; it was what caused that same man to be arrested and questioned almost all night, while his questioners spit on him and pulled ~~him~~ out the hair of his beard, and smacked him in the face; it was what caused him to stand trial the next day and to be mocked and spit on again, to be called names, and to be cruelly beaten with a whip; it was that which caused him to drag a heavy wooden crossbeam of his own cross to a hill ~~outside~~ outside of Jerusalem and there to be nailed to that cross and bleed from thorns on his head, to be wracked with pain from the sagging of his weight on that cross, to bleed, to sweat, to be bothered with the flies he couldn't brush off. All of this was what caused Jesus Christ to die, and He did it for each of us. Not a pretty picture, but nevertheless one which we need to imprint upon our minds if we are to know the "Character of sin."

The question then remains, "How can we deal with this when all around us is s. and it is easier said than done?" Jesus knew all of this and it goes back once again to the 20th verse of this chapter. ~~We read there,~~ "Except your righteousness shall exceed the righteousness of the scribes and the pharisees, ye shall in no case enter the ~~kingdom~~ kingdom of heaven." There it is! Just as simple as that. That righteousness can only come from being first made righteous before God, and then seeking to follow after that righteousness. Now that may not seem like much of an answer and it isn't. But Jesus promised ~~ix~~ just before He departed the scene, "I will not leave you comfortless, I will come to you." This He did in several ways. First He left behind people who could add to what He was striving to tell and we can learn from these people by looking at what they have to say. One of these was a man named Paul. So let us look at the 5th chapter of ~~xxx~~ Paul's letter to the Romans to add to this. It is in this chapter that Paul gives directions for living the Christian life. But also he points

Q that Jesus fulfilled His promise of not leaving His followers comfortless, by coming to dwell inside of them in the form and person of the Holy Spirit. He begins this chapter by comparing the living of the law in the flesh, that is as an unsaved person, to living it in the Spirit which means having Christ as Saviour and the Holy Spirit within directing and guiding life.

Verse 5 he makes the comparison between the unsaved person and the saved. In verse 6 he adds to this and points out that the carnal or unsaved man is separated from God, dead spiritually; but the spiritual minded have eternal life. In verse 7 he speaks of the unsaved man being at war with God and because of this he adds in verse 8, the unsaved cannot do the things God wants from them. A person must be seeking spiritual things in order to be pleasing God.

In the next ^{verses} ~~verses~~ Paul makes the ~~xxxxxx~~ comparison between the saved and the unsaved. He points out the saved have eternal life, and the unsaved have eternal ~~xxxxxx~~ separation from God. His main point in these early verses is that in the believer is God's Holy Spirit seeking to guide and direct that life. Look at verse 11, he says, (read this). He means that if God who raised Jesus from the dead, if His spirit is living in you and He will give you now physical from the dead, if His Spirit is living in you, He will give your physical body new life through that Holy Spirit. He adds that we no longer are obligated to live after the flesh, or live worldly lives and the reason is given in the next verse. (Read verse 13) and this means that if we continue to live after the things of the world it will lead to death, or separation from God. But through the Holy Spirit we must mortify, or put to death the things we want to do that would keep us from God, and this in turn gives us life with God.

We need to stress that what Paul is saying here is very strong language. It may not come off that way, but it is. ~~xx~~ The word he uses, "mortify," means to subject the body to almost abusive punishment to get it in shape or into its proper form. The analogy is that of physically pounding the body until it is black and blue if necessary to have the body physically fit. But this mortification, or physical abuse of the body to bring it under control is to be done "through the Spirit." That means the Holy Spirit is to be sought for direction and control. It means that the person is seeking to be directed by God's Holy Spirit guidance for the decisions of life. Those who are saved, or born again, or who know Christ as Saviour, have that Holy Spirit seeking to guide and direct in all things. But it may be that we seek to silence the Holy Spirit by always doing what we want to do, when we want to do it. If we are seeking to live lives which are pure and ~~righteous~~ righteous before God, His Holy Spirit will empower us. We are promised this. We cannot mortify, or put to death our wrong desires and feelings, and thoughts in our own strength. It can only be done through God's power and that is His Holy Spirit.

As we stand at this crossroad in our look at sin there are two things we know. We know that sin is something which is in each of us and strive as we may, we cannot eradicate it in our own power. We also know that the character of sin is such that we are unable to ever be separate and apart from it. This brings us then to two basic questions each of us must answer. The first is, "Do I know Jesus Christ as my Lord and Saviour? ~~xxx~~ Have I really made this decision or am I still living this life in the flesh apart from God? The second question is, ~~I am taking the Holy Spirit as my guide~~ "If I know Christ as my Saviour, am I letting the Holy Spirit move and direct me so I can live closer to God?" The Christian life is not easy. Jesus never said it would be. But it is a much more rewarding life than the worldly life could ever offer. Coming to Christ and knowing Him as our Lord and Saviour, and having His Holy Spirit guide and direct us gives us a peace the world could never give. If you are struggling to live a life of rules and regulations, won't you stop that struggling today and just turn it over to Jesus and rest in His care? Let's look to Him in prayer.

Text: Jeremiah 3:1

Have You Heard Of Divorce? Jesus said you did. In fact, He said that you not only heard of it, but that you know of it as breaking the Moral Code and being sin.

I must confess this morning the inadequacy of dealing with this subject. I do not believe there is anyone regardless of education who is completely qualified ~~to~~ as an expert along this line. You have all heard many different positions taken regarding divorce. Some of them are given and have been given very dogmatically as Gospel. But who among us could ever completely fathom the mind of Jesus ~~xxxxxx~~ Christ? That is why I must confess inadequacy. I have never asked for a volunteer to preach a sermon for me, but if we have one this morning, you're on.

Thinking along these lines then, let me add that Alexander Pope ~~wrote~~ penned the famous lines, "Fools rush in where angels fear to tread."

So first let us look at what Jesus was saying in these verses, we read in the 31st verse, (read this). Where did He get this? It came from the Mosaic Code. The Moral Code which all good Jews were to live by and adhere to. To better understand this we need to look at it from three directions. So let us first look at in the context of what the Mosaic Code said. To do so we need to look at this as it is found in the book of Deuteronomy. Let us turn to chapter 24 of this book and see what that Code said. In the 1st verse we read, (read this). Here then we see the words from which Jesus took His words. To the Jew marriage held a place of very high value. It was not to be taken lightly. We still say today to a couple to be married, within the marriage ceremony, "Marriage is not to be entered into lightly, but reverently and discreetly."

This is where it comes from, and that was the Mosaic Code. To be unmarried after the age of 20 in the nation of Israel, except for a person who was studying the law was considered to be on a par with breaking a commandment. God ha said at the creation, "Be fruitful and multiply," and anyone who remained single was in a sense killing the posterity which God wanted him to bring forth. ~~xx~~ ~~xxxxxxx~~ If a man decided that he not longer wanted to be married he wrote out a bill of divorcement and handed it to his wife in the presence of two witnesses and she was considered divorced. This is what that bill would say: "Let this be from me thy ~~writ of divorce and letter of dismissal~~ writ of divorce and letter of dismissal and deed of liberation, that thou mayest marry whatsoever man thou wilt." It may seem that this first verse broadened the reasons for divorce, but instead it narrowed them. Men were getting divorced from their wives for the most frivolous of reasons. If a ~~xxx~~ wife ruined a man's supper, or didn't keep house properly, or any such trivial reason, men were divorcing their wives. Thus the enlargement on this part of the Law. So before a man could divorce his wife in the sight of the law he had to prove some uncleanness in her as uncleanness was specified in the law. This did not include adultery, because the punishment for adultery was death and naturally if a woman was executed for adultery, there was no need for a divorce.

But then the law went another step further. We read in verses 2 through 4, (x (read these). These verses spell out that a woman who is divorced could remarry and even be divorced from the 2nd mate, but it was forbidden for the first husband to remarry his ex-wife. The reason for it being that God had ordained marriage as something sacred. He never rescinded that. After God created Eve from Adam He said that a man was to leave his father and mother and take a wife and they were to be one flesh. Man and woman were to be linked together in a physical bond which was to be inseparable. This is what God wants and it is contrary to what the world has taught since and continues to teach. So what the Mosaic Code was saying was that once that bond is severed, it cannot be rejoined between the same two people because marriage is not something which is stepped into, and out of, and into again at will. This is what the Mosaic Code taught and it made of marriage a permanent thing, not just a whim or feeling for the moment.

Now we must see just what it was the Scribes and the Pharisees taught to see what Jesus was trying to say. To comprehend this we must look at another passage of Scripture in which this subject is brought again to Jesus. It is also found in the Gospel of Matthew in the 19th verse. Let us turn to this and look at what is taking place. Matthew 19, beginning with the 3rd verse. We see that once again the scribes and the Pharisees initiate the conversation as we begin with the 3rd verse. Look at what it tells us. (Read verses 2 3 through 5). Now this is exactly what the ~~int~~ true interpretation of the law as we read it in Deuteronomy. The same thought prevails and that is, marriage is not to be entered into lightly or indiscreetly. It is to be held in reverence and high esteem. But the scribes and the Pharisees could not take this as an answer and so we read in the 7th verse, (read this). Notice what they said. The question was, "Why did Moses command." Did Moses command that a man should divorce his wife? Of course not. He wrote that if a wife is unclean according to the Law, then and only then could a man divorce her. But the scribes and the Pharisees are taking the liberal stance that marriage was like a cafeteria, "You pick out what you want and pay for it later." And if you don't like what you picked out you throw it away and go back and get something to replace it. So what was taking place at this point in time was that ~~marriage~~ divorce ~~was~~ was a common everyday fact of life. Wives and children were being victimized by those who wanted to fulfill their lusts and desires without taking care of their obligations which marriage entailed.

So now we must look at what Jesus had to say about this. He first answered their reasoning that it was Commanded by Moses to get a divorce by saying in the 8th verse, (read this). He said this is what you have wanted to do and it does not jive with what God wants you to do. Then he explains in the 9th verse, (read this). What Jesus was saying was that marriage^{was} for life except a partner was physically, or sexually untrue. This was the ideal. This was and is what God wants. We are to know this and strive to live up to it. But we must carry this one step further. This does not mean we are going to say this is what Jesus said, "But." Not at all. We must look at how Jesus handled the situation when He was ~~confronted~~ actually confronted by it, and what He did about it.

We need to look at the illustration which is given in the 4th chapter of the Gospel of John. In this chapter Jesus was traveling through Samaria which was not proper ~~for~~ a Jew to do because Jews were to avoid Samaritans. At Jacob's well a woman came to draw water and since it was about noon, this would indicate she was not accepted by the other women because ~~all~~ all of the other ~~women~~ women of the town drew their water at 6:00 A.M. Therefore, she was either a prostitute, or one who was undesirable and we see the latter is the case when we ~~xx~~ understand her circumstances. Jesus asked her for a drink of water and she questioned why a Jew would speak to a Samaritan. Jesus then tells her that if He gave her of the water He had to offer she would never have a thirst again. He meant of course the spiritual thirst of her soul would be satisfied because He could take care of that. At this point she requests that water from Him and his instructions to her are found in the 16th verse. He says, "Go, call thy husband, and come hither." Her reply is, "I have not husband," vs 17a. She ~~xxxxxxx~~ either lied to Jesus, or was telling Him the truth depending upon how you view her circumstances. The answer Jesus gives is that he knew her situation as we read in the remainder of verse ~~xx~~ 17 and 18, (read this). At this point she is revealed as an adultress, a sinner, which made her unacceptable with the town women. Then the conversation gets turned around because she wants to throw Jesus off the main subject which is her personal life, but Jesus answers her tactics by giving her spiritual answers for her life. So we read that she speaks of the Messiah to come in verse 25, (read this). The answer Jesus gives to her is simply recorded in the 26th verse, (read this). The result of all of this is recorded in the 28 and 29th verses, (read these). These verses do not include the whole story. If this woman accepted Jesus as The Messiah, then He ~~was~~ became her Saviour and she was saved and forgiven. We do not read of Jesus condemning her. He pointed out her sin and when she went back home and made mention of this to the men of the town. Was she forgiven? On the basis of the love of Jesus for all sinners, the conclusion has to be yes. Did she alter her life style and live a married life as she should?

We don't know. Only God knows that.

Let me share an illustration with you to point out an aspect we may not be looking at in this matter of divorce.

(Illustration of Dear Abby and widow with 36 year old son, divorced etc)

How does this fit this picture? In this way. We are living in an age of easy living from the standpoint of if things don't work out we can go in another direction. This is the attitude of many toward marriage. But the best example for marriage is those marriages which last and endure through thick and thin. We must begin instructing our young people that marriage is a permanent arrangement and nothing we enter into on a pick and see basis. It is too late to deal with a 36 year old infant at this point in time. What other should have done that 30 some years ago. The same holds true for the adults in our society today. But those of us who are adults and who are influencing young minds, let us tell them what God says about marriage and divorce.

I pointed out this is not an easy subject to deal with. ~~XXXXXXXXXX~~ But none of us dare point the finger and declare someone guilty of sin. Divorce is not ~~more~~ the unforgivable sin ~~XXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXX~~ just as many others aren't either. ~~XXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXX~~ The prophet Jeremiah writing in the 3rd chapter, the 1st verse was speaking of the nation Israel. He compared this to a man and a woman involved in divorce and adultery. ~~XXXXXXXXXXXX~~ I would like to use it not as an illustration of the nation Israel, but as God's Word to all of us. This is what Jeremiah was inspired to write: "They say, if a man put away his wife, and become another man's, shall he return unto her again? Shall not that land be greatly polluted? but thou hast played the harlot with many lovers;" and then he ends the verse by saying, "yet return ~~XXXXXXXX~~ again to me, saith the Lord." The invitation is there for any and all to come to him and to repent and to receive his forgiveness. For any who find themselves in this situation, please know, and claim that forgiveness from God today. For any of us not involved in this situation we need to claim, "There but for the Grace of God Go I." The message from God through Jesus Christ is, and always will be, "Thy faith hath made thee whole, go and sin no more."

"Have You Heard Of Oath Taking?"

Scripture: Matthew 5:33-37

Text: Matthew 5:37

"Have You Heard Of Oath Taking?" Jesus said you did. He said that those who knew of God had heard it and it came from the Mosaic Code, the Moral Code as it was given by God.

But since it may be confusing in some instances let us look at what Jesus is actually saying. As we read verse 33, Jesus said, (read this verse). The word "forswear" actually means to perjure oneself, or to commit perjury. The 3rd Commandment as given in the 20th chapter of Exodus the 7th verse, tells us, "Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in vain; for the Lord will not hold him guiltless who taketh His name in vain." Once again this is one of the commandments to be lived by but it had been perverted and the Scribes and Pharisees were teaching contrary to what God wanted ~~xxxx~~ taught. Thus at this point we know what the Law actually said. But it is spelled out more than just once these Jewish leaders should have known what God wanted from them concerning this matter. In Leviticus 19:12 for instance we read, (read this verse). Then in Numbers 30:2 we read, (read this verse). ~~xx~~ With these proclamations from God how could anyone act contrary to what the Law said? Well there were some established methods involved in making oaths and this is why Jesus added in the 34th verse, "But I say unto you, Swear not at all." His simple solution for (read this verse) this is found in the 37th verse. Do you see what He says? If you are living the Godly life, people will know you and take your word for what you promise and there is no need of any oaths to prove to someone that ~~xxxx~~ something else is needed beyond your word.

A good example of what not to do is to be found in Matthew 26; starting at verse 69. While you are turning to that let me give the background on this. Peter was with Jesus at the Last Supper with the other disciples and during the meal Jesus had told of his coming arrest, trial and death. Peter had spoken out that though everyone turned from Him, he would not. Jesus had predicted that before the night was over, he would deny Him three times. So we pick the story up at this point and we see that Jesus has been arrested and Peter is outside of the lace of the high priest. (Read verses 69 & 70). The first thing he did was to deny any association with Jesus. This was the first step in the refinement of oath taking as it was practiced among the Jews. That first step was the denial of any wrong doing, or the affirmation that this was true and correct.

Then ~~xxxx~~ as we read on in the 71st verse, (read this). He has moved from where he had been recognised before and so he is at a different spot. But again he is identified as ~~xxxx~~ ^{at the end of the 71st verse} ~~xxxxxxx72nd~~ verse, (read this). What happens as we read the 72nd verse? He denies Jesus again, but this time it is with an oath. We do not have the oath recorded. But the usual oath was something along the lines of, "May God do such and such to me if I am not speaking the truth," and there were many variations along these lines. The next thing we see is that Peter is approached the third time concerning his ~~xx~~ identity with Jesus as we read in the 73rd verse, (read this). Then ~~xx~~ what is said of him? (Read verse 74).

~~So that may literally mean that he used curse words.~~ But the ~~most likely~~ explanation is that he called a curse upon himself if he wasn't being truthful.
This was the third part of oath taking. It was an extreme means of showing that what was being said or done was the whole truth and nothing but the truth.
After all, who would be foolish ~~xxxxxxx~~ enough to tell a lie, then to call down a curse upon oneself if what was said was a lie?

~~But there were still some who thought about oath taking with the Jewish people.~~ Perhaps we need to ask at this point if all oaths are forbidden by what Jesus is saying? The Quakers have taken this quite literally and will not swear or take the oath in a court of law. But Jesus was not condemning oath taking as such, He was instead, condemning the use to which it had evolved. While we are in this 26th chapter of Matthew look at the 63rd verse. The high priest at this point in order to emphasize that this is ~~xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx~~ a most serious matter, asks Jesus if He is the Christ. He does so by taking an oath.
Do we see Jesus take him to task for this. No. He accepts this oath because evidently it was proper and not contrary to what God had commanded concerning oaths and oath taking.

The reason behind this was that an oath legitimately containing the name of God is absolutely binding. The thought behind this was that if the oath used God's name in it, God was somewhat like a partner in the transaction. So the Jewish leaders had become quite adept at sorting out what oaths ^{should} ~~xx~~ include God's name and which oaths should not.

Jesus was getting at the evasive tactics which separated oaths into major and minor oaths. If we look at the 23rd chapter of Matthew the 16th through the 22nd verses we can see what He was getting at. (read 16 and 17). If a person ~~made an oath by the altar~~ swore an oath by the altar it was not binding; but if you took an oath by the gift which was on the altar, that oath was ~~binding~~ absolutely binding. If you took an oath by the temple, that was not binding; but if you ~~took an oath by the gold of the temple~~ took an oath by the gold of the temple, that was binding. Can you see what Jesus was getting at? Jesus explained this more fully in this 23rd chapter as we read in the 18th through the 22nd verses, (read these). He was saying that no matter what the transaction was, God was present in it and the transaction demanded Truth and Honesty. Back in our Scripture for this morning in the 34th verse He says, "Don't swear at all," or don't make oaths. Don't swear by heaven, because it is God's throne. He meant that swearing by God's creation was touching Holy things, and was not needed. He ~~said~~ ^{says} in verse 35, (read), the earth is another part of God's creation and is likened to a place where God rests His feet. Therefore it is His and not to be taken lightly. Nor by Jerusalem because it is God's Holy City, the city of the great king. They may have interpreted this as being King David, but Jesus was also implying the great king to come from the Davidic line, namely, Jesus Christ, the Messiah. In verse 36, (read), He says not to swear by your head, because it belongs to God, nor by your hair because only God can make it grow, (or even fall out). But what is to be done is to, (read verse 37). There it is. Do not act in anyway contrary to what is truthful and honest.

(Illustration of truth and honesty: suggestion box & teacher answering question)
Just a few years ago the government started a campaign to eliminate what had been dishonesty in packaging. Large boxes were sold of different products proclaiming them as jumbo size, or extra large size while actually they were more box than product and made to look super-duper-size. It must have been very disturbing to Jesus to see these people of that time making oaths they had no intention of keeping. We hear it all of the time in our day. Perhaps you have been on the receiving end of a promise from someone who tells you, "I'll do so and so, you can count on me," and when ~~you~~ it comes time for them to deliver whatever it may have been they promised, they are either not home, or make yet another excuse. Have you ever found yourself doing exactly the same thing? Or how about the rash promises which are made to God if only He will do a certain thing?

(Illustrations of man who would run 500 miles in 5 days if his daughter would live to see her 5th birthday. Or the Tony award singer who said afterward she had prayed and prayed and if God would let her win she would be extra good this next year?)

We cannot expect God to be a part of this bargaining. Instead we should be saying, "Oh God, I'll try to live truthfully and honestly as I can, but I can't do it on my own, I need your help and guidance."

If we are living lives worthy of the calling of Jesus Christ, we don't need to swear to anything, or make an oath because people should be able to take a Christian at his word. His word, should be his bond. This is all that God desires, and this is what He wants from us. We know that it isn't always easy to be truthful and honest, especially in a society that invites us to be dishonest because, "Everybody is doing it." But we must remember that when we are untruthful, or dishonest in our dealings with others, we are grieving the Holy Spirit which indwells us and seeks to bring us into all truth. Let us each examine our lives and resolve that as Jesus commands and demands of us, we "Let our communication be yea, yea; Nay, nay," so that people will know we are Christians by the truth and honesty which they see in us. In this manner our Heavenly Father may be Glorified because they see Christ revealed in us, as opposed to those who are of the world.

"Have You Heard Of Retaliation?"

Scripture: Matthew 5:38-42

Text: Matthew 5:39

Have you heard of retaliation? Jesus said that His followers had heard of it and that includes all of us. This is the 5th illustration Jesus gives in regard to the Moral Code. The well known, "Eye for an eye, tooth for a tooth," statement is found in three places in the Old Testament. In Exodus 21: 24, we read, (read this); in Leviticus 24:20 we read, (read this); and in Deuteronomy 19:21 we read, (read this). Here we have the part of the law Jesus was referring to. But we should point out that this was not what was to actually take place in every instance. This was given to avoid the excesses and abuses man is prone to go to in solving his problems. ~~xxxxxxxxxxxxxx~~ This law was not just in operation for the people of Israel, but was a part of the code of Hammurabi who reigned in Babylon in 2285 B.C. This is the oldest known law in the world and is called Lex Talionis, and is the law of retaliation. It ~~was~~ ~~xxxxxxxxxx~~ could be called "the law of tit for tat." But it is one of the most misunderstood laws ever to come into existence. So it is not surprising that Jesus felt the need to deal with it. It was being abused by many people and particularly because the scribes and pharisees were teaching wrongly on it. The main purpose of the law was exactly the same as the laws against adultery and divorce and that was to avoid the excesses man is prone to go to. For instance, suppose a man ^{was} ~~ix~~ robbed of a bull or a sheep. When the robber was caught, the offended party wanted to take all of the robbers sheep or animals to retaliate for what had been taken from him. But we have the same thing today. If any harm is done to us, our immediate instinct is to hit back, but more than just hit back, but to do more to the other person than was done to us. In the Old Testament days it was a normal thing that retaliation took the form of killing, or seeking to kill the offender. So the practice had to be curbed. Thus, the law we know as "tit for tat." But this law was to be meted out by judges and not by the individual. This kept it from becoming a personal vendetta between individuals and tribes. In savage areas if a member of a tribe is killed, that tribe then goes to the offending tribe and kills as many as they can. So it is easy to understand how this retaliation had to be halted.

once again Jesus comes along with an unpopular rendering of the Law as it was interpreted by the Scribes and Pharisees. They were teaching that it was essential that the Law had to be administered in an "Eye for an eye, and a tooth for a tooth," manner. But Jesus said, "Not so."

This portion of Scripture has three separate ~~xxxxdistinct~~ elements in it which ~~was~~ were a departure from the normal teaching of the day. We shall look at each of them separately today and the next two weeks. Today we are going to look at the matter of retaliation as Jesus taught about it.

Jesus began this dissertation by saying as we read in the 39th verse, "Ye have heard that it hath been said, 'an eye for an eye, and a tooth for a tooth.'" As we said before, this came down from the law of Moses and that is where they ~~heard~~ heard of it. But like so many other features of the Mosaic code they had perverted it and twisted it to make it say what they wanted it to say. So we read in the 39th verse, Jesus went on, "but I say unto you that ye resist not ~~evil~~ evil." Now people have taken this phrase to mean ~~anythingxfreexpacifism~~ that we should not have armies, or police, or magistrates, or anyone who would go against evil. The thought behind it is that if evil is not resisted it will go away, because it will not profit anyone and the world will become good and righteous as it was meant to be. But that is the same as sticking one's head in the sand and ignoring that which is still there. Jesus was not teaching this. In other points of Scripture he spoke of governments and things of this nature, but it is not a part of this Scripture. That Jesus was saying ~~xxxxxxxx~~ does not mean that we are never to resist evil. He says, "Resist not evil," and then he goes on to give an example which shows how to react in a certain circumstance. One of the greatest insults which one man could give to another was to slap him on the right cheek. This came about because to do so, meant that the person doing the slapping had to deliberately reach across the other person to do it. Most people are right handed. Thus, a right handed man facing another would have to reach far to his left and in order to slap that man's face, he would use the back of his hand. Then to add insult to injury, he would return his hand and with his palm slap that man on the left cheek. This is what Jesus is saying. If someone wants to slap you on the cheek, don't juke, or duck, but let him give you a slap on the other side. He didn't mean this literally. He meant it figuratively. His meaning was that if you are insulted, don't retaliate and return an insult back. Accept the insult and forget it. His meaning is made more clear when we read what the apostle Paul has to say on this as it is found ~~xxxxx~~ in the 12th chapter of Romans. Let's look at this Scripture. Beginning with the 9th verse he says, (read this). He meant to love all people without making a distinction between them. We are not to love a few people very well and then show hatred to many others. In verse 10, he spells this out further, (read this). Then he gives some practical things Christians should be doing to show forth this love as we read in verses 11 through 13, (read these). Then in the 14th verse we read an enlargement of what Jesus was saying in this portion of Scripture we have been looking at, (read this verse). He adds to this a few more thoughts of expressing Christian love as we read in verses 15 & 16, (read these). Then it is back to the same thought in verses 17 & 18, (read these). So you see what he says in verse 16? It is "If it be possible, as much as lieth in you, live peaceably with all men." That means you strive to live a peaceable life and accept things which cannot do you ~~xxxxx~~ bodily harm. But this doesn't mean that you have to submit to someone who feels he wants to cut you up with a knife, or murder a member of your household. In situations like this we have the right to defend our families, our homes, and ourselves. But we are to get into the habit of non-retaliation to those things which are not going to cause bodily harm.

(Illustration of Billy Bray and man striking him after he was converted).

This is the action God desires from each of us. Why? There are two reasons as Paul points out in the next verses of this 12th chapter. The first is found in the 19th verse, (read this). It isn't up to us to play God. He can and will take care of all abuses and insults we may receive at the hands of others. He is the one to return vengeance upon those who cause harm to His children. The second reason is found in the 20th verse, (read this). Have you ever spoken kindly to someone who is angrily telling you off? It isn't an easy lesson to learn because the normal reaction is to retaliate. And not only to retaliate, but to get back at the other fellow far beyond what he has inflicted upon us. But that isn't God's way.

(Illustration of Alexander the Great and General Clitus)

God seeks for us to rule ourselves before we rule others. This conquest begins in the individual heart. Paul closes this chapter with the words, "Be not overcome with evil, but overcome evil with good. This can only come about by a change in the heart of each of us. Are we willing to change our hearts so that our retaliation is such that, "Whosoever shall smite thee on thy right cheek, turn to him the other also?"

"Have You Heard Of The Unexpected?"

Scripture: Matthew 5:38-42

Text: Matthew 5:40-41; 1 Peter 2:11-24

Have you heard of the unexpected? Jesus said that His listeners had heard of retaliation and He gave the answer for that as we looked at it last week. Now He tells them what to do in two distinct cases involving people making demands upon them. Let us look at these verses once again as they are found in our Scripture lesson.

As we look at the 38th verse, for the 5th time Jesus begins by saying, "Ye have heard that it hath been said," and He goes on to elaborate what had been said. We had said how this was found in the Old Testament Mosaic Code and was actually the oldest law in the world. The law of retaliation. But Jesus gave a new meaning to this. So let us add the beginning of the 39th verse to the beginning of the 40th verse and we find that would read, "But I say unto you, if any man will sue thee at the law, and take away thy coat, let him have thy cloak also."

This is an addition to the preceeding statmement of turning the other cheek.

If a Christian is striving to not retaliate when he is insulted, here is another opportunity to do just that. We read about the cloak and its use in business transactions in the book of Exodus 22:26-27, (read this). What this means is that it was legal to accept a man's cloak as a pledge for payment of money, but the cloak could not be kept from him after sundown. The cloak was the long sleeved, heavy, outer robe which by day was a robe and by night it was his blanket. The inner garment was called a "Coat." it was a long robe also but it was made of cotton or linen. Thus it was lighter in weight. During the day a man could work without his cloak and so if he was working for someone to pay off a debt, he could give the man to whom he owed money his coat as a pledge that when he was paid at the end of the day he would settle his affairs. But suppose he didn't have enough money to complete his debt? The man he owed money may get angry and demand that it was either the rest of the money, or the cloak. But this was illegal. He could demand the man's coat, or inner robe, but he could not deprive the man of his blanket to keep warm with at night.

Ordinarily, many of these Jewish merchants were not too tolerant of the people who owed them money. So if it seemed as though a man was not paying fast enough, the merchant could take the man to court and if he won, he would get the man's inner coat. The merchant was in the right to demand his rights. But Jesus is saying that this is not to be the action of the Christian. If a man insists that he is going to sue, settle the case out of court by not only giving him your coat, but give him your cloak as well. A Christian should be the last person to be demanding "Rights." A Christian must not insist upon legal rights even though it may mean that he must suffer injustice because of it. Once again we must remember that vengeance belongs to God and He will repay us many times over for being obedient to Him, and not obedient to our own selfish demand for what we feel or believe is rightfully coming to us. We can see that a part of the problem of our society today is caused by so many demanding their so called, "Rights." The welfare recipients are demanding "Rights." The so called "Gay Rights" people are demanding their "Rights." The elderly are demanding their "Rights." The ERA and women's libbers are demanding their "Rights." Each group has an individual axe to grind demanding "Special Rights and privileges." But when all is said and done do any of us actually have any "Rights" in the sight of God? Doesn't everything belong to Him, and we are only tenants of ~~His~~ all of this? Aren't we only sojourners and strangers here on this planet and subject to what He wants and wills? Someone has wisely said something to the effect that all of us are like the automobile to the extent that we are subject to recall by our maker as well. What are our "Rights" and who are we to demand them?" Jesus was pointing out that God knows who is in the roles of judging and being magistrates but we are to be restrained from appearing before them. We are to show people that a Christian is a different breed of cat, from the rest of the world.

But then there is another side to this issue as well. Jesus said in the 41st verse, "But I say unto you, whosoever shall compel thee to go a mile, go with him twain." The Persians had set up a rather unique postal system. It was somewhat like our old Pony Express of years ago. Each road was divided into stages which took a day to get to. At each stage there was food, water, and feed for the horses, and fresh horses to travel to the next stage. But if a man delivering the baggage or whatever it was, came to a station without food, or water, or other supplies, he could commandeer anyone to supply what was needed. The Romans refined this even further and at anyplace on any road a Roman soldier could walk up to a Jew, place the flat head of his spear on the shoulder of the man, and compel him to carry or deliver whatever was being moved along that road. This is how Simon the Cyrene was made to carry the cross of Jesus. The word "Compel" comes from a word which means "To impress," or to "press into service." Jesus said if this should happen to you to not only go the one mile, but to go a second mile as well. Can you picture the average person complying with this? What is our normal reaction when we are asked to go out of our way for someone? I remember the reaction of certain teen-agers in our house when asked to do something extra. "Do I have to?" Sound familiar? But how can we accomplish this, because the words of Jesus are very brief with not too many words used here. Once again we must compare Scripture with Scripture to see how God wants us to live this out in our lives.

Let us look for our comparison to the first letter of Peter, the second chapter. We will begin at the 11th verse. We read in verses 11 through 14, (read these). Here Peter is explaining that we must obey the civil authorities regardless of who they are. God knows them, and God has appointed them as the leaders. Good, bad, or indifferent, God is aware of them and they are to be obeyed, especially by followers of Jesus Christ.

Then Peter begins to tell why as we read in verses 15 and 16, (read these). In other words, Christlikeness silences critics. There are those who stand on the sidelines jeering and poking fun at those who want to live the Christian life. They cannot understand how Christians can strive to love in the midst of a hateful and unloving world. This is what Peter elaborates on as we read in the 19th and 20th verses, (read these). We are to accept graciously when we are

is is what God wants from us and He gave us the example for this as we read in the 21st through the 23rd verses, (read these).

All of this came about, a sinless man being punished and abused and yet He was able to ~~show~~ live the example He was striving to ~~xx~~ tell us about in this Sermon on the Mount. Peter closes this chapter with the words of the 24th verse and tells in the 25th verse why, (Read these).

There can be no question whatever that Jesus made an impact upon the world and it has never been the same. He wants us to make an impact in whatever little corner of the world we are living in. Can you make an impact? There are those who would answer very quickly ~~xxxx~~ "No I can't make an impact," because it is easier to drift with the world and our society than it is to be different from it.

(Illustration of two men arguing about making an impact and formulation of QUIZ)
Our impact can be such that people will be "Questioning" just what it is that makes us different from everyone else. But our questioning this morning should be within our own hearts and lives. And that questioning should be, "Do I have the courage to begin living out these words of Jesus Christ starting today?"

"Have You Heard Of Selflessness?"

Scripture: Matthew 5:38-42

Text: Matthew 5:42; 2 Corinthians 5:14-15

Have You Heard Of Selflessness? Jesus said His followers had since it also was a part of the Mosaic Code. It had grown out of the desire to see that those who were poor of the Israelites had the ~~opportunity~~ opportunity to rise above their poverty. This is the last insight of Jesus in this particular block of Scripture and in a sense it ties ~~verses 38 through 42~~ verses 38 through 42 together.

But as we now look at it ~~separately~~ separately we see that Jesus said, (read verse 42) His admonition at this point is taken directly from what Moses had shared with the people of Israel as recorded in Deuteronomy 15:7-11. ~~That Scripture tells us, (read these verses) xxxxxxxx explaining~~ That Scripture tells us, ~~(read these verses) xxxxxxxx explaining~~ in verses 7 and 8, (read these). But what Moses is saying here is that even though every 7th year all debts were to be cancelled, this didn't give anyone the right to refuse help or assistance to a poor man. He explains this further in the 9th verse and we read, (read this verse). What could conceivably happen was that a cunning individual could delay giving assistance if it was near the 7th year. In this way he wouldn't have to give anything and so with the year of release, he wouldn't ~~really~~ have really lost anything. But Moses appeals to not only their sympathy for the poor and needy, but to the reward which God would certainly render to them because they had ~~opened~~ opened their hearts to others, as we read in verses 10 and 11, (read these). Moses had known of the division of the inheritance and how everyone was supposedly taken care of by what lay before them in the promised land. But he also knew that there just may be some unscrupulous fellows who could or would take the inheritance of someone else and thus there would be poor among them. To prevent this, he speaks to ~~them~~ them very frankly about what needed to be done. But it is interesting to note that he tells them, there would always be poor among them. Jesus made this same remark when someone commented that the perfume used to anoint Him shortly before His death could have been used to help the poor. From this we can understand that poverty would always be present in the world. But Moses was quick to point out that it was the responsibility of those with means, to seek to ~~may~~ provide for those without. Moses speaks of the rewards which will come to those who are compassionate and we find that two of the greatest kings of Israel spoke of this very thing. In ~~xxx~~ the 37th Psalm of David verses 25 and 26 we read, (read these verses). David says that in his lifetime he has not seen those who seek to be righteous and to strive to do the righteous thing, to be forsaken or without, nor has he seen their family, wives, children and grandchildren without food. Those he has observed are people who gave what they could so others ~~who did not have~~ without these things had them provided. He is saying that there is a special blessing reserved for those who give to the needs of others. His son, Solomon, in his book of Proverbs tells us in the 19th Proverb, verse 17, (read this verse). In effect, he is saying, when you give to the poor it is like lending it to God and God in turn will ~~pay you~~ ~~ask you to~~ repay.

If we look back at the beginning of the Sermon on the Mount at the Beatitudes we can readily see that each statement which Jesus made following them, built one upon another. With each statement we can go back to those Beatitudes and pluck one out which will fit the purpose and meaning of what Jesus was saying. When we look at this 42nd verse we can go back to the Beatitudes and pluck out, "Blessed are the merciful, for they shall obtain mercy." When we are willing to show concern and care to others it will come back to us in many other ways. But we must add to this that we are to be good stewards of what God has given us and to use it well. This means that we do not just indiscriminately give to any and all causes. A good example would be an obviously inebriated man who sought a handout from you. It wouldn't be wise to help that man because it would mean that more than likely he would use the money for further drinking. But someone who seemed to obviously need help, if it is within our means to give help, and not necessarily financial help, then we should render it. But you may ask, "What if I do give to someone and that person is not legitimately in need?" If someone asks help of you and you honestly believed that person to be in need and rendered assistance, and that person used that help wrongly, that sin is on his conscience. God knew your motives and why you gave and He will bless you for it. But we must always remember what the author of Hebrews tells us in chapter 13, verse 2, "Be not forgetful to entertain strangers; for thereby some have entertained angels unawares." This is the sum and total of what Jesus said as recorded in the 25th chapter of the Gospel of Matthew beginning with the 31st verse, (read verses 31-40). Conversely He says those who didn't do this would be cast away from His presence. We must remember that as we render help and assistance to others, we are rendering it to Jesus Christ Himself.

Paul wrote to the people at the Church in Corinth and we find his elaboration on this principle in his 2nd letter, chapter 5, verses 14 and 15, (Read verse ~~15~~ 14). Paul is saying that the love for Jesus Christ compels us, or controls us, or has such a grasp upon us so much so, that we realize that He died for us and through Him all believers have died to sin. But he goes on to say in the 15th verse, (read this). Because of this compulsive, or great love for ~~Jesus~~ Jesus Christ we should all have, we don't live to ourselves, and our own devices but instead, we live for Him, and like Him. That means a life of Selflessness. A life that is not wrapped up in ourselves and what we want and all of our worldly whims and fancies.

(Illustration of missionary Arthur Tylee, & "grave oft speaks louder than life") This is exactly what Jesus Christ showed us by His death on our behalf. Our example for all of life is Him and that example is a life that was completely divested of self, so much so that He gave everything He had on our behalf. This is what is asked of us as well. ~~As life is selfless~~ Being able to turn the other cheek, to go the second mile, to give up our cloak as well as our coat, and to give to those who ask is only possible from a life that has died to self. The words of Jesus must be heard by any and all who would name His name and profess to follow Him. But how far are we willing to follow?

Is it all the way? Or only so far Lord, only so far? "Give to him that asketh thee, and from him that would borrow of thee turn not thou away." God is asking of you and me, and He wants to borrow our allegiance and our lives while we live in this life. What is our response to Him?

"Have You Heard Of Christian Love?"

Scripture: Matthew 5:43-48

Text: Matthew 5:44

(Illustration of execution of Christian's son & his love to that Communist)
What would be your reaction if someone murdered a member of your family?
Would you be willing to show ~~xxx~~ kindness to the killer? We don't know how or what we would do. That is a very difficult question to ponder and much harder to answer. But "Have You Heard Of Christian Love?" Jesus said that His followers hadn't because they were practising more hatred than love. This is the last of six principles we have been looking at from this portion of the Sermon on the Mount which Jesus had taken from the Mosaic Code and which He clarified to show how God wanted them to be lived instead of being what man had caused them to become.

But just where did Jesus get this statement which He makes in the 43rd verse?
We have heard that it hath been said, 'Thou shalt love thy neighbor and hate thine enemy?' That surely wasn't what God had set forth in His Law. That just doesn't quite sound like what God would hand down as His Word for life. We find recorded in the Law, in the book of Leviticus chapter 19, verse 18, a summation of various things pertaining to neighbors. We read there, "Thou shalt not avenge, nor bear any grudge against the children of thy people, but thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself; I am the Lord." There it is, spelled out so just where did these people get their attitude and teaching of loving your neighbor and hating your enemy? The answer is simply how they interpreted who their neighbor was.

You may remember ~~when Jesus was asked~~ on another occasion after this message was given a lawyer asked Him the question, "Who is my neighbor?" And Jesus replied with the story of the Good Samaritan. The Samaritans were utterly despised by the Jews and for Jesus to cast the Samaritan in a much better light than the Levite or the Priest in that story was bordering on heresy. A Jew was taught that only Jews were neighbors and Gentiles, or Samaritans, or any other half-breeds were no better than dogs. They were scum and not to be salt with in any way shape or ~~form~~ form.

So this is where they got their bit of loving their neighbor and hating their enemy. But as in previous utterances about the Law, Jesus gives a clarification about this. He adds, "But I say unto you, love your enemies, bless them that curse you, do good to them that hate you, and pray for them which despitefully use you, and persecute you." These words to the Jews who heard them must have sent shudders through their physical bodies. Any and all of this was absolutely abhorrent to them. To even think of anyone who was not a Jew brought thoughts of hatred coursing through their brains.

But Jesus adds to this and says, "That ye may be the children of your Father which is in heaven." They already believed they were His children, simply because they were Jews. They were His chosen people. And for Jesus to tell them they were not God's children because of their attitudes must have infuriated them.

And then Jesus told them something which must have made them livid with rage. He said, "For He maketh His sun to rise on the evil and on the good, and sendeth rain on the just and on the unjust." These people literally prayed that God would send His wrath and destruction upon those whom they considered as ~~beings~~ being the unrighteous, the unchosen people.

(Illustration of person writing to newspaper editor and quationing a person planting on Sunday. Answer: God doesn't pay His accounts in October)

The person who chooses to curse God with the most vile names, is an individual who is capable of raising prize winning beautiful flowers. Because God does not withhold His blessings from these people. But God's judgement is reserved for them at a later time if they do not repent and turn from their wickedness and atheism.

So after making these statements, Jesus now asks two questions. Both of the questions speak of two groups of people the Jews literally hated. The first question ~~was~~ in verse 46 asks, "For if ye love them which love you, what reward have ye? do not even the publicans do the same?" The "Publicans" Jesus referring to ~~ix~~ were called "Telonai" in Greek. These were not necessarily Gentiles, but were quite often Jews who collected the taxes for the much hated Romans. They were hated because in collecting taxes, they had contact with Gentiles which made them unclean, and they broke the Sabbath by collecting taxes on the Sabbath. So these people as a result of being ostracized by much of the population found friendship and companionship among themselves.

The second question Jesus raised is much like the first, he asked, "And if ye salute your brethren only, what do ye more than others? do not even the publicans so?" The word "Publican in this instance is from another Greek word which is "Ethnikoi," and as you might guess it is where we get our English word "Ethnic" from. The word was used in conjunction with strictly Gentiles, or those who were not Jewish. Jesus was asking, ~~Isn't~~ Isn't it true that tax-collectors love other tax collectors? And isn't it true that those who are not Jews love others who are not Jews? So what difference is there if you only love Jews? You are just like those you hate."

But this isn't just something which was isolated in history and peculiar to the time of Jesus Christ. It has been handed down from generation to generation and is still with us today. I know people in our Butler area who hate people simply because they are of another race, or their skin is another color. Many of these people have never had any real contacts with people such as this, they hate them because a prejudice has been handed down to them.

~~I~~ I'd like to share an illustration with you that has happened right in the hometown of an Ex-president in Plains, Georgia. In this town has existed what may be perhaps some of the worst slums in the south. An ex-lawyer, ex-millionaire, who gave up both to ~~buy~~ buy property, build new low-cost housing and sell it to poor people interest free has been working to change those slums. His name is Millard Fuller and he is a member of the United Church of Christ. In his book, "Love In The Mortar Joints," he tells of two incidents I would like to relate this morning. A black family, Willie and Rose Belle had one of the first houses built for them in Plains. The day the house was completed they moved into it, because their old shack leaked in every storm, and was impossible to heat in the winter. Mr. Fuller stopped the next evening to see if anything needed to be done to the house. He was ushered in and proudly shown their new house. When he asked if there was anything else that he could do and if the house was OK, Rose Belle replied in her poor speech, "OH no. This house ain't got no problems. We're so happy to be in it. Mr. Millard, being in this house is like ~~being~~ we was dead and buried, and got dug up." She was expressing a theological truth without even knowing she had ~~expressed~~ expressed a significant truth.

Another family, Tom and Ethel Dunning had been living in a shack on a farm owned by a white lady. When the white lady heard they were going to move into one of the new houses she contacted Ethel and told her she wanted to talk to her. The ^{morning} next ~~day~~ Ethel went to her house and the white lady harranged her until mid-afternoon and Ethel left in tears. When she reached her shack home, she discovered that their water had been shut off. For ~~two~~ two months the Dunning family had to haul water, by filling buckets ^{at} ~~from~~ a neighbor's house. One day shortly thereafter, the white lady contacted Ethel by phone and said she had a problem. "Ethel," she said, "my boy and his wife are coming to see us this weekend. Would you mind cooking us some of those special cakes you bake so well?" Ethel said, "Yes, Ma'am, I'd be glad to cook em - but you know I ain't got no water!" "Oh, Ethel. that's right. I'd forgotten. Well, could you come over here to my house and bake them?" Ethel telling the story paused and said, "And Mr. Millard, you know what I did? I went over there and worked all day long baking those cakes. I didn't say nothin bout nothin. I just baked and baked and was as nice as I could be." "But do you know what?" She asked. "To do that you'se got to be dug up!" This is the message. To be God's person we must be "Dug up," transformed, born-again, changed. This is what makes it possible to be merciful, to turn the other cheek, to go the ~~second~~ mile, to love instead of hate.

(Illustration of little boy and rabbit that couldn't add).

Can we multiply any of these things we have been talking about? Can we add What
) ~~it~~ this? Nothing, except to live it and express it in our lives.

"Have You Heard Of Christian Love?" Now you have. In fact, today, you can say that you know of Him who not only talked about it, but did it, through His death and His resurrection.

Because He lives, we too can live and we can and should love, because of His love. Thanks be to God for the victory through our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. He is not in the tomb! He is risen! He is Risen Indeed, thank God.

"Have You Heard Of Family Likeness?"

Matthew 5:48

xt: Matthew 5:48

When we started this series of sermons on the Sermon on the Mount we had said that in all probability this was not a sermon which ~~xxxxx~~ was given all at one time. The reason for this is because of the length of it and its contents. In all probability Matthew wrote this down in this sequence not striving to prove what Jesus said, but to give the record of His preaching. It really doesn't matter much whether He delivered it all at once, or over an extended period of time. What matters is the teaching and what we do with it. With this 48th verse we come to the end of the 5th chapter and also an end to this particular element of preaching. Jesus has covered a great deal of ground in this chapter and this last verse is the sum total of everything which has gone before.

But perhaps before we look at that verse we should note the effect the Sermon on the Mount has on the average person. Before hearing this Sermon on the Mount, most people are convinced that the code by which we are to live is the Ten Commandments. Then along comes Jesus Christ with these interpretations of the Law and it appears as though instead of simplifying life, He does nothing more than make it harder to live. Who could possibly do all of these things He was saying as well as keeping the Ten Commandments? This is the paradox most people find themselves in if they are at all concerned about living the Christian life. But for the Christian it isn't a matter of the Law being made harder to keep. Instead, it is the way to live the law without being tied to the ritualistic keeping of the Law. Jesus didn't dispense with the Law, He re-interpreted it and gave simplified examples of how to live that Law. Thus everything which we have dealt with in this 5th chapter is tied up in this last verse. If we are striving to live the Beatitudes, if we are striving to be the salt of the earth, and the light of the world; if we are striving to be of a pure heart; if we are striving to turn the other cheek when we want to retaliate; if we are striving to give up our cloak as well as our coat if anyone wants to take it; and if we are striving to go the second mile and all of these other little details which Jesus has given, then, we are riving to fulfill what Jesus was saying in this last verse. But in order to understand just exactly what Jesus was saying, we must examine the verse more closely.

Jesus begins by saying, "Be ye," by this He means those who are His supposed followers. I say supposed because there are many who say they will follow Jesus Christ, but after making the profession they do ~~not~~ nothing further to permit growth to take place in their lives. So Jesus is in effect saying, "Those of you who claim to be my followers," and He adds, "Therefore," which means, "Now that you have heard all of these things, it is time for you to do something about all of this."

He adds the word "Perfect." That word causes some people to immediately back off. The reason of course is that we think of "perfect" as being someone who is restricted from all of the ~~things~~ of life and who can have any fun if all you can do is sit and twiddle your thumbs? But that is the wrong conception of the word "perfect." It is true that Jesus adds, "Even as your Father, who is in heaven is perfect," but that doesn't mean that we are expected to be like that especially in this life. The word "Perfection" is from the Greek ^{noun} ~~word~~ Telos. The word originally means, the point at which one stage ends and another begins. But the word which Jesus used here is the adjective, "TELIOS" This is the only place in the New Testament where this word is used. At this point it means "that which has reached its goal, complete." Anything which has reached its TELOS, or the completion of one stage, is ~~called~~ TELIOS or "Complete" at that point. So Jesus is telling His followers to grow from stage to stage. To be TELOS and be considered as TELIOS. That means that we don't just come to acknowledge and accept Christ and stop at that point. It means instead that that is the first point and we are TELOS, or have just completed a stage and should be pressing on to become TELIOS. This is where we read in other parts of the New Testament that we are to be feeding on meat and not stopping our growth at milk.

But the meaning of this goes much deeper than the fact that Jesus wants His 1 lowers to grow in their ~~faith~~ faith. The deeper meaning has to do with God Himself. What do we know of God? First we would probably say that God is love and that because He is love, He created everything good and perfect. But of all of His creation, man was the ultimate but man turned from God and sinned and thus destroyed the perfection which God had meant for him to be and to live in. This meant then that man was separated from God. God was still perfect, but man was ~~not~~ no longer perfect as he had once been. In order to restore that relationship, God made it possible through Jesus Christ. When anyone acknowledges and accepts Jesus Christ as Lord and Saviour that person is born into the family of God. At this point the Holy Spirit comes into the heart and life of that person to take residence there making it possible for that person to have guidance and direction toward growth in the Christian life.
The Apostle Paul shared this with the people in the Church at Rome and we read in the 8th chapter the 16th verse, "The Spirit Himself beareth witness with our spirit that we are the children of God." This means that The Holy Spirit works with our spirit, or our lives to indicate to us that through this new relationship with Jesus Christ the relationship with our Father has been restored. We are His children and this is what separates Christians from ~~the~~ people who are not Christians. Those who may believe in God, but are not actual Christians are not "Children of God." He is God to them, but nothing else. God is not the Father of the non-Christian and we need to remember this.
Paul goes on to add, "And if children, then heirs, heirs of God and joint heirs with Christ." This means that all which belongs to Jesus Christ is ours because we are ~~his~~ heirs ~~through~~ because we are God's children. This is how we can absolutely say with a certainty that God is our Father. And if God is our Father, we have His Holy Spirit within us and we cannot be like anybody else we must be different. But why is this important? Perhaps we can understand it better if we look at it from another direction.
(Illustration of man coming to church to discover if his name is still on the church role. His son was in a gang which held up a liquor store etc.)

From this example I think we can get an inkling of ~~why~~ why God would want us to be seeking perfection as Jesus said we should. If we think of it this in our own humanness we know that for those of us who are parents, we don't want our children to turn out wrong, do we? Our children bear a ~~likeness~~ physical resemblance to us in one way or another. We want the best for them, and we certainly don't want them to make the same mistakes which we made. That is the reason for correction, for concern, for anguish when ~~things~~ they act in a manner contrary to what we want.

But think of God. He has created you and I and everyone else. He wants to love us and have that special relationship with us which makes us His children through Christ. There is that "Family Likeness" because we were created in the image of God. This is what Jesus was ~~sayingxxxxxxxx~~ striving to show when He said, "Be ye, ~~perfect~~ therefore, perfect, even as your Father, who is in heaven, is perfect." And to answer the question why? if we look back to the 45th verse we read, "That ye may be the children of your Father who is in heaven."

It all comes down to this final question which this first part of the Sermon on the Mount is striving to ~~bring~~ elicit from each of us. That question is this: Is there anything special about you? I'm not asking if you read your Bible, and that is important and I urge you to do so; I'm not asking if you say your prayers, or whether you go to church regularly. There are people who do all of these things and they aren't Christians. But is there something of God about you? Can the people around you see a "Family Likeness" to your Father in heaven? May God grant that in each of us may be seen something of the uniqueness which separates us from ~~the others~~ others, but which shows forth and proclaims that we are the children of our Father who is in heaven.

Growing Up Process....

I see children as kites. You spend a lifetime trying to get them off the ground. You run with them until you're both breathless...they crash...they hit the rooftop...you patch and comfort, wind and assure them that someday they'll fly. Finally they are airborne: they need more string and you keep letting it out, but with each twist of the ball of twine, there is a sadness that goes with joy. The kite becomes mere distant, and you know it won't be long before that beautiful creature will snap the lifeline that binds you together and will soar as it is meant to soar--free and alone. Only then do you know that you did your job.

"Kingdom Living: Righteous Action"

Scripture: Matthew 6:1-4

Text: Matthew 6:2b, "Verily I say unto you, they have their reward."

As we have said on previous occasions, the Sermon on the Mount ~~was~~ in all probability ^{was} not preached all at one time as recorded by Matthew. But the interesting thing about it is that in this sermon there is to be seen the hand of a master craftsman which placed all of it in its proper sequence. I believe that God inspired Matthew for whatever reason to pen the Sermon in this manner. If we look at this sermon it is a masterpiece of design. It begins with the fundamentals, beginning at the very beginning. We could equate it with learning the alphabet. Then when the alphabet is learned, to take those letters and form them into words; then when the words are formed to place them into ~~sentences~~ sentences and paragraphs for complete understanding and insight. And this is exactly how this sermon is composed.

We have completed the basic fundamentals which was the 5th chapter. Now we are at the point of having some basic areas of a Christian's life pointed out, along with proper instructions of how to live in these areas.

As we look at this chapter as a whole, we can see that Jesus takes three very basic things with which a person must deal in his life and gives the spiritual directions necessary to do them. In this first section of Scripture He speaks of "Righteous Actions," and in the next section He deals with prayer, and in the third He

As we look at this chapter as a whole, we can see that it deals with two aspects of life. The first section found in verses 1 through 18 deal with the religious part of the Christian life and verses 19 to the end of the chapter deal with the earthly aspects of our lives.

In this first section, Jesus deals with three very basic things with which we must deal in our lives. The first section which we are dealing with this morning has to do with "Righteous Actions," and the next ~~one~~ deals with prayer, and the third deals with fasting. These ~~three~~ three basics played important roles in the lives of the people to whom Jesus was addressing these remarks. But we must continually remember that He was also addressing these remarks to each of us as well.

As we look at this 1st verse we read the word "Alms." In the Greek this is a word which is used interchangeably with the word "righteous." Alms and Righteousness were synonymous with the devout Jew. To strive to be righteous was to give alms and to give alms was striving to live righteously. That is why some translations use the word "Righteousness." But Jesus is not only speaking of righteousness here, He is also speaking of rewards. Rewards come in two different ways. They either come from God, or they come from man. And there is a great difference between them, which we shall see.

Jesus is saying in the 1st verse, "Pay attention to what I am about to say. Do not perform your righteousness so that it is an outward show for man to see, because if you do this you will have no reward from God for this type of action!" Jesus spelled this out more fully in the 2nd verse as we read, (read this).

At this particular point Jesus was using an illustration which was an exaggeration of the Jewish practices. They didn't actually employ someone to blow trumpets to show off ~~their~~ the practicing of their giving or their righteousness. But they may as well have done so. The Pharisees especially, made a big show of placing a large sum in the offering box, especially when a lot of people could see this. Or they helped someone who was in dire need, but usually when a group of people could see this action taking place.

(Illustration of man buying water for the poor and asking for blessing)

This is exactly what Jesus was condemning, the outward show of piety for the applause and admiration of men. When righteous acts or deeds are performed in this manner, Jesus said the person doing them has their "reward." The word "reward" is an interesting word at this point. It comes from the Greek word, "Misthos" and it means, "Recompense, or, payment in full, such as wages."

This means then that the person who ~~and~~ makes an outward show of doing something which wins the approval of men, that is that person's reward and there will be no further reward. That is it, the reward has been paid in full by acclaims and applause of the crowd. This needs to be emphasized because Jesus was striving to show that when payment is made by man, there will be no future payment given by God. It is a one shot deal. Now if a person unselfishly and quietly without seeking fanfare or publicity does righteous deeds to help others and somehow it is publicized, the reward is still there from God, because God knows the intent of the heart of that person. But to deliberately set out to help people so that one may win the "Butler Humanitarian of the Year" award, receives the plaudits of man, but not of God.

Jesus called these people "Hypocrites" and that word comes from the Greek word which means "an actor." so a hypocrite is an actor, a person playing a role and actors look for applause, that is what keeps them going.

Jesus goes on to say in verses 3 and 4, (read these). He is saying that as much as possible let your ~~giving~~ righteousness, as well as your giving be done in secret without fanfare. This is why it is wrong to publish lists of the giving of members. We shouldn't be ashamed of our giving, unless of course we are robbing God and stealing from Him what should be rightfully His. But we need not make a list to compare who has given the most and who has given the least. Jesus said that God would reward a person openly. That may take place in this life in several different ways, but most assuredly it will take place in ~~xxx~~ eternity. We must be careful when we ~~speak~~ speak of rewards. There is a tendency to think of rewards as being something we are working at and piling up in heaven. We should be mindful of rewards that they will be ours in eternity, but that should never be the reason we strive to live righteous lives. Our motives should be to live for God and whatever rewards He may be placing to our account, will be His to distribute when we get to heaven. A part of what Jesus is saying here has to do with doing all to the glory of God. There is about all of this sermon the idea that God is watching and seeing everything that goes on in each of our lives.

(Illustration of little boy and behaving because "God is watching." His reply was, "Humph, is that all He has to do all day is lay on His stomach and watch me.")

Perhaps we shouldn't look at it in this light. But we should be aware that God is watching us and He does see all that we do. That thought can either strike fear in our hearts, or drive us to a deeper love for Him, depending upon our lives and what we are doing with them. Because of this the supreme principle for our lives is to realize we are in this world not to please men, not to please ourselves, but to please God. If that is our motive for living each day, then we are directing our lives toward righteous actions whether they are seen by others or not. But God is seeing, and God is knowing all that we do and say for His Honor and His Glory.

The classic example of One who lived to glorify God in everything was Jesus. His life was lived not so men could say how wonderful He was, or to pat Him on the back; or to give testimonial dinners for Him. His life was lived completely as our example of How to live for God.

(Illustration of black preacher's widow and new home, and prostitute in it)

How is your life being lived in comparison to the life Jesus Christ taught us and showed us we should live? We must remember His words, just as though they are coming from Him this morning, "Verily I say unto you, they have their reward."

"Kingdom Living: Prayer, The Preface"

Scripture: Matthew 6:5-8

Text: Matthew 6:6

In this section of Scripture Jesus now speaks about the second basic of a religious life and this is prayer. But this block of Scripture is merely the beginning, "The Preface," if you will, to a more detailed section on prayer which will follow in subsequent weeks. This is merely a prelude which Jesus presented in order for His hearers to become acquainted with how prayer was to be used. He does this by first giving two examples. The first example is how not to pray.

To the Jew, nothing was as important as prayer. The Rabbis taught that it was something which ~~was~~ should play an important part in the life of the people. There was the prayer called the "Shema," and it is found in 3 short passages of Scripture. It is found in Deuteronomy 6:4-9; 11:13-21; and Numbers 15:37-41. The Shema derived its name from the beginning verse of Deuteronomy 6, ^{VERSE 4} and Shema means "To hear." But this Scripture had to be prayed twice a day., morning and evening. It was to be said as soon as it was daylight enough to distinguish between blue and white as the Rabbis said. But it was to be recited before the third hour which was 9 A.M. In the evening it was to be said before 9 P.M. Then there was the "Shemoneh 'esreh," prayers which were a part of the Synagogue service. The name Shemoneh 'esreh meant, "The eighteen," simply because it consisted of 18 prayers. But along with this the Jew was to pray at least 3 times daily and that was at 9 A.M., 12 noon, and 3 P.M. But as is so often the case, what started out to be sincere devotion to God quickly turned into nothing more than ritual. It was something which had to be done and so it was done without meaning, without love, and became completely mechanical. This is what Jesus was talking about. When He speaks of the hypocrites he was speaking of those who made a public show of prayer. The word "Hypocrite" in Greek meant "An actor, one who was playing a role." This is what these religious leaders were doing. They were performing publicly whenever possible. They would arrange to be on a crowded street corner as prayer time approached. So at the appointed time of prayer they would assume the prayer posture. This was to uplift and spread out the arms and to bow the head. Here they would stand for as much as 3 hours, from one prayer time to another. Naturally, there were many people who looked at this outward appearance and remarked how righteous these people were, when in actuality it was nothing more than an outward show of piety to impress others of this supposed piety. Another favorite way to pray was to arrange to be in the synagogue at prayer time and at the place where there were the most people to make this outward show before the crowds. So Jesus is saying do not be like these Scribes and Pharisees, these actors. He concludes with the remark, "Verily I say unto you, they have their reward." As we said last week, rewards come either from man or from God. When the reward comes from man, it isn't forthcoming from God. Thus, when these people were praised and recognized by man, it was simply earthly praise and not coming from God.

Jesus now gives the 2nd example and this is how to pray. He says, (read verse 6). The word "closet" is from a Greek word which means a private room, or a place of retirement or privacy. In other words, Jesus is saying get apart from everything. This is the first part of the secret of prayer and that is SEPARATION. If we are going to pray properly we must separate ourselves from the things of life. This does not actually mean that in order to pray we must always be by ourselves privately locked in a room. That can and should be a part of our prayer life ~~from~~ when possible. But what Jesus is saying is that even in the midst of the busiest street you can pray. It means to separate yourself from the sights and the sounds around you and speak to God. ~~xxxx~~ ~~xxxxxx~~ This is what He meant by, "And when thou hast shut the door." We are to shut out everything which would distract us from contact with God.

But this separation from everything lets prayer take on that personal relationship which God wants with us. Notice what Jesus said: "When Thou prayest, enter into Thy room, and when Thou hast shut Thy door, pray to Thy Father."

Those are personal pronouns and should remind us that this is a personal encounter with our Personal Father.

This is the second principle Jesus wanted us to have and that is an Awareness of Who it is we are coming to. He pointed this out by saying in that 6th verse, "Pray to thy Father, who is in secret; and thy Father who seeth in secret, shall reward thee openly." We are to be aware of just who God is. He is our Father, but not only on a collective level, but that personal level as well. Just as we are to be aware of Him, He is aware of us.

But there is a danger in this which Jesus points out as we see in the 7th verse. He says, "But when ye pray, use not vain repetitions, as the heathens do; for they think that they shall be heard for their much speaking." The word, "Heathens" is the same word we spoke about several weeks ago. In Greek it is ETHNIKOI and was those who were gentiles, non-Jewish people. They were considered as being completely pagan and most of them were. But as pagans in their particular religions they used chants and words over and over again like some magical formula. Jesus said that praying in this manner is not proper to God. We cannot coax and beg, and coax and beg to receive from God. It doesn't mean that we cannot ask for something more than once. It just means we do not strive to believe that the more we coax and beg, ~~that~~ that this will effect an answer from God. We are to be aware as Jesus points out in the 8th verse, "Be ~~ye~~ not ye, therefore, like unto them; for your Father knoweth what things ye have need of, before ye ask Him."

In the midst of this we now know we must be Separate from the world and the things of everyday life and living to come before God in prayer; and that we are to be aware of who it is we are coming to. Now we need to understand that as we pray we are to have Confidence that God not only knows but He will answer. The end of the 6th verse, Jesus tells us, "And thy Father, who seeth in secret, shall reward thee openly." God will grant us answers to our prayers and we should have Confidence that this will be so. Jesus said God will do this openly, but this doesn't mean that it will be out in the open that all of the world will see it and know it. It can happen that way. But Jesus is saying that you come to God and ask for a specific answer. God will give you that "payment," or that "recompense" openly. This means that you will receive the answer and know it. Whatever you may ask, God will hear it and answer it.

(Illustration of shoemaker, Gladstone, and St. Paul's Cathedral)

If it is only a whisper, God hears it and answers. But His answers are in His way and in His time. This is important. If we understand that God wants the very best for His children, then the fear we may have of His not caring about us should be removed. And when this fear is removed we have Confidence to come to Him and ask of Him. This confidence in turn could very easily let the blessing fall from Him much like Dwight L. Moody received.

(Illustration of Moody and crying out, "Stop God.")

When we pray we must separate ourselves from the ~~things of this~~ world, we must be aware of who we are coming to, and we must seek Him in confidence. Then the words of Jesus let us experience that Preface to prayer.

"But thou, when thou prayest, enter into thy closet, and when thou hast shut thy door, pray to thy Father, who is in secret; and thy Father, who seeth in secret, shall reward thee openly. For your Father knoweth what things ye have need of, before ye ask Him."

"Someday, Yesterday, Or Today?"

Scripture: 1 Kings 1:5-7 New American Standard Bible

Text: 1 Kings 1:6a

Today we are going to depart from our ~~study~~ continuing study in the Sermon on the Mount. But we are not going to be looking at Mother's Day ~~with~~. I believe ~~that~~ one of the most serious problems we face in society today concerns the ~~family~~ breakdown of the family structure. I believe that indirectly the concentration and pre-occupation with the observance of singling out a certain family member has ~~xxx~~ contributed greatly to the problem. I am referring to observing Mother's Day, Father's Day, and so on. This in turn has led to seeking so called "Rights" and "Liberties" for all sorts of individuals and groups. Much of this has done nothing more than create a break in the basic structure we have known as "The Family."

King David was the greatest king that Israel ever produced. His name is still revered and spoken of in the most glowing terms when we think of the characters of the Old Testament. But King David rose to those heights at the expense of his family. He may have won the wars and battles which made and kept Israel powerful and strong, but he lost the war in his own household.

We just read a few verses from 1st Kings chapter 1 as our Scripture this morning and this Scripture points us to several others. As we look at this ~~portion~~ portion of Scripture we discover that David is about 70 years old. The beginning of the chapter tells us that he was "old and advanced in age." David had a son named Adonijah and he was the oldest living son. In this Scripture we read that he was determined that he was going to take over the throne. He believed that he was right in seeking this. First of all, his father was old and had to step down. Then he was the oldest son and the oldest son succeeds his father on the throne. So he set about making provisions to do just that. There ^{was} ~~is~~ only one problem with this, he had never consulted his father David about it. But the interesting thing we read of him is spelled out in the first part of the 6th verse. We read, "And his father had never crossed him at any time by asking, 'Why have you done so?'" He was raised without the fatherly intervention of David in his life. As these events began to unfold before the aged monarch his mind must have wandered back to ~~many~~^{some} earlier days in his life which at the time were nightmares just like this one which was ~~now~~ starting.

~~David's first~~ The beginning of David's problems we find recorded in 2 Samuel the 12th chapter. David had committed adultery with Bathsheba the wife of one of his soldiers. She had gotten pregnant and when David could not resolve the problem by making her husband look like the father, he had him killed in battle. Now he is confronted by the prophet Nathan. Nathan speaking for God points out to David as we read ~~in the~~^{at} starting ~~in~~ the 9th verse, (read this); Then he adds the promise which was going to haunt David the rest of his life in verse 10 through 12, (read these). Then we read of the consequences of his deeds in verses 13 through 20, (read these).

But this is only the start of his problems. David had a son named Amnon and he became involved in an incestuous relationship with his sister and Absalom, Tamar's brother killed him for this. David made no move to take action against Amnon and this started his problems with his son Absalom. So Absalom goes into self-imposed exile for 3 years. ~~Absalom makes arrangements through Joab to~~ ~~return to Jerusalem, but King David will not permit him to come into his~~

Joab makes arrangements through a woman speaking to David to have Absalom return to Jerusalem. David permits this, but on the condition that Absalom is not welcome in the presence of his father. For two years Absalom lived in Jerusalem without being able to see or talk to his father. So he arranges through Joab to have an audience with his father the king and with this recognition he sets about seeking to overthrow his father. David is forced to leave Jerusalem and we read in the 15th chapter verse 30 of his anguish over this turn of events. (Read this verse). So Absalom is now in control of his father's household and we read of the fulfillment of part of what Nathan had said to David as found in the 22nd verse of the 16th chapter, (read this).

It now becomes necessary that Absalom and his army be overthrown and David makes the necessary arrangements to do so. He passes out orders for his men to deal kindly with Absalom. In his flight, Absalom's horse runs under a tree with overhanging branches and Absalom is caught by the head in the branches and this is how David's general Joab finds him. So he kills Absalom and sends back word to King David. When He is informed of this turn of events we read of King David in the 18th chapter of 2 Samuel, verse 33, (read this). But it is too late. Any parental guidance or instruction is now too late. David had been so busy carving out Israel as the major military power of his time, he neglected to carve out a family to properly carry on the family name.

This is where we find ourselves in our society today. In every family there are the telltale signs of parents and children trying to deal with our modern day problems. All sorts of things are calling and vying for our attention that can or will divide us and separate us as families. The pressure of work is exerted very strongly. There are many legitimate cases where both parents must work and this causes many children to fetch for themselves. There are just as many other cases where both parents do not need to work and the mother is doing so simply to have more of the material things of life. This needless to say is causing an equal number of problems. Then there is the press of outside activities, not only for the parents but for the children as well. What normally was the time when most families got together, ~~was~~ the evening meal time, is now a time of split and run. In all of these situations choices must be made and too often the choices are not made according to what God would have us do, but instead what we ourselves want to do.

All of this is leading modern day parents, and even children to look to the future and say, "Someday, someday." Dr. Charles Swindoll wrote ~~an~~ a book which he entitled "Where Life Makes Up Its Mind," and in that book is an excerpt he calls, "Someday." I'd like to share that with you. (Read this article)

Our somedays have a habit of coming to the point where we are looking at life differently and we have the opportunity to look at the present as well as some "Yesterdays" too. Elise MacLay wrote some poetry in a book called, "Approaching Autumn," in which she depicts a man of seventy speaking and then his wife. This is how it goes, (Read "He" and sHe" from this).

We cannot undo the past, and we may be looking at what we may call "Someday" thinking or believing that when they arrive all problems will be gone. We may even be looking back at yesterday, wishing we could relive those moments. But what we have is today. Today is our opportunity to make those "Somedays," or "Yesterdays" events that we can look at and be happy about them. Today is our moment to capture the love that God wants each of us to have in our family. You may not have any family you can identify with, but you have the family of God. I'd like to ask for us to close our service with our last hymn and during that hymn if you'd like to recommit yourself and your family to the Lord to please come forward. We can do this as husband and wife, or parents and children, or just individuals to God.

"Prayer: To Whom?"

Scripture: Matthew 6:9a

Text: Matthew 6:9a

Jesus had explained in the 4 previous verses to our Scripture for today a prelude to actual prayer. Then He proceeds to give a model, or a pattern for prayer. This prayer it is believed was given on two different occasions. The account in Luke is given by Jesus in response to a request by His disciples for a lesson on prayer.

We are going to look at this prayer and examine its parts separately rather than lump it together. As we look at the first part of this prayer, which perhaps we could call the salutation, there are some definite things we need to know about prayer which these words will reveal to us.

Back in the 5th verse Jesus began by saying, "And when thou prayest," and then He went on how not to pray. In this 9th verse He states, "After this manner therefore, pray ye." Here is the example of how to pray. The ~~first~~ 5th verse and following verses stresses the negative, and here we are dealing with the positive. This is important from the standpoint that to the Jews, prayer had developed into a negative thing for them. It wasn't because God wanted it that way, it is just that they had evolved prayer to this status. To the Jew God was looked upon as being a national God rather than a personal God. In other words He was the God of the nation; it was He who was concerned about keeping the destiny of Israel on the right track. But as for being personally involved in the lives of the individual Jew, this was unthinkable. God had become more and more remote until the very mention of the name YAHWEH, which is what He was called, or perhaps Jehovah, the mention of His name was considered blasphemy. That is why when Jesus called God, "Father" they were shocked. They had had this relationship many years before in the lives of Abraham, Isaac, Jacob, Moses and so on. But they had lost that personal identity with God through the years. So Jesus states, "After this manner therefore, pray ye; Our Father." We should take note that the preceeding Scripture talks about the things others did and now Jesus is not talking about how we should dress, or how we should position ourselves for prayer, or ~~what~~ where we should pray. He merely states, "when you pray, say, Our Father." But we must define our terms at this point. Jesus taught to pray, "Our Father." This means that He is not to be looked upon as belonging to anyone person personally. By that I mean He is not just mine, or ~~ours individually~~ yours individually, He is ours collectively. In all of this prayer, the personal pronouns do not appear. It is "Our" and "Us". But the word "Our" is used to distinguish just whose God He is. No one who doesn't know Jesus Christ as Lord and Saviour should dare to pray this prayer. This is the prayer of those who are the children of God, and we only become children when we are reborn into the family through faith in Jesus Christ. ~~This should pray~~ For years the liberals have taught that God is everybody's Father, so ~~we~~ we're all children of God and thus all brothers. ~~xxxxxx~~ In the sense of creation, yes, God is ~~xxxxFather~~ the Father of everyone. But in the sense of belonging to the family, He is only the Father of those who are His children. We need to distinguish this and understand it for what it means. But we should also know the purpose of prayer. Just what does it do? James gives us an interesting sidelight on this in the 4th chapter the 3rd verse. We read, "Ye ask, and receive not, because ye ask amiss, that ye may consume it upon your lusts." He says we pray but we don't get results. Why? Because many people believe that prayer is for our benefit and when we think this we are missing the point, because then we are praying for ourselves. The reason for prayer and the reason God answers is for God to be glorified. His glory is the issue. John 14:13 tells us, "And whatever ye shall ask in My name, that will I do, that the Father may be glorified in the Son." We cannot force God, or pester Him, or con Him into doing anything. Whatever He does is to be done for His glory, not ours. If you read the prayers of the saints of the Old and New Testaments you will discover that they didn't just come to God and start requesting things from Him. Instead, they came praising His name and this is what Jesus was striving to show what prayer should be. His suggestion for prayer begins by acknowledging just who it is we are coming to. Coming to God in this manner, "Our Father," establishes a relationship and this is what our prayers should be all about.

(Illustration of Billy Sunday story, minister & little girl, mother 9 to 10)

We may not know any results of what the praying of this mother did, but one thing we can be certain of and that is God was glorified because He had a prominent place in that family's life.

But Jesus added to, "Our Father," the words, "Who art in heaven." This was and is necessary to show that God is something special. He isn't confined to the earth which would make Him limited in power. Nor is He confined to heaven either. The Jews understood that what they termed the heavens, were the home of God. It didn't mean that He was confined to one place but that He was in all and through all. This separated God from the heathen practices and worship which took place around them. For those who worshiped many gods, they were trees, and birds, and animals, and objects that could be seen usually. But HE God is seen as living in heaven and supernaturally reigning and ruling over all.

What Jesus wanted understood was the relationship which was to be established through prayer and to "Whom" it was being established. To pray as Jesus was teaching may mean that we have to re-arrange our prayer habits to conform to how God wants us to approach Him. God wants to establish a relationship with each of His children. He wants each of us to see Him glorified by what He is willing to do through answered prayer. But for this to take place we must pray. This is the reason for the "Lord's Prayer" it is our pattern for all of our praying.

Do you pray each day and not just at meal times? Are you seeing God being glorified through the answers to your prayers? Perhaps if we cannot answer affirmatively we need to make some adjustments in our prayer lives. Someone wrote an article entitled, "You and the Lord's Prayer." For each part of it he wrote something perhaps some of us, or even many of us must affirm as well. We will share these each week until we have completed the Lord's Prayer and possibly they may help us to change the directions of our prayers and our prayer lives.

Do we perhaps have to say as this man wrote:

I cannot say Our, if my Christianity has no room for others and their need.

I cannot say Father, if I do not demonstrate this relationship in my daily living.

I cannot say Who art in heaven, if all my interests and pursuits are in earthly things.

What can we say in relationship to "Our Father, who art in heaven?"

"Prayer: What's In A Name?"

Scripture: Matthew 6:9b

Text: ~~Mat~~ Matthew 6:9b

"Hallowed be Thy name," is all that Jesus said after declaring, "After this manner therefore pray ye: Our Father, who art in heaven." Simple isn't it? Or is it? "What's in a name?", we may well ask.

(Examples of modern names and what they mean if possible)

It is interesting to note that in Old Testament times the naming of persons was taken more seriously than it is today. To name them was not just to give them something which made it possible to tell one from the other, but instead, to tell of the essential part of the person so named. The name of the person revealed something about that person, but also was thought of as influencing the bearer. The Jews quite often wanted their sons identified with their God whom they worshiped. The personal name for God which was not ~~spoken~~ spoken but was written and known was "YAHWEH" as we said last week. The shortened form of that was "Jah," and quite often was the suffix of a sons name. Hezekiah, Jeremiah, Adonijah, are examples of this. There are many more examples which we could add to this list. But the names had meaning and purpose. But did you ever wonder why God in His Word had those records of genealogies put down in writing? I believe the answer is that it identifies individuals and individuals to God are important. ~~God said to Moses, "I know thee by name."~~ God said to Moses, "I know thee by name." (Illustration of little boy praying, saying, "How did you know my name?) He was ~~speaking the truth that truth really~~ speaking the truth that truth really  means that He has a ~~personal~~ personal interest in each of us. That should fill us with a sense of awe to know that the God of the universe knows you and me by name and wants to have that personal relationship with us which we spoke of last week.

But to the Jew the word "Name" meant something other than just a title ~~by~~ for God. ~~which means that He has a personal interest in each of us.~~ It meant the essence, the character, the entire being of God. All of His attributes. In the Old Testament we find the word "Shem" which mean "Name" 864 times. In the Psalms alone it is found 107 times and ~~in~~ it speaks of God in their own special way. Here are just a few of those 107 references.. (Read from Psalm 5:11; 7:17; 8:1,9; 9:10). In each of these the word "Name" signifies ~~the~~ all that God is, which cannot be contained in just simply the Name God, or Father, or Yahweh, or Jehovah.

~~So then how are we to approach the one we call Father of God Jesus said, "Hallowed be Thy name."~~

~~In the Bible God is called by many different names.~~ In their search to suitably describe Him, the authors of the Old Testament books called God by many different names. These are some of them, (Examples of these names)

But the greatest name in history which God has ever been given is "Jesus Christ." The name means, "Saviour, Master, and King."

But even though we do not refuse to use the name of God, Jesus has said that we should use it in a certain way. During the time of the hippie culture, an irreverent hippie supposedly addressed the Trinity as, ~~"Daddio, Laddio, and the Spook"~~

"Daddio, Laddio, and the Spook." That is definitely not to be our approach to God. Jesus said we are to pray, "Our Father, Who art in heaven, Hallowed be Thy name." The word "Hallowed" has a special significance. It means "to be Holy, set apart." It comes from the Greek word "HAGIOS" which means Holy.

A believer is to be seeking after holiness, or seeking to be HAGIOS. You may recall the story of God appearing to Moses in the burning bush. The instructions given to Moses at that time were, "Put your shoes off from your feet, for the place whereon thou standest is holy ground." It was "set apart," it was "Holy,"

"Hallowed ground." The implication in what Jesus is telling us is that we recognize that the Name of God is set apart from the ordinary. It has to do with much, much more than just taking His name in vain. It means that we come to Him in reverence and that is what is expected of us. To reverence God we must know who He is. That is what Jesus was saying when He told us to pray,

"Our Father," and that is who He is. Hebrews 11:6, says, "He that cometh to God must believe that He is." If we don't believe that He exists, or we doubt that He will listen, or answer, or is even concerned, we cannot reverence Him.

To the pagans surrounding Jesus their gods couldn't be revered because they were on the same plane as the people. They supposedly killed one another, were alious, committed adultery and other immoral acts and so on. How could a god such as this be revered. But do you know of Almighty God being like this?

He is Truth. And truth is absolute. He is Love and love wants the best for those who are loved. These attributes of God give us the evidence we need to reverence God.

But we are to also be obedient to God and His will for our lives. To reverence Him and then disobey Him is to nullify the Hallowing of His name. Paul tells us in ^{his first} ~~the~~ letter to the Corinthians 10:31, "Do all to the glory of God.2

Dr. John MacArthur says, "True worship begins with God, forgets self and glorifies Him." ~~Textxxxxxx~~ We can only glorify God by how we live these lives.
When we pray, "Hallowed be Thy name," we are recognizing the Holiness of God, that He is set apart from everything and everyone; We are recognizing ~~thatxHx~~ all of the attributes which separate Him from all else; that His Name for us loved and revered.

Can we honestly say all of this? Is God all of this to us? The author who wrote the article we used last week and which we will use every week while studying the Lord's Prayer, also has another gem for us to look at this week.
He says, "I cannot say Hallowed be Thy name, if I who am called by His name, am not holy." How do you stand in relationship to "Hallowed be Thy name?"
Are you striving to be holy even as He is holy?

[illegible]

THE ABOVE COME AND UTTERLY MEAN IT

"Prayer: Whose Kingdom?"

Scripture & Text: Matthew 6:10a

As far as we know, Jesus had told His followers ~~to pray~~ when praying to pray to God and He identifies Him as, "Our Father."; He has added "Who art in heaven," to show definitely who this is; then He added, "Hallowed be Thy name," indicating that God is Holy and set apart from ~~all~~ everything else. And now He adds to that prayer, "Thy kingdom come." Here are merely three words both in the English and in the Greek and yet we could not begin to cover it completely in dozens of sermons. The most we can do is to scratch the surface and let each person wrestle with its complete meaning.

When we begin to look at "The Kingdom" we must direct our thinking back to the Old Testament. King David was moved to build a Temple for God. But God would not permit him to do so because God said he was a man of blood. ~~But God did~~ ~~promise him that from his line would come~~ In 2nd Samuel 7:12-13 we read, (Read).

Here God is promising that a son would come from David's line who would reign ever. He would establish a kingdom which would never end. This is the promise of the Messiah which means "The anointed one." This was to be a King and this is exactly what Jesus was. ^{He} ~~This~~ was asked over and over again, "Are you the king which is to come?" To make this clearer to what God's plan may have been we can look at one of these words in Greek and have a better understanding of the entire phrase. The word which is translated "Kingdom," in the Greek is Basilea and it means "Rule," or, "Reign." Words often lose their true meaning in translation and it may well be that Jesus was saying we should pray, "Thy Reign come." Of course we can't be certain of this, but it would make more sense since this is what we are looking toward.

As a result of not understanding this properly our prayers sometimes take on the aspect of asking God to let our plans, our ideas, our little kingdoms be advanced and furthered. The times in which we presently live have been identified by some as the "Me generation." This is because everything is being ~~fixed~~ focused on individual "rights" and privileges. This is the basic selfish motivation of man, to take care of himself first, and everyone else is secondary.

But who should be honored and glorified by these lives which we live? Is it ? Or is it God? God of course is the answer. He didn't create us for us to tower above Him in power and glory. He created us so that through our lives He would be glorified. What does the prayer say throughout? Is it My name to be hallowed? Is it My kingdom come? Is it My will be done? Of course not.
It is THY name, THY kingdom, THY will and so on. But as long as we continue to seek our own selfish whims and desires praying THY goes against the grain.
God sent Jesus Christ to establish this kingdom ~~of~~ which we are to pray for.
But Jesus showed that there are three aspects of this Kingdom. First He showed that it embodies the past. In Matthew 8:11 we read, (Read this). He includes Abraham and Isaac and Jacob. The kingdom includes them and all of the other saints of ~~the~~ God's history in Israel.

Then Jesus showed that the Kingdom is present. In Luke 17:21 we read, (read this). The kingdom is within the life of the believer. It has already come one respect.

Then Jesus showed that it is to be future as indicated by our brief Scripture this morning, the first part of the 10th verse. "Thy kingdom come," asking for it, and anticipating its arrival. All true believers should be anxiously awaiting the arrival of Jesus Christ to overthrow the present God of this world and to establish His ^(JESUS CHRIST'S) perfect kingdom on earth.

But the most important aspect of the "Kingdom" is that which should concern each of us personally. It always comes back to the personal level no matter how much we may wish to avoid this. The preaching of Jesus followed closely on the heels of John the Baptist. If you recall John the Baptist preached, "Repent, for the kingdom of heaven is at hand." Jesus came preaching, "Repent, for the kingdom of heaven is at hand." Both of them were speaking of the need for an individual ~~to~~ to look at his life and to do something about it. That demands an act of our will. In Mark 12 there is an example given of a Scribe asking Jesus about the commandments. Because he is able to show an understanding of them, Jesus said to him, "Thou art not far from the kingdom." What He was actually saying was, "You have the head knowledge of what this is all about, but you don't have the heart knowledge." This is how it is with many of us. We know the pat Sunday School answers to the questions of Christianity, but we don't have Christ reigning in our hearts. This is what we are actually praying when we pray, "Thy kingdom come." We are asking Jesus to come into our hearts and our lives and take up residence there. We are to be converted. This means we repent of what we once were and turn around and go in the opposite direction which would be toward God. We should never pray, "Thy kingdom come," if we are refusing to have Jesus Christ reign in our hearts.

(Illustration of Tommy Tarrants)

This is the illustration of far too many in the Christian Church today. We have taken the commitment to Jesus Christ far too lightly and then we express amazement that our lives are not much different from the ungodly people we see around us. But all of this can change if we are willing to look at ourselves in this light and then to repent of our present lives and begin to really ask God, "Thy kingdom come," and mean it.

Let us look at it from the personal viewpoint of our unknown author with his thought for this portion of the Lord's prayer, "I cannot say Thy kingdom come, if I am unwilling to give up my own sovereignty and accept the righteous reign of God."

"Prayer: whose Will?"

Scripture & Text: Matthew 6:10b

By adding to this pattern for prayer gives us phrase after phrase which when taken out of the context of the entire prayer cause some concern. ~~My~~ All of us have ~~prayed~~ prayed this prayer for years, time after time, and yet how often have we questioned what it really means. Or more importantly, ~~how~~ did it, or does it have any meaning for us when we do pray it? Or is it merely the prayer we use as the stop-gap measure to close meetings and end a so called, "Spiritual time of coming together."

Jesus determined that His hearers were to be aware of to whom they were praying. That is the reason for saying "Our Father." Then the Father needed to be understood from the context that He was special and so Jesus added, "Who art in heaven, Hallowed be Thy Name." Then the "Prayer," had to have something in his "Prayer" for which to pray. Jesus added, "Thy kingdom come," which we found to be not so completely easy to understand. This is now followed by something ~~only~~ which is equally an enigma and that is, "Thy will be done." How do we determine what is God's will?

According to the standard of the world, the answer is simple. Here is the formula: God has provided us with everything and ~~down~~ through history He has revealed the Church to be His guide for the lives of those who belong to Him. Thus, if we just follow what the Church tells us, or reveals to us then we will know the will of God. It is somewhat like playing "Follow the leader."

This is a pointed example of how following the leader can lead us astray. God has given us the Church, yes, but we must be individuals in the Church and constantly strive to live our lives in accordance with what God wants, not what individuals within the organization extol us to do. At this point of knowing God's Will we become individualists because God's complete will for my life, is not exactly what He wants for your life. There are points of similarity, but ~~your~~ His will for you, is not His ~~will for anyone~~ complete will for anyone else. Here is the danger of praying the Lord's Prayer as a group. It merely becomes words, and nothing ~~more~~ more. Each time we pray it, the words should the purpose of making us aware of what God wants for us individually and that is what we should pray it.

To begin to determine how we can understand God's will for our lives and that we can actually pray, "Thy will be done," we must have some understanding of what God's will is. Can we know it? Is there a way of determining what His will is for each of us individually? I believe there is and the Apostle Paul has pointed this out in many Scriptures. But one which tells us this is found in the 12th chapter of Romans verses 1 and 2.

(Read verse 1). Here Paul is saying that we must surrender ourselves completely to God if we are going to know His will. That means we think of offering up our very bodies as a sacrifice to Him. It means that totally, completely we give ~~ours~~ ourselves over to Him.

The next advice of Paul is that we are not in conformity to this world, but are transformed by the renewing of our minds. The Greek word for transform, or transformation is, "Metamorphosis," and can be likened to a caterpillar who weaves a cocoon and is transformed in that cocoon to emerge as a pretty butterfly. A metamorphosis or transformation has taken place. This is what must happen to us. We are to be transformed into what God wants us to be. This must take place in the form of a dramatic change.

The purpose for all of this is so that we may be able to "Prove what is that good, and acceptable, and perfect, will of God. But for us to understand the determining of the Will of God we should have an idea of how to go about it.

A few years ago all sorts of things were given to which God could be likened to. I had and probably still have in that ~~maxe~~ which is my desk at home, a list of these things people had compared God to. A few of them were, "God is like coca-cola, He is the pause that refreshes; God is like life insurance, you're in good hands with Him," and so on. To that list I would add that God is like the three A's. Those who belong to the Three A's know that they may be out late at night and run out of gas, or have a flat tire and a call to the closest Three A station will produce help. Well God is like that and I submit that instead of the three A's standing to the American Automobile Association, they stand for three words which may produce a way of determining the will of God. Each of them begin with the letter "A."

The first word of the formula would be ~~thexword~~ "ASK." We know that in every aspect of life we only learn by knowledge and experience and much of this is gained by seeking help, by asking questions. Knowing God's will for our lives is much the same way. We must ASK.

(Illustration of Christian young man praying about kissing his fiance)

We are admonished in Scripture to seek the Lord, to pray and to pray without ceasing. In all of this we are to be seeking what God's will is for our lives. We cannot do this if we have no conversations with God. God desires to reveal His will to us and if we are going to pray, "Thy will be done," we certainly must be serious enough about it to seek what that will is. We should Ask of God again and again and wait for Him to answer. When that answer, or those answers come, and they will, we must be willing to accept them. That is the second A, REPT.

(Illustration of man changing jobs, raising chicks, and planting them)

We must set about to do God's will and accept what that will is. Paul tells us in Ephesians 6:10, (read this). ~~Thexwillxexxand~~ We can expect that the Will of God is not going to be according to the ways of the world and our present society. If we believe that we can do the will of God and still maintain all of the friends and all of the present relationships we may have, we are deluding ourselves. Jesus said that when we follow Him there are those who will want nothing to do with us. But if we really mean business for God, we will take those losses, we will Accept what He wants and forget what the world wants from us.

The third A is to ACKNOWLEDGE that will whatever it may be. James tells us in His letter the 4th chapter the 15th verse, (read this). If the Lord will, that is acknowledging that He has control of my life. It is His will which is operative in me and I am willing to live each day saying, "If the Lord will," so be it. It is like adding our Amen to everything which life brings whatever that may be. Do you often question "Why did this happen," or "Why does God permit w^r and suffering, or disease," and so on? That's normal and God doesn't mind if you ask those questions. But what He wants is for each of us to know that even though these things exist and they happen to each of us, God can use them for His honor and His glory. It does not mean that God causes disease, or sickness, but He can use them as a vehicle to bring us closer to Him.

(Illustration of missionary and her illness, oatmeal, no money and saved her life) God knows what we need. In the midst of what we may feel is the worst crisis we could ever be involved in, God is there and we need to acknowledge that.

God's will is what we must not only pray for in the Lord's prayer, but we must seek it for all of our lives. In our weekly look at "The Lord's Prayer and You," we read, "I cannot say Thy Will Be Done, if I am unwilling or resentful of having it in my life." We must ASK for it, we must ACCEPT it, and we must ACKNOWLEDGE it. God's will is not a ~~plan~~ call to a plan, or to a place, or even to a special w^ok. The will of God is for us to follow the Lord Jesus Christ. And as we follow and are obedient to His Will, the revelation of what we are to do and to be will come forth as He reveals it through His ~~perfect~~ good and perfect, and acceptable will.

"Prayer: Where?"

Scripture & Text: Matthew 6:10c

The 10th verse of chapter 6 is actually two thoughts instead of three as we have broken it down. But I believe that the thoughts contained ~~in~~ ^{are} of such import that we needed to look at them separately. We saw for instance how much is involved in striving to understand the Kingdom of God. We didn't even begin to scratch the surface on that one to cover it fully. Then last week we dealt with "Thy will be done." Again, the Will of God is something that we could not possibly cover in a ~~the~~ ^{one} short sermon. We have severed ~~the~~ ^{one} thought and made it two ~~thoughts~~ for clarification and our Scripture for this morning is the second part of this thought. Jesus said, "In earth as it is in heaven." But let us make that thought complete and add the prefix to it so that we read, "Thy will be done in ~~the~~ earth as it is in heaven." In this manner we get the complete meaning.

~~It must be noted that~~ As we look once again at this pattern for ~~the~~ prayer we note that we are praying for something to happen. We must ask, "Where" is this to take place? Just what is it we are praying for? As a thought or idea located within the context of the Lord's Prayer it is just another phrase we repeat. But when we take it out of context we can see that it is a complete thought which we can understand more fully when we look at it apart from the total body of the prayer.

We had said that when we pray, "Thy will be done," we are specifically asking that God's will be accomplished in all things. This is a separate and distinct request. But "Where" do we ask that His will be done? The words Jesus added are, "In earth as it is in heaven." So we see then that there are two definite places where we are asking for God's will to take place. Now how can we pray that God's will may be done in heaven? Can we honestly pray that something may take place in heaven and God will change something in heaven for us? The answer is of course not. The reason is simple. Who is in ~~control~~ control of heaven? God is! Who makes the decisions there? God does! Is He going to permit mere man to change and alter things there? Of course not.

God has permitted man to have almost full sway with the world in which we live, but He is not going to let man tamper with heaven. That is God's still perfect and complete domain which remains pure and clean and spotless, unpollutable by the thoughts and devices of man.

When God created the heavens and the earth He created angelic beings to serve and worship Him. Among them was a leader named Lucifer, who we are told was the most beautiful of the angels. He organized ~~an~~ a following of angels and they sought to oppose God's plans and so God expelled them from heaven. We find a part of this recorded in the book of Isaiah chapter 14:12 and following. This is the record of the one we call Satan. This is proof that God will not permit His abode to be tampered with. We should know something about God's heaven which perhaps we may never have thought about. We have said that God is in charge of it, but what takes place there? In the book of Nehemiah we read ~~after the wall was repaired~~ that after the wall was repaired, the Levites began to praise God. In the 9th chapter the 6th verse we read, (read this verse). We are given a clue here that "All the host of heaven worshipeth Thee." This is the purpose of any and all who inhabit heaven with God. This will be our joy someday to do likewise. David wrote in Psalm 103:20, "Bless the Lord, ye His angels, that excel in strength, that do His commandments, hearkening unto the voice of His word." How many wills are there in heaven? Only one and it is THE will of God. So when we pray, Jesus didn't say, "Thy will be done in heaven as it is in earth." It was just the opposite because Jesus knew there was no doubt about God's will being done in heaven. But God's will ~~isn't~~ was not being done ~~in~~ in earth during Jesus' time, and it isn't being done in earth in our time. So the prayer remains a realistic asking that God's will may be done in earth as He has it done in heaven.

But I believe there is another deeper meaning to this petition than we ever really think about or see in it.

(Illustration of wealthy Texan and gift of bird for mother's birthday)

The man who purchased the bird, knew the purpose of that bird was to talk, but his mother viewed that purpose in another way. I believe that Jesus had two purpose for us to look at in this petition. The first purpose I believe was to view the praying for God's will to be done in earth, that is, the entire world; the place here, this planet on which we reside. But I believe there is a more meaningful purpose as well.

If we look at the prophecy of Jeremiah, the 18th chapter we read that he was instructed to visit a potter. ^{Beginning} ~~looking~~ at the 1st verse we read, (read verses 1 through 4).

(Illustration of Philip Keller & story from book, "A Layman Looks At The Lord's Prayer," as read from MacArthur's, "Jesus' Pattern For Prayer.")

God showed Jeremiah that the vessel which was made was marred, and the potter made another vessel from it as verse 4 points out. Then God spoke to Jeremiah and said, (Read verse 6). "As the clay is in the potter's hand, so are ye in Mine hand," saith the Lord. When we pray "Thy will be done in earth," I believe a part of that is to ask for God's will to be done in this EARTH, which is our bodies. ~~xxxx~~ Can we not see that this is perhaps the main purpose for praying "In earth?" Sure we want to pray for the whole earth. But isn't it the purpose of living this life to get this "Earth" ^{THIS BODY; THIS LIFE} in a proper relationship with God? Our searching look at ourselves tells us, "I cannot ~~xxx~~ say On earth as it is in heaven unless I am truly ready to give myself to His service here and now." Are we willing to merely be a finger bowl or common piece of pottery? Or are we seeking to be a fine piece of China. Let us as we pray, truly be able to pray, "Thy will be done, in this piece of earth, so that You O Father, may be able to fashion it as You fashion Your will in heaven."

"Prayer: Our Needs"

Scripture & Text: Matthew 6:11

Now we come to a portion of this Lord's Prayer which contains three petitions. The Prayer has thus far been one of acknowledging God and who He is; praying for His kingdom and His will; and now we come to the part where specific things are asked of Him. As we look at these three petitions we may wonder why Jesus put them in this specific order. It's rather strange that He would have us ask for physical needs before we ask for spiritual ones isn't it? But Dr. Lloyd Martin Jones suggests that it fulfills the requirements of our lives. The first petition, "Give us this day our daily Bread," fulfills the requirement of the body. The second petition, "And forgive us our debts as we forgive our debtors," fulfills the requirement of the soul. And the third petition, "And lead us not into temptation," fulfills the requirement of the spirit.

This morning we are going to look at the physical requirement to be fed. It is easy for us to understand the need to ~~be~~ utter this prayer in the time of Jesus because there were many who lacked daily bread. The times and the conditions were radically different. In our well stocked and well fed society it is natural for us to pray, "Give us this day our daily bread?" It is true that many during the time when Jesus uttered these words were needy, and it is true that today things are altogether different. But is it true to say there was a need then to pray in that manner, but there is no need today? The answers to these questions are rather startling when we examine this petition closely. The Bible gives us a very vivid illustration of God answering a petition such as this many years before Jesus ~~at~~ spoke these words. The illustration is found in the lives of the ancient Israelites as they were traveling to the Promised Land. Let us turn in the Bible to the 16th chapter of Exodus and look at this illustration.

The Israelites had been free of Egypt for approximately one month when this incident took place. This is where we pick the story up, verse 1 through verse 3 tells us, (read these verses). They were not in a position to stop and begin to settle into the land, because they had to reach the promised land first.

So they were dependent completely upon the providence of God. But at this point they were lashing out in anger at Moses and Aaron. Actually, they were rebelling against God, but they didn't have the nerve to shout and curse at Him. But God heard their cry and we read of His lovingkindness to them in spite of their anger and frustration. In verses 4 and 5 we read, (read these). We see from this that God is the source of food. He knew of their need and He ~~was~~ was going to provide for it. God is the source of the supply. Even in our day of well stocked shelves and pantries in our homes we need to acknowledge that all of it comes from Him. We don't think of it in this light because we work at some trade or occupation, get paid for that work, take part of that money and buy the food necessary to feed ourselves and our families and it has been our efforts which have produced all of this. Someone has said that when more people were farmers it was easier to know that the food came from God. But when we became more city dwellers ~~the~~ going to a store to buy the food and knowing the food was processed and produced in factories tends to make us forget where it originates from. Even though we may not grow it, and even though it is not directly placed on our tables by the hand of God, it still comes from Him. When we pray, "Give us this day our daily bread," we are acknowledging that, "God, you are the giver of my life, my food, my clothing, everything," and it becomes a prayer of thanks at this point because we recognize Him as the source of it all.

But there is another element to this which God also dramatically proved to these Israelites. Moses and Aaron passed on the information to the people which had been given them by God. They were going to get bread in the morning and meat in the evening. This was the promise from God. So we read in the 13th and 14th verse, (read these). In the 15th verse we read they questioned what it was, (Read this). The name "Manna" means simply that. "What's this?" For 40 years they were supplied with "What's This?" and they ate it and lived. Moses gave the instructions as we read in verse 16, (read this). But the miraculous thing about this is what verses 17 and 18 tell us: (read these). They each had enough food for themselves and their families. If they gathered a little more than an Omer, in the end it was just the right amount. They couldn't stand in the field with a scale or a measuring device to get the exact amount. An Omer was about 7 pints. So if a fellow took $7\frac{1}{2}$ or $7\frac{1}{4}$ pints, in the end God made it just ~~right~~ the right amount.

But as usual there were those who refused to do what they were supposed to do and we are told this in verses 19 and 20, (read these). But God even made special provision for them because of the Sabbath and we read of this in the 22nd through the 26th verses, (read these). God proved to them that He could and would give them just the right amount needed. No more, no less. It was their "Daily bread." This is what God wants us to pray for and this is what He promises. It isn't more than we can possibly use, it is "enough for today." But we can see the bountiful blessing of God when we can see that He has made it possible for us to ~~have~~ store food in cans and boxes, or refrigerators and freezers. This is more than "Our daily bread," and we should be thankful and grateful for that.

But as we look at God's provision we also see that there are those in the world who do not have enough to eat and there are famines and imbalances of food in the world. How can we explain this? We should understand that there are conditions which prevail which cause these things. In the 37th Psalm, David gives us a good picture of this. In the 3rd verse we are told, "Trust in the Lord and do good; so shalt thou dwell in the land, and verily thou shalt be fed." If you are one who believes and you seek to be righteous, you will be fed. There are promises to the righteous and the promise for the unrighteous is judgement. The 18th and 19th verses tell us this, (read them). David states in the 25th through the 27th verses, "I have been young, and now am old; yet have I not seen the righteous forsaken, nor his seed begging bread. He is ever merciful, and lendeth; and his seed is blessed. Depart from evil and do good; and dwell forevermore."

The problems and conditions in the world are not caused because the world cannot produce enough food. Indira Gandhi has said, "There is enough resource in India to feed that nation entirely and then export two-thirds of all that it produces." Only 15% of the harvestable land of the world is being farmed and only half of that every year. The problem is not lack of resources, it is not too many people, it is a spiritual issue. Psalm 34:18 tells us, "Behold, the eye of the Lord is upon those that fear Him, upon them that hope in His mercy, to deliver their soul from death, and to keep them alive in famine." God has met the needs of people in supernatural ways. But usually He meets the needs of His people through other people. In our nation not everyone is a Christian. But because of our Christian roots we seek to feed even those who are not Christian and they receive blessing because of Christians. In India for instance Hinduism is the main religion and of the 660 million people there, 15 million die each year. Is this caused because of lack of food? No. They have as many as 330 million deities. Everyone has his own. The supreme one goes by 3 names Vishnu, Brahma, or Shiva and under them comes ~~xxx~~ an abundance of gods personified in the cows. The cows are supposedly incarnations of the gods. They are then the center of worship. Everything which comes from a cow is sacred including its excretions. To a Hindu, to kill a cow is worse than cannibalism. Cows eat 20% of the food supply in India. They have rest homes for cows who no longer can give milk, Not for old folks, just cows. And cows eat enough for seven people. 15% of the food supply is eaten by mice ^{AND RATS} and you can't kill mice ^{AND RATS} because you might be killing a relative.

What is causing death ~~by~~ of vast hordes of people in India is not lack of food, it is paganism. Hinduism is a person striving to work from one level to another until finally Nirvana is reached. You cannot and do not help a beggar because each person is supposedly working their way out of their condition. There is no regard for human life. So it is paganism which is causing their problem and this is true of many parts of the world. To those who acknowledge God as the source of life and substance, He supplies their needs. Each day is a new day to acknowledge this and that's what the prayer is, "This day, our daily bread." Can we pray, "Give us this day our daily bread?" Our search within our hearts

should be ~~xx~~ "I cannot ~~pray~~ say Give us this day our daily bread without exerting honest effort for it or by ignoring the genuine needs of my fellowmen."
Let us truly acknowledge God as our source of all things and seek His providence on a day by day basis.

"Prayer: Our Pardon"

Scripture: Matthew 6:12, 14-15

Now come to a subject in this pattern Jesus has given us for prayer which causes problems for everyone. It has to do with forgiveness. Just this past week a young lady was asking me about knowing God's forgiveness. I believe that all of us take backward glances in our lives which cause us to remember past sins. If we rest secure in the Lord we know that He has forgiven those sins and remembers them no more. But if we don't know that complete forgiveness which He not only has provided, but assures us of, then we have gnawing feelings of guilt which can rob us of the joy that can and should be ours. Medical science is today investigating many illnesses from the standpoint that they are induced by guilt. ~~One~~ The head of a large British hospital has said, "I could dismiss half of my patients tomorrow if they could be assured of forgiveness." This is sad when we can know and experience forgiveness because God has provided it.

There are two examples from Scripture I would like to share ~~with~~ this morning that hopefully will help us as we wrestle with this phrase, "Forgive us our debts as we forgive our debtors."

The first example concerns King David. He had fallen into sin, terrible sin. He had committed adultery and then had committed murder. David was inspired to write what we know as the 51st Psalm in which he asks forgiveness. David believed in God, he loved God, he had received redemption from God and in the 11th verse we read, "Cast me not away from Thy presence; and take not Thy Holy Spirit from me." God's presence was still with David and he knew this and so was ~~not~~ ~~Holy Spirit~~ God's holy spirit. What he was asking was that God would never desert him or leave him. In the 12th verse he says, "Restore unto me the joy of Thy salvation." He knew that God hadn't taken ~~that~~ ^{salvation} away from him.

was asking that he might again know the joy that is to be found in that relationship. David ~~had~~ has given us the example of what is necessary and that is to confess sin, to be repentant and because of this to receive the forgiveness of that sin or sins and along with the forgiveness have the joy of being free from the weight and the guilt of sin. To know the forgiveness of God and then to continue to worry about past sins is to make God a liar. God says that He will forgive and remember those sins no more and this is what He wants us to experience and to believe.

(Illustration of elderly man, judged guilty, and judge paying fine)

This is a vivid illustration of exactly what God has done for each of us through Jesus Christ. We stand guilty before God. Guilty of sin and wrong doing. God judges us guilty, but then He gets off the bench and paid the penalty for sin through the body and blood of Jesus Christ.

So we ask God to "Forgive us our debts," but there is more to it. We must add, "As we forgive our debtors." This makes God's forgiveness conditional. It doesn't mean that we get saved, or get salvation because we forgive someone. We actually cannot begin to forgive anyone ~~before~~ if we are not a Christian. How can we ~~forgive~~ do a righteous act before we have a righteous nature? So to make this clear Jesus added to this phrase the thought that is found in the 14th and 15th verses, (read them). Incidentally, the difference between "debts" and "trespasses" is a matter of formality. Trespasses is ~~more~~ a more classical way of saying "debts." Matthew who was more on line with the common Jewish people and the word "debt" not only meant the owing of money, but it meant also "Responsibility." Therefore, it goes much deeper than just an obligation. Verses 14 and 15 are ~~being~~ a re-iteration of verse 12, and are for believers, but also are to serve as a ~~an~~ warning to unbelievers. A good example of this is to be found in the 18th chapter of Matthew. Jesus gives an illustration of this very thing. Peter came to Jesus and asked Him a specific question about forgiveness as we read in verse 21, (read this). He probably had a specific case in mind. Peter probably thought he was being very lenient by offering to forgive 7 times. But Jesus amends this, (read vs 22).

Then He begins by relating an interesting story, in the 23rd verse, (read verses 23 and 24). A talent was roughly worth about a thousand dollars. So on this basis the servant was a real scoundrel for he owed the king approximately ten million dollars. The debt is more staggering when we understand the buying power of that 10 million in those days as compared to our day. In all probability ~~to~~ to amass such a debt a man would have had to be gambling with the money. The point of the story is the enormity of his debt. For this debt the king began to take action ~~an~~ verse 25 points out, (read this). But the servant begs forgiveness, (read verses 26 and 27), and receives it. But now we see what that servant does in return to someone else, (read verses 28-30). But he doesn't get away with it as we read the remaining verses of this chapter, (read verses 31-35).

Who is the king in this parable? It is God. And ~~who~~ guess who the servant is? It is all of us. A part of this parable has to do with the unsaved in Jesus' audience that day. But His disciples were there as well and the message was also for them. It demonstrates the huge debt that we owe to God, and He has forgiven that through the shed blood of Jesus Christ for each of us personally. With the forgiveness we in turn need to be forgiving to any and all who owe us a debt.

(Illustration of little black girl praying for her school tormentors each day). Are we willing to do this. Sometimes ~~we~~ people will not speak to us to even let us explain that we are forgiving. But we can speak to God and ask His forgiveness through prayer. Can we say I can pray this part of Jesus' pattern for prayer? Or must we say, "I cannot pray forgive us our debts as we forgive our debtors. If I continue to harbor a grudge against anyone."

I look for miracles ev'ry day
And I meet them all along the way
You, too, may find them most anywhere
When seed is planted in humble prayer.
His grace is sufficient to bring you thru Believe His Word and what He can do!
With faith in God thru each trying hour
Hold fast to His Hand and feel His Power.
I cried unto Him my Friend Divine
The blessings came down and Heaven was mine!
Events took place to prove His great power.

"Prayer: Our Protection And Praise"

Scripture: Matthew 6:13

have now traveled through the Disciples Prayer, the actual pattern for prayer which Jesus gave and which we call the Lord's Prayer. Phrase by phrase we have looked at the content of what Jesus was trying to say.

We now come to the conclusion which is contained in this 13th verse of the 6th chapter. Actually it is ~~xxx~~ in two parts. The first part speaking of "Our Protection," and the second part speaking of "Our Praise.

As we look at the first part of this last petition we immediately see a dilemma. We read, "Lead us not into temptation." But in James chapter 1, verse 13, we read, "Let no man say when he is tempted, I am tempted of God: for God cannot be tempted with evil, ~~neither~~ neither tempteth He any man." This is the brother of Jesus speaking and what he is saying seems to contradict what Jesus had said. But then we read also in James chapter 1, verse 2, "My brethren, count it all joy when ye fall into divers temptations." This creates not only a problem, but a paradox. On one hand he says we are not tempted by God and on the other he says we are to rejoice in temptations. Which is it? Can a righteous God such as Our Father honestly tempt us and bring temptations into our lives? When we look at the example of Jesus we see that He asked to have His cup removed from Him when He knew that He had to suffer and die. Yet He went through that test and we read "He endured the cross for the joy that was set before Him." So just what is it we are praying for?

We are praying this because we ^{are to} recognize that we are sinners and we live in a fallen world and we are actually praying, "Lord, deliver me from all of these things." ^{We are seeking God's Protection at this point.} The word "Temptation" should be translated "Trial." It means a test. It is a word that is used several times in the Scriptures and each time it does not mean exactly the same thing. The world around us is falling and continuing to collapse each day. But the darkest world is found in the spiritual realm. Here man is turned completely away from God and the evil that man can contrive is much of what besets each of us everyday. It is this that we are asking God's Protection from. We not only realize that the outside world can and does bring temptations, but there is also the danger of the temptations which come from within. Each of us know fairly well what we are strong on but sometimes we may not be so aware of what our weaknesses are. We may know them, but we want to sweep them under the rug and forget about them. ~~XXXXXXXXXX~~ For instance, we may see a brother struggling with a problem which we know we do not have and we cannot understand how he can have that temptation since it is so easy for us to avoid it. Paul admonishes us ~~XXXXXXXXXXXXX~~ ^{that} when we think we are standing to take heed lest we fall. The temptation or trial our brother may have may never bother us at all, but we may have a temptation or trial which is no problem to some other people. Each of us has weaknesses and given the right opportunity and the right circumstances we may succumb to that weakness and this why we pray, "Lead us not into Temptation."

(Illustration of breach of Great Wall of China)

The only Protection we can have from Temptation of any kind is from God.

King David wrote in the 73rd Psalm, verses 25 and 26, (read this). He recognized that in his own strength he could do nothing, but with God he had all of the help and Protection he needed.

But as in the other petitions, this one has a second part to it also. We ask of God, "Lead us not into temptation," but we also ask, "But deliver us from evil." We recognize that living in a fallen world, we can fall victim not only to its Temptations but we can fall victim to the ruler of this world Satan. So in essence we are asking, "But deliver us from the evil one." Our prayer at this point is to be kept from temptations and from the tempter. But it doesn't mean that we will never go through Temptations or Trials. But what we should also note is that God will use those Trials to strengthen us and let us grow through those trials. The Apostle Paul speaking about this very thing assured the people of the church in Corinth, and we find this in 1 Cor. 10:13, (Read this). God will never let us bear more than we can possibly bear. God will always provide the way out. We must trust God to do that and accept the trials which come our way as a further strengthening of our faith.

And now Jesus closes this Pattern of Prayer with what amounts to a Doxology. Biblical scholars have pointed out with evidence that Jesus probably never said this part of the prayer. It is quite possible that a later copyist added the words. Some manuscripts have it and some don't. The argument ~~that~~ in favor of Jesus saying this is that the Jews would never have closed a prayer on a negative note.

But whether you want to believe it was originally given by Jesus or not, makes no difference to me. All that I know ~~is~~ that I see it there, I believe that Jesus probably said it, and it has meaning for me. It sums up all of this great prayer and it gives me an outline to which I can look for any and all of my prayers. To me it is not just a stopgap prayer to plug in at the beginning or the close of a meeting. Or a prayer to be uttered following the sermon to let everyone know it is now that time of the morning to go home.

To ~~me~~ the proof of Jesus using this doxology comes from the Old Testament. King David, shortly before he died, had the people of Israel assembled together in Jerusalem. At that time he gave them his final words concerning his son Solomon as his successor. He told them of the provisions he had made for the House of the Lord. Then he gave thanksgiving to God before all the people. We read this in 1 Chronicles 29: starting at verse 10, (read this). Then he begins a doxology as found in verses 11, followed by 12 and 13, (read ~~the~~ these). This closed David's life and reign and I believe that Jesus chose to close his prayer in this manner.

What does the Lord's Prayer mean to us? We should be able to pray this last part as honestly as we should the other portions. Or perhaps we need to question it and say that we cannot say, (remaining quotes from illustration). All that we need is available to us in this prayer. We acknowledge God first then we ask for His help, and then we ascribe to Him what is rightfully His, our Praise.

The way to peace with God is like wearing an easy yoke and bearing a light burden because Jesus Christ carried the load—the whole load of our sins and their just deserts. We contribute nothing to the forgiveness of our sins or to the inheritance of eternal life.
Salvation is God's outright gift. He asks only that we accept it by faith. This is not to say that grace is cheap, that we are going to heaven on a free ride, for our reconciliation with God cost Jesus Christ
His life.
There are awards of grace for walking in Jesus' footsteps and for scaling the steep, rugged mountain with Him.
You have a glorious view. You cannot help but admire

"Kingdom Living: Fasting"

Scripture: Matthew 6:16-18

T t: Matthew 6:18b, "And thy Father, which seeth in secret, shall reward thee openly."

In this block of Scripture Jesus comes to the third point involved in Kingdom Living. If you will recall, at the beginning of this chapter He began by ~~speaking~~ ~~ing~~ pointing out that Jesus was giving the basics for righteous living. This we said was divided into three sections. There was first righteous actions. Jesus identified this as the giving of alms, and the outward show displayed by those who sought the praise of men. The second section had to do with prayer and we have just completed that by an indepth look at the Lord's Prayer. Now we come to another righteous action and this has to do with fasting. Jesus began this particular teaching ~~by~~ immediately following some added remarks about forgiveness. He had been giving the pattern for prayer with the ~~Six~~ Disciples prayer which included asking for and giving of forgiveness. Then He added additional words about forgiveness stressing the importance of it. And it is interesting to note that immediately following that He begins to speak of the ritualistic observance practiced by some people.

He stated, "Moreover when ye fast, be not as the hypocrites, of a sad countenance." Jesus is not condemning fasting at this point, He is merely condemning the manner of doing it. The word "Hypocrite" in Greek means, "An actor, someone who is acting out, or playing a role." This is exactly what the Pharisees were doing. In the original Jewish Law there was to be only one day set aside for fasting in the ~~the~~ entire year. That day was the day of Atonement. ~~That day~~ ~~that day~~ In our society today ~~xxxxxx~~ this is called, "Yom Kippur," which means, "The Day," or, "The Great Day." This is observed ~~in~~ around the beginning of October. This is given in Scripture in the Old Testament book of Leviticus chapter 16, verses 29 through 34, (read this). The fast lasted from dawn, ~~from this xxxxxxxx day~~ when it was light enough to distinguish ~~the~~ a white thread from a black one, until sunset. There was to be no eating or drinking, no entertainment, nothing was to be done. From this one observance of fasting it evolved that the Jews were required to fast on two other occasions. The next observance was the day before Purim which was the feast to celebrate the deliverance of the Jews during the time of Queen Esther. The third fast was to ~~celebrate~~ commemorate the fall of Jerusalem to King Nebuchadnezzar in 586 B.C. So now there were three fasts to be observed. But then certain Jews who wanted to be more pious, in particular the Pharisees, decided that weekly fasts were the thing to be doing. So they began to fast on ^{Monday and Thursday} ~~Mondays and Thursdays~~ of each week, ~~plus the three national fast days~~. The reason being, this is when Moses Ascended and descended Mt. Sinai. This is the state of affairs regarding fasting which was prevalent in Jesus' time. He wasn't against fasting, He was merely against the form and ritualism it had taken. He was speaking mostly against the Pharisees and their followers, the actors, or hypocrites and He gives the reasons for speaking against them. First, He said they were of a sad countenance. They deliberately looked sad and forlorn, so people knew they were solemnly ^{observing} not eating and drinking that particular day. Then He said, "For they disfigure their faces, that they appear unto men to fast." They would color their faces with some sort of white powder or paint so that they stood out in a crowd. And this is where they were to be found, in the crowd. Where the people were the thickest, that is where the Pharisees were to be seen wandering about, with ashes on their heads, their clothes disarranged, their faces whitened, looking sad and downcast, mumbling to themselves, and it was all to be seen by men. Jesus added to His comments, "Verily I say unto you, they have their reward." If you recall when we first started this chapter we told what this saying meant, and that was man receives either of two rewards. One is from God and the other is from man. If a man sets out to win the "Man of the year" award, or some other public notariety, he may well receive it, But that is only a reward from ~~any~~ man, it is not from God. We are either honored by God, or by man, and we "get the ~~reward~~ reward we seek," is what Jesus is saying. Now Jesus gives directions for fasting and He says, "But thou, when thou fastest, anoint thine head, and wash thy face." In those days soap and water were not as plentiful for bathing as we have today. The means of washing the hair is accomplished by applying olive oil to it and this is what Jesus ~~is~~ meant by "Anointing" the head. The oil ~~XXXXXXXXXX~~ clean the hair when rubbed in and wiped off, and would remove ashes if the person had been in mourning, and it would not give the outward show the person was fasting. And if the face was washed clean, with no paint or whitened appearance, no one would know that person was fasting. This is the gist of this verse.

And this is exactly what Jesus is saying as He continues and we read in the 18th verse, "That thou appear not unto men to fast, but unto thy Father which is in secret: and thy Father, which seeth in secret shall reward thee openly." Here is the third time that Jesus reiterates, "Thy Father which seeth in secret shall reward thee openly." He said it first about the giving of alms, then He said it about prayer, and now He says it about fasting. Jesus was trying to impress upon His hearers that the living of the Christian life is not a show of piety so that everyone ~~XXXXX~~ knows you are doing this and they can say, "Did you see Mr. So and So, my isn't he a righteous man." We can look at the Jews of Jesus time and shake our heads and say, My weren't they super zealous in trying to impress people with their righteous lives? When in actuality many of us today are acting in the same manner. The observance of Lent is a good example of what the Christian Church has done along these lines. Our forms and rituals in worship services are other examples. There are those who believe that a certain posture must be attained in order to pray effectively; others believe there is only one way you can ~~xxx~~ partake of the Lord's Supper; still others believe that only worship in a recognized sanctuary is true worship, and the list goes on and on.

But what does God really want from us when it comes to being what He wants us to be? God answered ~~xxx~~ His people and we find this in the 58th chapter of the book of the prophecy of Isaiah. Turn to that chapter and let's see what God said. He tells Isaiah to speak, verse 1, (read this). Then He begins to relate how they have been acting, verse 2, (read this). This verse speaks of the formalism their worship had attained, but it was not true worship, it was merely ~~an~~ an outward show. They even got to the place where they equated what they had done, and asked God why they weren't blessed through it, verse 3a, (read this). But God tells them how their worship has been affecting them, verse 3b-4, (read this). They were involved in bickering and fighting within their worship and sanctuary and it wasn't pleasing to God at all. Doesn't it strike familiar chords to read of an ancient people before their God and to know their modern counterparts are acting exactly the same?

God then goes on to question what He really wanted from them and what He received ~~instead~~ instead, verse 5, (read this).

And then He tells them what He expected from them, and what He expects from us as well, verses 6-7, (read them).

This is exactly what Jesus was striving to teach His followers.

(Illustration of "Facing the music")

The entire theme of this Sermon on the Mount is just that: to face the music. For us to examine our lives as we are living them daily and strive to compare them to the complete pattern as given to us by Jesus in this sermon. How are we measuring up? Are we willing to change, or will it be everything as usual because we refuse to do what God wants us to do?

(Illustration of "Make me like Joe")

Are we willing to become "Joe's" in our lives, so that people will see what we do and say and how we live and come closer to the Lord because of us? Or are we only interested in the outward show of attending church and never being altered or changed by anything we do or say ~~there~~ or hear there? The words of Jesus are ours today just as they were to a group of people standing ~~in the~~ or seated in the sun on a hillside in Galilee 2000 years ago. "That thou appear not unto men to fast, but unto thy Father which is in secret: and thy Father, which seeth in secret, shall reward thee openly."

"Kingdom Living: God Or Man?"

Scripture: Matthew 6:19-24; Text: Matthew 6:21

Jesus has laid the groundwork for what we could call "Kingdom Living." His words have been given for believers, for those who are a part of His Kingdom.

He now goes into more detail concerning the love that a follower either has for God, or for the things of man. This block of Scripture like so many others contains a wealth of information which could be gleaned by many sermons. It is actually somewhat of an injustice to confine this section of Scripture to just one general message.

Perhaps to understand this completely we need to understand God's creation of man. ~~We learn from Scripture that man was created with a body, a soul, and a~~

~~spirit.~~ When Jesus was asked what the greatest commandment was, He answered

"Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, with all thy soul, and with all thy mind," Matthew 22:37. ^{priority of order} The ~~order~~ of these things is not really the way God originally intended them to be. We learn from Scripture that man was created in the image of God. This means that within man are some of God's attributes, or some of His likeness. The one thing man was given was a mind,

~~he~~ and with that mind he could function close to God. If you recall the life of Adam and Eve in the garden, they were able to discern God's presence and it is explained they heard "God walking in the garden." This awareness could only come about by having a likeness of God. But man fell and with that fall the mind was not the major influence in man's life. ~~and the mind was not~~ What was it now that took precedence over the mind? It was the heart. This is the order in which Jesus related the love man should have for God in a manner in which man could understand what He was saying. He said, "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, then with all thy soul, and then with, all thy mind." You see, the heart took over first place in man's life and replaced the mind which God wanted us to have as our first priority.

Now in this block of Scripture Jesus covers these three areas and in the order in which they appear, we see them as, "Heart, Mind, and Will." First we read, (read verses 19 through 21). Now why does Jesus say this? As we said the mind has been nudged out of position by the heart. ~~xxxxxxxxxxxx~~ Man is governed by his desires. Jesus said that out of the heart come murders, and adultery, and all manner of evil." This isn't what God first ~~xxxxxxxxxxxx~~ wanted from ~~xx~~ man. God gave man a mind to think things through; to reason; to consider the consequences. But man has ~~evolved~~ changed this through his fall to a matter of desiring something and letting his heart rule his decision. So Jesus is actually saying in these three verses, Let your heart rule in such a way that you are making preparations beyond this life instead of just being materialistic in this life." His words have deep meaning. "For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also." He isn't speaking of just wealth and money. He is speaking of possessions of all kinds. ^{That} ~~xxx~~ treasure may be ~~xxx~~ a member of the family, your wife, or your husband; one of your children; a pet; your house; your car; anything actually that takes precedence over the complete living of this life for God. That is what Jesus is saying about treasure.

But then He goes on to speak in terms of the mind. We read of this in verses 22 through 23, (read these). It is through the eye that we record much of what we do. The eye is the organ through which the first thoughts and ideas originate and then our minds give the result or action of those looks. In Scripture Paul speaks of the "Twinkling of an eye." Do you know what a twinkling of an eye is? It is the precise moment when the eye registers something which it sees. It is faster than the snap of a finger, but at the precise moment that the eye registers something, just that fast, the brain takes that information and registers a response to the body in ~~xxxxxxxxxxxx~~ numerous ways. For instance you may look and see a pretty butterfly floating through the air. At the exact instant that you see the butterfly, the eye relays this to the brain, and the brain in turn relays this to your intellect and you may exclaim, "How beautiful that butterfly is." Yet, your mind was giving out that information long before you expressed it. This is what Jesus was saying about the "lamp of the body," being the eye. If through our eyes we are getting good actions, good ideas, then our lives will be full of light. But if we get nothing but evil through the eye, we shall be full of darkness, (6:23). In John chapter 3, verse 19 is saying to us, "And this is the condemnation, that light is come into the world, and men loved darkness rather than light, because their deeds were evil." This is the darkness of the mind.

But there is also in this another darkness and Jesus points this out in the 24th verse, (read this). What He is talking about here is the darkness of the will. We are made aware here that the pursuit of possessions is materialism and materialism turns a person away from God. But there are people who can quote Godly things, they know the language, they may attend worship and go through the motions and have a form of godliness, but they are striving to live two lives. A good example of this is found in the Old Testament in 2nd Kings, chapter 17, verses 24-41. Verse 24 tells us, (read this). These cities of Samaria were being populated by Assyrians and not by Israelites. Then we read in verses 25 and 26, (read these). They knew enough that they didn't have the God the Israelites had while living there. So they resolved the situation in this manner as pointed out in verses 27 and 28, (read these). But what was the end result? Verses 40 and 41 tell us, (read these). We can see from this that they knew about God, they knew what they had to do, yet they still continued holding on to their other gods as well. They weren't willing to let go at that point.

(Illustration of farmer and one cow for them and one for God; God's cow died) We may find this humorous, but isn't this the way of mankind. We hear of times being bad, money being scarce and all sorts of scary things. And where is it that people economize? On the things of God. Instead of letting God prove that He will provide even in bad times and continue giving to Him what was given before, the normal reaction is to cut the contributions to God so we can pay for our other things. Man proves by this that God takes second place instead of being number one.

All of this is because of sin being a part of each of our lives. Our hearts have darkened our minds so that we cannot reason through what God desires of us. As a result we begin to live for the things of this ~~xx~~ world in preference over God. No matter how many possessions we may have, they never completely satisfy and we seek more and more to bring that satisfaction which never actually comes. Instead, it pushes God further and further away from us and our treasures are laid up for this life.

But we must remember that there will come a day when we each must depart from this life. Everything that we have gained, or amassed, or struggled to accumulate, will be left behind. And then like the wealthy man in Luke 6, we arrive in eternity and realize there is no treasure there, because we didn't strive to have it accumulate in God's eternal kingdom. What we love is shown by what we do with it. If we love the things of this life it will be shown by our complete attention to those things. And if we love God and are seeking His will, it will be shown by our dedication to Him. This day, where do we have to say our treasure is? Will it be found here on earth? Or is it awaiting our arrival in eternity because we have been sending it on ahead? Jesus said, "For where your treasure is, there will be your heart also."

"Kingdom Living: Anxiety"

Scripture: Matthew 6:25-30

Text: Matthew 6:25a, "Therefore, I say unto you, take no thought for your life!"

(Illustration of automatic plane, pilot, landing devices etc)

(Illustration of "Why things go wrong")

When we speak of anxiety, we can say we all know it in one form or another.

Jesus was well aware of this in the lives of the people He was speaking to.

He knew that a certain portion of them were caught up in the rat race of living and the press of survival caused many of them to scratch and claw for the material things of life to the exclusion of God. Our Scripture this morning is somewhat of an addition to that of last week. He begins by stating, "Therefore, I say unto you, take no thought for your life," and then He goes on to add those things of life for which no thought should be taken. (Read vs 25, the remainder). Here are the 3 essentials of life. Food, drink, and clothing.

He is not advocating a complete disregard for these things, He is just pointing out that life is much, much more than just these material things. The phrase,

"Take no thought," actually is better interpreted, "Be no anxious," and many of the newer versions have just that. Jesus was saying that there shouldn't be anxiety in the life of the believer and then He gives some illustrations of what He is striving to point out.

First, He speaks of birds in the 26th verse, (read this). Listed here are the things they do not do as contrasted to man and yet they survive. But the contrast is not between what they don't have to do but what they are as compared to man. Birds and other creatures ~~only know~~ are only created things of God. But man ~~knows~~ God as more than His creator. Once again we must point out that Jesus is speaking only to believers. Notice He says, "Your heavenly Father," This is the relationship that exists only between those who are actual believers and God. God is their Father and theirs only. To the unbelievers, the unsaved, He is only a God of wrath and ultimate destruction. But for the believer there is th t unique relationship of Father and Child. This is the difference between believers and created creatures.

From the illustration of speaking of creatures, Jesus gives another illustration in the 27th verse. (Read this). A cubit was eighteen inches. The measurement here is not one of adding to height. How many people are concerned about adding eighteen inches to their height? (Only short people of course). The measurement here is that of adding to the length of one's life. We simply cannot do it. God has a time limit set for each of us and we cannot add to it but we can shorten it by abusing the physical bodies God has given us. Medical science is claiming to increase the lifespan. But how do we account for two people let's say, going through the same heart operation and one survives and the other dies? God's plan and timing is the answer. So Jesus is pointing out that all of our anxious moments of life will not increase the length of our lives one small cubit.

He has talked of food and lifespan and now Jesus speaks of another concern as verses 28 through 30 tell us, (read these). The lilies Jesus was speaking of were probably the Scarlet Anemones which bloomed profusely on the Palestinian hills in the summer. One day they would be in full bloom and the next they were dead. Clay ovens were used to bake and cook in. ~~xxxxx~~ Dried grass and flowers were used as a fuel to heat the ovens quickly since this material gave off a very hot fire. It burned quickly and heated the oven quickly and so what was once a beautiful flower, became nothing more than fuel for the fire. The point Jesus was making in all of this was that if God showed a concern for the birds so that they were fed without working for that food; and if man is unable to add time to his life; and if the very flowers of the field were used to show first beauty and then serve as a means to cook meals with; doesn't all of this show the concern God has for His children?

But even with the assurance by Jesus that God will care for His own in every circumstance we still have that tendency to become anxious about the tomorrows we each face. Jesus ended ~~this~~ these points with the words, "Shall he not much more clothe you, O ye of little faith? And there is what causes our anxious moments; our anxiety. It is "Little faith." We look at our circumstances and they seem insurmountable because we are looking at them through worldly eyes and we worry and fret and become anxious. What we overlook because we are not looking in faith, is that God will provide and sustain and keep His own.

How do you view something like this? Is your response, "My what a loss, how would they ever be able to pay for the replacement of that church?" Or is your response, "Thank God that He looked after His own in that circumstance?" The second response is what we should have and what God wants us to have. The Apostle Paul points this out in his letter to the church at Philippi in the 4th chapter the 6th and 7th verses he says, "Be careful for nothing; but in every thing by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be made known to God. And the peace of God, which passeth all understanding, shall keep your hearts and minds through Christ Jesus." In the midst of all things of life, give thanks to God for that time, and His peace will strengthen you in that time.

(Illustration of "Forgive Me When I Whine")

What are we whining about when we should be thanking God that our problems and concerns are so small compared to many others? Let us remember instead the words of Jesus when we become anxious or filled with anxiety, "Therefore I say unto you, take no thought for your life." Your heavenly Father knows your every need and will take care of it.

"Kingdom Living: Faith"

Scripture: Matthew 6:31-33

Text: Matthew 6:33

The author of the book of Hebrews begins the 11th chapter with the words, "Now faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen." He then goes on to elaborate a list of the Biblical saints and examples of their faith and what was accomplished through it. In the portion of this Sermon on the Mount Jesus is dealing with faith. In the preceeding verses which we spoke of last week, He was partially dealing with the issue of faith. But now He deals with it directly. He begins by stating, "Therefore take no thought, saying, 'What shall we eat? Or what shall we drink? Or wherewithal shall we be clothed?'" These are normal questions, but for these people they were questions of dire importance. They were living in precarious times. ~~XXXXXXXXXXXX~~ The uncertainty of work, the high cost of food, and the high cost of clothing was a gnawing concern for the majority of the people. They were living under Roman rule and were being taxed mercilessly and all of the frustrations with the system kept them in a constant state of turmoil. Today in our own age people are asking "what shall we eat, what shall we drink, and what shall we wear?" This should indicate that these problems have been around for a long time. For a certain segment of society, there are those who can cope with these problems and maintain a balance in their lives. But for the majority it becomces too much and that is what has made the tranquilizer pill industry such a strong market. People of all walks of life are gulping down pills at a record rate. Others have sought to blot out these problems through a bottle. Someone has recently remarked, "You can tell how healthy a man is by what he takes two at a time - stairs or pills." Unfortunately, too many take the pills. Jesus was ~~striving~~ trying to teach that anxiety, worry, and this is what is meant by, "Take no thought," be not anxious in other words. He is pointing out that worry is not the answer to the problems, and a lack of adequate faith is what is shown by being anxious. There is a comparison which Jesus makes at this point which should have had a significance to those hearing Him then, and for those of us who are to be His followers today. In the 32nd verse He said, "For all these things do the Gentiles seek!" The Greek word for Gentile is the word, "Ethnos" and it refers to those who are non-Jewish. But among His hearers were Gentiles, or non-Jews, but they were believers. So it isn't just Gentiles as a whole, but those who are unbelievers. You and I are considered Gentiles by Jewish standards, but we are supposedly Christian. This makes us believers and separates us from the other Gentiles in this respect. This is what Jesus was saying for He added "For your heavenly Father knoweth ye have need of all these things." There it is again as we pointed out last week. To the believer, God is His Father, but to the unbeliever God is not his Father. There is a distinct difference and we need to know this. If we profess the name of Jesus Christ and know Him as our Lord and Saviour, then we are born, spiritually, into the family of God and this distinguishes us from those who have not made that profession.

Now that Jesus has covered the subject of worry and anxiety and lack of faith, He is now ready to give the formula for all of life. That is found in the 33rd ~~33rd~~ verse. He said, "But seek ye first the kingdom of God, and His righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you." Once again Jesus includes one word which sets all of this in its proper context. Jesus spoke of priorities as no other Rabbi ever spoke. His plans for the life of a believer always had a set of priorities to them which would ultimately lead that believer in the proper direction if he was willing to so order his life. At the beginning of this 33rd verse Jesus said, "But seek ye FIRST." That word FIRST in Greek is PROTON, and it is from it that we derive our English word protocol. ~~It~~ Protocol means a certain set of priorities doing first things first, and then second things and so on. PROTON, First in Greek means that this is above all else, this is what takes precedence over everything. And this is exactly what Jesus was saying. This is what He was saying when He addressed the ~~young~~ rich young man when He told him he should go and sell what he had and give to the poor and what happened? The young man went away sad for he had much possessions and unfortunately this is the normal reaction for the majority of believers. That stuff may work for someone else, but give me tangible, ~~xxx~~ visible proof that this will work and I'll try it. And why is this so? A goodly portion of the blame must rest with trusting our lives to the care and keeping of others instead of God. We are and have been looking to the government to bail us out when we have needs. We look to social security to take care of our old age; we look to medicare to take care of our hospital needs; we look to a ~~minimum~~ lot of other programs to take care of this and that for us to the point where we exclude God from our lives. Who needs God when we have all the help available from man? And unfortunately, we have been and are passing these values on to our children and to their children. ~~XXXXXXXXXXXX~~ A good illustration of this is the cartoon which appeared in the New Yorker magazine. We have heard the remark quite frequently, "There is light at the end of the tunnel." The cartoon depicts a man emerging from a tunnel very downcast and the caption reads, "Discovering that the light at the end of the tunnel is New Jersey." In other words, whether it is New York or New Jersey its still pretty much the same and doesn't appear as much help. Jesus was not speaking of directing our thoughts and our cares for the things of this life to the care and keeping of man. Instead, He was speaking of directing all of it, FIRST to God, His Kingdom, His Righteousness, and then what will happen? (ALL THESE THINGS,) food, drink, clothing, shelter, everything, shall be added unto you. Although Jesus spoke these words long after the men of the Old Testament lived, a classic example is to be found there in 1 Kings chapter 3, starting at verse 5. (Read verses 5 through 14). Solomon sought First to be God's man and since he didn't ask for wealth or fame, God added these things to him. But do we take this as an example and strive to do likewise? I believe the answer can be found in the story of a man who went to a very noted doctor in a large city for help.

Perhaps we could paraphrase this and say, ~~"When it comes to spiritual matters~~ ~~where spiritual matters are concerned~~, "Where my spiritual life is concerned, money is no object." But would we be telling the truth? What is our faith based upon? Is it what man can do for us? Or God? Is it what we can take and use for ourselves to the exclusion of God?

Upon what do we stand today? Can we say, "On Christ the solid rock I stand, all other ground is sinking sand, all other ground is sinking sand?" Or must we answer, "I stand on the things of this world first and God comes second?"
Jesus said, "Seek ye FIRST the kingdom of God, and His righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you."

isn't easy, but it is well worth the effort. Moment-to-moment listening is important, but it is good to set aside special listening times, too. There is something about a darkened room and a drowsy child that seem to inspire confidences. A child is much more likely to talk about anything that is troubling him or her at

that person? Normally it will be, "What you say makes a lot of sense, BUT."

There is always that "BUT" which intervenes. The reason is that we can become so bogged down in our worrying, and fretting about things that even when we know the solution, we worry still more and refuse to stop. There is that "But what if, this or that happens," or, "But there may be this taking place," and so on. It is like a disease that we cannot shake and it is caused by Satan continuously inserting doubts in our minds in all areas of life.

The people Jesus was dealing with had deep concerns about their day to day living. Food, water, clothing, shelter, all of these had to met and were questionable in many respects. These were present concerns. But Jesus knew they were thinking about them in ~~regard~~ respect to what tomorrow would bring and the days beyond these. We must first of all point out that what Jesus is saying in this verse does not mean that we should not put aside money for a rainy day, or that we should not buy a life insurance policy and things of this nature. Doing these things is a wise use of what God has given us, because it helps take care of some future needs. But what He is saying is that if we become so bogged down in worrying ~~xxxxx~~ whether our stock is making as much money as it should, and reading the Wall Street Journal every waking moment, or if we worry if we will become incapacitated in old age if we will have enough to see us through to the end; these are the things Jesus is talking about. We cannot know the future. We can only live today, this moment and we should use this moment to its best advantage and we cannot do that if we are all wrapped up in worry about what we have no control over.

The classic example of this is found in the 12th chapter of the Gospel of Luke. Jesus told a parable and we start reading this in the 16th verse.

(Read and exposit verses 16 through ~~21~~ 21). It was not a matter of the man making provision for the future, but it was his living completely for the future for his ease, his retirement. Everything he had was going into his future plans but God has a way stopping into a situation and bringing it about in a different direction. Jesus' concluding words for this parable are what we should be seeking. It is seeking to be rich in the things toward God, and not rich toward rselves.

Jesus was also saying that as each day comes along it brings with it its own special problems and it is pointless to worry about problems that we are not even facing yet. Why spend needless time crossing bridges you may never have to cross?is what He is saying.

I read of a housewife named M. Annette Greenberg who told of her struggle with woory and fear. This is what she says: (Read this illustration).

This is what all of us are saying to God when we continue to worry and fret and then strive to solve those problems by ourselves. Can't you picture what an affront that is to God? He was big enough to provide for our salvation, to let Jesus die a cruel death so that we could be forgiven and live eternally with Him. But He cannot take away our worries and our doubts. But Mrs. Greenberg overcame her worries and her fears. Do you know how? By reading everything in God's word that He has to say about this problem. She began to see that God has answers for it and He showed it in other people's lives like Moses, the people wandering in the wilderness, Elijah, Peter, Thomas and many others. She ~~xxxx~~ started to study God's word. Instead of just walking around wringing her hands and moaning, "What shall I do?", she took into her hands her Bible and God answered her need. If we're having this problem, and when we face this problem, God can and will answer it and still our hearts and lives with His peace, His word. But we must learn to go to it and seek those answers.
The late evangelist Dwight L. Moody was once asked about this very subject.
(Illustration of Moody and doubts)

The author of Hebrews gives us this answer in the 13th chapter the 8th verse.
Mark this down if you don't know where to find it, Hebrews 13:8. It says there, "Jesus Christ the same yesterday, and today, and forever." That means that if we believe in Him, He is the same always, He never changes. He forgave us our sins in the past, will forgive them in the present, and will continue to forgive them in the future. He took away our doubts and will continue to take them away for all eternity. The cure for worry is not doctors, psychiatrists, pills, or anything else of man or of ourselves. The cure for worry is, has been and will always be Jesus Christ.

Are we willing to stand on Him and Him alone? Are we willing to recognize fear and worry for what it is and that is a tool of Satan to separate us from God? If we really want to overcome this insidious ~~dxxx~~ disease which can take away the Joy we should have in living the Christian life, then let us each one today, take that stand upon Jesus Christ we should have.

"The Problem Spirit"

Scripture: Matthew 7:1-2

Text: Matthew 7:2

We now come to the concluding chapter of the Sermon on the Mount. Jesus has gone through all of the different details which should mark and separate a Christian from a Non-Christian. Now He goes into a study of doctrine. This chapter deals with contrasts; the contrast of what happens when something is done one way and what the result is if it is done another way.

But the point which comes out more clearly perhaps in this chapter than the previous two chapters is that we are constantly under the watchful eye of God. Therefore, Jesus is teaching the importance of our relationship not only to God, but to our fellowman. The emphasis is not so much on what other people think of us, but instead, what God thinks of us. A large measure of the problems we face is due to the fact that we forget that there is a life beyond this one. We live as though this were the only life and the only world and thus life becomes one large plan of getting all we can from it, doing all we can to enjoy it, and in the process running things OUR WAY. But if we lived each day with the constant knowledge that we are only one step removed from the life beyond, we would take ~~our~~ these lives more seriously. Jesus opens this 7th chapter with the admonition that we are not to judge because we ourselves are being judged, and what we do on this earth is going to determine a judgement of each of us by God in the world beyond. Thus it is imperative that we begin to place our lives in the proper perspective.

We first must deal with the opening thought of Jesus when He says, "Judge not, that ye be not judged." This is a statement which has caused and continues to cause much understanding and in particular ^{within} the Christian Church. What does the word "Judge" mean? We cannot define it by just checking it in a dictionary because those meanings are of no real help. We are dealing with a spiritual issue at this point and secular thinking cannot help. But perhaps to understand this more fully we need to look at the secular life in order to see how it applies in the life of the Christian and the Church.

What could we entitle the age in which we live? Some have called it the "Now Generation, the Me Generation" and other names. But the title which fits this age better than any other perhaps is the "Age of Appeasement." This means that as we look at society today we see that whatever the situation may be, just go along with it and don't make waves. Drugs are a problem in particular marijuana but since it is such a great effort to control it, legalize it we are told. Pre-marital sex and free love and sex are choices we should be able to make. Because of this immorality teen-age pregnancies are running at all time highs, as well as an increased amount of pregnancies among all unmarried women, the solution, legalize abortion and that solves the problem. Organized groups are fighting and struggling to preserve and protect the so called "Rights" of many groups including all sorts of criminals. It isn't right to stand in their way of freedom of expression. It's considered inhuman to sentence someone to death even though he may have slaughtered and butchered a dozen or so victims. It isn't right to find a man guilty who ~~think~~ tries to assassinate the president or someone else, it's his privilege to disagree in this manner. And all of this type of appeasement has ~~created a climate in the church and in our society~~ brought about the hatred and dislike of any man who stands forth who knows what he believes and stands on those beliefs strongly, and that man is passed off as one who is impossible to get along with. This has happened in the smearing of our past presidents and leaders and continues today and yes, it is even taking place in the church. We are to embrace ~~any~~ and all who want to come into the church regardless of what they believe or what they stand for because that is their right. To do otherwise is to be guilty of judging and Jesus preached against that. But is that what Jesus taught? No it isn't. The Bible is filled with what government officials ~~should be doing~~ and judges should be doing in office. And by the same token, the leaders of the Church, the pastors and the teachers are to stand on and for certain doctrines regardless of what others in the church may say. Look at what Paul told the people in the Church in Galatia as recorded in the 1st chapter the 8th and 9th verses, (read this).

Does that still apply today? Of course it does and anyone who disputes that taking action against someone like this is judging that person needs to be thrown out of the church as well.

But is this all there is to this? I believe that from all of this we can see that making ~~judgements~~ judgement decisions in the church and the world is a necessary part of life. If we look at the second verse we can perhaps understand this much better. Jesus says, (Read this). The example He gave in the preceeding chapters was of the Pharisees. But were they really guilty of judging? Perhaps a word which would more closely describe their actions was that of condemning. They knew what the Mosaic Code said and what ~~it~~ was involved in the proper living of it. At least they thought they did. So anyone who acted in a different manner than that Law as they saw it was not so much judged by them, but condemned for it. So Jesus is saying that if you are guilty of condemning someone for something you are going to be condemned and the same ~~that~~ action you dish out is going to be dished out to you as well. The danger Jesus was pointing out was that of knowing all of the answers and having all of the solutions, but those answers and solutions brought self-damnation. Jesus was speaking of a kind of spirit in this matter. It was a self-righteous spirit which the Pharisees and others possessed. They believed they were right and everyone else was wrong. Behind all of this is the spirit of "SELF." Self-righteousness, self-ishness, pride, the sins of capital SELF. This is the "Problem Spirit" which lies within each of us. It may not be of as much trouble for as some as it is to others, but nevertheless it is still there within each of us. A true test of some of the underlying evidences of this spirit can be seen if we are willing to look at ourselves and ask a few questions. We need to ask, "Do I ever have the feeling of being pleased when I hear something unpleasant about another person? Do I take pleasure in the misfortune of someone I am not particularly fond of? Do I spread stories or tell tales ~~of~~ to someone even when I don't have all the facts? Do I make up my mind about a situation without listening to an explanation of the circumstances?"

There is an interesting illustration about this found in the 9th chapter of Luke. We read in verses 51 through 54, (read these). Then ~~Jesus answered~~ in verses 55 and 56 we read the answer given to them, (read this). Jesus is saying, in effect, "That is not your judgment to make, that belongs to God." This is the "Problem Spirit" all of us must deal with, and that is, taking the authority and power which belongs to God and using it as our own. This doesn't mean that we must never stand forth and make judgements in certain circumstances. But it does mean that all of this be tempered in the strength of Jesus Christ. All of us were yet sinners when Christ died for us. He cleanse us and has provided a way in which we can pass from death to life. We are to live for Him, and live like Him realizing that it is His love which should consume us, and not the "Problem Spirit" of this world.

Scripture: Matthew 7:1-5

Text: Matthew 7:3-5

Last week we spoke of Jesus defining Judging. But that was only one part of the subject and as He did quite often He further elaborated on the subject to carry it to its logical conclusion.

We had said that the real gist of what Jesus was saying was that it is not in our province to take the part of God. Judging is to be left to God because when we strive to take God's role we ourselves will be judged by Him.

So now we come to an elaboration of judging but in perhaps a different way. We are dealing today with the situation as we all know it. Jesus is dealing with the issue and we are all guilty of it in one degree or another because it is a part of our humanness. Perhaps we could first see it by looking at it from the direction of a little story.

This may not be our intent in many situations but as we said last week there are times when we have a tendency to play God. This is what our Scripture for this morning is saying.

Did you ever read this portion of Scripture and think of it as being humorous? Well it is. I am sure that when Jesus spoke these words His audience roared with laughter and we should too. As I think of this Scripture I believe that it would make a great political cartoon. The cartoon would picture a man from either party trying to help a man from the opposite party. One man would have a 2x4 sticking out his eye and the other man would be blinking because of a small cinder in his eye. And the man with the 2x4 would be saying, "Here let me show you how to get that cinder out of your eye. This is what needs to be done." This is the picture Jesus is giving. Partially He was aiming His witty sarcasm at the Pharisees. But He was also aiming it at anyone who has the nerve to try to correct someone else's faults without correcting his own first.

The words Jesus uses in the 5th verse are the familiar words He used at other times in this Sermon when He addressed some of them as "Hypocrites." He is speaking of some of the Pharisees and anyone who is acting out a role. As we find before the word "hypocrite" is one "who acts out a part, a play actor."

A hypocrite is one who professes to be a Christian and then continues to live and act as a non-Christian.

Jesus gives us an example of this in the 18th chapter of Luke beginning with the 9th verse. (Read this through 14th verse). We see here the Pharisee condemning the tax-collector. He is judging him. Since some tax-collectors were crooks and cheats, all of them were crooks and cheats. These are the conclusions we as humans are so quick to arrive at. The world is searching through the rubble of smashed hopes and dreams today as it never has before. Perhaps for the first time since the depression of the 30's. For many people life is taking on a somber meaning for the first time. It is no longer fun and games, it has become a struggle for survival and because of this people are looking for values. They are not seeing them in the secular or business world and many of them are turning their eyes to the Church. What are they seeing? Are the people who name the name of Jesus Christ within the Christian Church giving them the values they so badly need and so badly crave? Or are those Church people giving them the same values they see in the selfish materialistic society around them?

(Illustration of lady in New York City and her worn hands)

Are our hands worn from service for Jesus Christ or is it just lip-service we are giving? Are we willing to stoop to the task of being servants using as our example the One who said, "I came not to be ministered unto, but to minister and to give My life a ransom ~~me~~ for many?" Or have we thus far in our Christian walk seen fit to let everyone else do it? We witness for Jesus Christ by what we do for Him in and through His Church. It is by our actions that we speak for or against Him.

But it is also through other means that we witness to clear vision for Jesus Christ. A movie of the first Jews to return in 1948 to begin the new state of Israel brings a part of this out very clearly. The movie was entitled "Exodus."

In that movie, Paul Newman who in real life is a Jew, portrays a man who is working with the British Army and British authorities to get several ships of Jews unloaded and settled in their new homeland. He portrays the role of a Jewish official but it is not common knowledge in the film that he is a Jew. In one scene a British soldier standing with others on the pier is making anti-Semitic remarks. Paul Newman overhears what is being said. A part of the soldier's remarks have to do with him saying, "I would know one of these Jews anywhere. I can spot them a mile away." Another soldier asks how he can do this, and he remarks, "By their eyes, you can tell by their eyes, that's how you can tell if they are Jews. I know one by looking at his eyes." At this point, Paul Newman pretends that he gets something blown in his eye and he turns to the soldier and asks him to have a look at it. The British soldier looks in his eye to find the speck, and unwittingly is looking into the eye of a Jew and does not recognize that he is a Jew. He remarks that he cannot see anything and Paul Newman pretends that it has been removed.

We witness to our blindness by our attitudes toward others of a different race or color. We can point out their faults, their peculiarities that make us superior to them and in this respect we see the speck in their eyes, and ignore the beam in ours.

We can often find ourselves in a position where we do not have all of the facts, and yet we may draw conclusions that may hurt or harm the character of someone who is perfectly innocent. Paul spoke to this very issue as once again we find it recorded to his letter to the Galatians chapter 6, verses 1 through 3, (read these). What Paul is saying is identical to what Jesus said. We are to think and act spiritually toward everyone and not look for the specks in their eyes, while we are overlooking the beams in our own eyes. The solution which Jesus gave is to first remove the beam from our own eyes and then we can help our brother with his problem. This calls for self-surgery. If we are to be witnesses for Jesus Christ we must recognize that in everything₁₁₇ we show forth our true love for Him. By our actions, by our attitudes and by our mouths we either show we truly are His Disciples, or we show we are disciples of the god of this world which is Satan. If it requires Self-Surgery to accomplish this, then we need to ask Jesus to help us to really begin to live for Him. He stands ready to help each of us regardless of who we are or what our station in life. Are we willing to make that decision today?

"Spiritual Discrimination"

Scripture and Text: Matthew 7:6

As we look at this one verse of Scripture it appears to stand all by itself and to interject a different subject into this final chapter of Jesus' Sermon on the Mount. You may have read it many times as I have and have thought this was the case. But upon very close scrutiny we find this is not so. Jesus had been dealing with the entire subject of judging. He had pointed out that we need to be aware that when we judge we in turn would be judged because we were taking upon ourselves the province of God. He alone may judge and if we judge, He in turn will judge us. Then Jesus spoke ~~about~~ about it being so easy to see the problems and faults of others when in effect our lives are worse than those we are looking critically at. His method of overcoming these obstacles was to suggest Self-Surgery to clear our eyesight, our outlook and then we are in a position to look at things objectively.

Now He states, (Read verse 6). This is a follow-up of the foregoing verses. This takes place after the clean-up in the individual Christian's life had taken place.

But we should also point out that if Jesus' teaching on this subject had ended with the first five verses, the final point would have been that ~~there is no judgment~~ Christians should never make judgments. But this is not what Jesus said or meant. If this is true then He meant that His Church is to ~~be~~ permit anyone to be a part of it or to come into it regardless of what they believe, or what heresy they promote. But we know from His teaching that the things of God are to be kept as clean and spotless as we can possibly make them. This is why this 6th verse is found at the end of the portion on judging. It speaks of how a Christian is to handle this problem after he has cleaned up his own act. But the point which Jesus was making was that this is to be done with "Spiritual Discrimination."

Jesus shows us examples of how this ~~is~~ is to be done. In order to understand what He was saying we need to understand this verse. What did He mean by ~~dogs and swine~~ pearls, and dogs, and swine? The "Pearls" He was speaking of

is the Christian message, the message of the Kingdom of God which He has been speaking of throughout this Sermon. But if the "Pearls" is the Christian message, is He calling unbelievers "Dogs" and "Swine.?" The answer is yes and no. Dogs in the time of Jesus were not domesticated as we know dogs today. They were the scavengers of the villages and were fierce and dangerous. They were a half-wild animal. Swine were the epitome of everything unclean to the Jewish people. Swines flesh was forbidden to be eaten by Jews and therefore, everything connected with these animals was considered unclean, untouchable. So in one respect Jesus was saying there were dogs and swine among unbelievers, but here is where "Spiritual Discrimination" came in.

Look at the examples of Jesus as He spoke to those who were seeking answers for life. The woman at the well raised all sorts of arguments about true worship and Jesus kept bringing her back to the fact that God was ^{not} so much interested in where people worshiped as He was in the ~~the~~ individual heart involved in that worship. To Nicodemus the educated Jewish leader He explained in almost childish fashion what had to take place in an individual's life to come to God. He told that it took a spiritual rebirth, so simple and yet so profound. Then when He was arrested and brought before Pilate, He answered Pilate when He was asked questions, and His answers were such that they told Pilate ~~if~~ about God and why Jesus was standing before him. Yet, when Pilate decided that it was not in his jurisdiction to hold this trial he sent Jesus to King Herod. And what happened there? Herod asked Jesus questions and Jesus never answered him. Why did He answer Pilate and not Herod? Herod should have known the answers and he wasn't really seeking the right answers, but Pilate was. Jesus knew there was a vast difference between the two and He was using "Spiritual Discrimination!" From this we can deduce that Jesus was showing there was a time and a place to be a witness. But He also showed something else.

(Illustration of farmer wanting to get rid of weeds, told to move)

This is what Jesus was showing in the example of Pilate and Herod. He was saying in effect there is a time when it is futile to tell the message of God and

His salvation. At that point it is much like giving "Pearls" to dogs or pigs. This doesn't mean of course that we ~~xxxxxx~~ refuse to speak to unbelievers of their ~~xxx~~ following incident. ~~their~~ separation from God. An example of this is like the ~~xxxxxxx~~

(Illustration of Christian, Athiest, and the Bible, King David)

The Christian spoke to that man and he heard the message. What he does with it is between him and God. But he was told of God's love for him and others like him. And that is the important thing. Quite often the opposite is found to be true.

(Illustration of man inviting stranger to go to church, never invited 7 years)

But quite often this not only happens on the inside, but on the outside as well.

(Illustration of little girl & "Do you love Jesus, Mom?", no mention of Him)

For how many of us is this true? Who do we invite to come to Church with us? Or do we ever bother to let anyone know we belong to Jesus Christ and want to share Him?

Jesus wants His followers to practice "Spiritual Discrimination" in seeking to build His Church. But He doesn't want us to be silent witnesses. People tell me all the time they cannot speak to anyone of their faith, yet if you involve them in a subject about sports, or the weather or something similar they can talk ~~fm~~ at length freely and openly. WHY? Because many of them refuse to do the things that make anyone a witness for Christ. Reading and studying the Bible takes time; so does praying and meditating on God. But we use all sorts of excuses to get out of it and yet these are more important than anything else we can do in this life. Of how much eternal importance will sports or the weather be in God's eternal home? The life we live here and now for our Lord Jesus is the most vital thing we can ever do and one day we will all discover that in the life beyond. Jesus gave everything including His life for us and what He asks in return is that we give ourselves to Him; and that we don't spend our time pointing out the faults of others. Instead, He wants us to straighten our lives out and then carry His message to others using the "Spiritual Discrimination" He wants us to practice.

"Supply And Demand"

Scripture: Matthew 7:7-11

Text: Matthew 7:7

In a conversation just recently, one of our members remarked that he no longer read the newspaper because of the sad, sick, gloomy news it contains. Why is it that we seem to thrive on gloom and doom? We protest high prices, we protest government actions, we protest so many things in our nation today which ~~xxxxx~~ different groups and segments of society consider wrong or bad, yet there is no mounted protest of the news media and their continual scare tactics every day. For the world which is unGodly and unbelieving, gloom and doom ~~day~~ may well be a way of life. But for anyone who names the name of Jesus Christ it should be a different story. ~~xxx~~ One of the big issues of our age which ~~xxxxxx~~ is scaring our young people out of their wits is the threat of nuclear ~~xxxxxx~~ warfare. How many of you remember how scared everyone was after World War II? And so much so that people were building and stocking underground bomb shelters. I remember one man in our neighborhood who was working very hard in Civil Defense as it was called, and he had a bomb shelter stocked and equipped, (and this was in Butler County). Listen to a few of these prophets of gloom: (Illustrations of these predictions, Card=Future: Dim)

If we look at life through the perspective of the world we find there is no hope. John Baillie has said, (quote from him of future). This is exactly what our Scripture for this morning is saying. This is the message that is ~~the~~ spread from one end of the Bible to the other, Look at it in verses 7 and 8, (read them). This is the promise of HOPE ~~in~~ for all of life.

(Illustration of Robert Ingersoll, atheist and Lazarus being raised)

For the rest of the world it may be gloom and doom, but for the Christian there is that glorious HOPE for the Christian and these are the ones Jesus is addressing.

But this Scripture is more than just a piece of ~~xxxxx~~ psychological jargon to hyp ourselves with when ~~things~~ the dark things of life may crowd around us. We need to examine more closely what Jesus is saying.

The question is, "Does this Scripture mean that anything I ask for God will ant?" ~~For many of us who believe this~~ There are those who believe this and in a very short time they are at the point of unbelief because God simply has not answered that for which they asked. That is exactly why Jesus added more to this than just simply asking, seeking, and knocking, as verses 9 through 11 tell us. We should actually thank God for not answering all of our prayers because all of us ask for things which God in His infinite wisdom knows are not good for us and because of His love for us, He does not grant those prayers.
The entire theme of this 7th chapter concluding the Sermon on the Mount is that of Judgement. We passed through these first 6 verses and it had to do with not judging others and actually judging ourselves. Of cleaning up our own lives first. This action should make all of us realize that before God we continue to be sinful and unworthy of His love. If we are a Christian, one who has been cleansed and made whole by the blood of Jesus Christ, we are forgiven inners. But we need to know that we sin daily and we are in ~~need~~ constant need of God's help. So it becomes a matter of "Supply And Demand". God has the "Supply," and we are to have the "Demand," or the desire for it. This is what asking, seeking, and knocking are all about. Jesus gave a ~~parable~~ parable in Luke 11 as an illustration of this. (Read Luke 11:5-8).
Asking, seeking, and knocking for the Christian are contained in striving to derive what God has for us. That is why reading, studying, meditating on God's Word is important. We are seeking Him through His written pages what He wants us to have in our lives. A Christian should search God's Word every day of his life. Worship should be a vital part of a Christian's life, it is another means of seeking God. Bible ~~study~~ study groups, prayer groups, Sunday School classes are all means of Asking, Seeking, and Knocking for God's Supply for our lives. It is a persistence to really want to know God and have more of Him in our daily lives. This is the "Hungering and thirsting for righteousness," which Jesus pointed out in the Beatitudes. It is the "Demand" we should all have and then we will be filled.

But the question is, do we know God as our Father in our lives? ~~Not only know~~ ~~through~~ There is only one way in which God actually becomes our Father, and that is through being born again. When you receive a new nature then you become God's child and not before. This is what Jesus is trying to explain in the 11th verse. Look at it. He says, "If ye being evil," which means that is your old nature. And if in that old nature you, "Know how to give good gifts unto your children, how much more shall your Father which is in heaven give good things to them that ask Him?" You see, God wants to give us of His "Supply," but He cannot if we are not His child. WE only become His child by taking on that new nature which comes through ^{Jesus} ~~Jesus~~ Christ. Then God will give of His Supply to our demand, because He loves us and wants the very best for us. God will never give you anything evil, never. Jesus makes this comparison between man and God to show that God is loving. Verses 9 and 10 He points out, "Or what man is there of you, whom if his son ask bread, will he give him a stone? Or if he ask a fish, will he give him a serpent?" No earthly father would act in this fashion. And neither does God.

Have you been asking, seeking and knocking and there seems to be no answers? Is it perhaps because you are not God's child?

~~God wants to give us~~ We may see the disorder of our lives and may not know how to put it all together. Only the One who has made us, can put us together. Invite Him into your heart today and let Him fix us. His is the "Supply," what He wants from us is the "Demand."

"Self, Others, God"

Scripture: Matthew 7:12

Illustration of cartoon from Saturday Review of man & puzzled doctor ~~xx~~ and)

~~Things are pretty bad when no one knows what to do.~~ What do you do when even those who should know what to do don't? This is the predicament man has found himself in from the beginning of his existence in the Garden of Eden. God had provided the answers all along, but no one was listening. When He came to earth in the person of Jesus Christ He gave the answers, but still man refused to listen and even in our most advanced society man does not know what to do.

We have been looking at the answers Jesus gave to those who were His followers and to those of us who want to be His followers today. The answers are easier read than done, but they are available if we seek to follow Him.

In this last chapter of His Sermon on the Mount He has thus far given us guidelines to prevent us from judging others by showing us that we need to look at ourselves first. Then He instructs us the proper giving of the things of God to others. And then He gave instructions about being persistent in seeking God's help and direction for our lives. Now He comes to what appears to be once again an isolated verse from all of this. But once again we must add that it is not isolated, instead, it ties all of the foregoing verses together. The first thing we see as we look at this verse is the word, "Therefore." A Seminary professor taught that whenever the word "Therefore" appears in Scripture, we should look to see what it is "There for." So as we isolate this word and look at it we see that the verse states, "Therefore" followed by a comma. This means that the word "Therefore" is separate from all of the rest. The comma is an indication that we are to pause at this point. "Therefore" sums up all of the foregoing verses and now we look at the rest of the verse to see what the real meaning of the foregoing is.

Now what follows is the admonition, "All things whatever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even to them; for this is the law and the prophets." Here for the first time is the positive way of saying this. Many, many Jewish teachers, scholars and Rabbis had said it negatively. But Jesus was the very first to say it positively.

Involved in this saying which is called "The Golden Rule," are three elements. They are: Self, Others, and God. God actually supercedes all, but to look at this saying in its context we must start with self.

Jesus said, "Therefore," meaning all of that which I have stated before this, now comes to this point and that is, "All things." The word for "all things" in Greek is Pantas and it means, "The whole, all the whole, everything, the entire substance." With this in mind then it becomes, "Everything that ye would desire that men should do to you, do ye even so to them." If we acted and reacted in this manner it would change the whole course of life for all of us. The rule of thumb for each of them is to constantly put ourselves in the other fellows place. ~~XXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXX~~ Almost all of us carry around with us an unwritten list of our likes and dislikes. This applies to all things of life. We know what we like in the way of food, or clothing, but we also know what we like and do ~~not~~ not like ~~in~~ in the area of our relationships with other people. Do we like to have people treat us like infants? Do we enjoy being made to look like a fool? Do we like to have people gossip about us, or say untrue things about us? Do we like to be ridiculed in any way? Do we like our families to be treated shamefully? Do we like ~~not~~ to be reminded of our faults and have our mistakes thrown up to us? The chances are if we dislike all of these things, so does anyone else. So Jesus is saying, "If you dislike all of these things being done to you, or said about you, then remember that your fellowman doesn't like them either. So treat him exactly as you want to be treated. We must deal with our selves first and then when we have done that, we can deal with our fellowman because we have taken care of our own doorstep.

The second part of this Golden Rule is others. In order to understand "Others" we must once again understand ourselves. It keeps coming back to ~~us~~ each one of us personally. Why is it that we have all the problems in this ~~world~~ life?

Why do we see all of the problems of this world multiplied more today than at any other time in history? The answer lies in the heart of man. The answer we as humans will frequently give is that it is the other fellow who needs to be straightened out, not me. It's "Him." Then when He is straightened out, everything will be fine. But will it?

All of this goes back to the creation of man. God provided him with a perfect environment to live in but he wasn't satisfied with that, he had to have more. And so we ~~have~~ had what we call the fall of man. But who caused it? Why it was her Adam said. It was the serpent Eve said. Always it is the other person who is at fault. And what causes the continued fall of man?

(Illustration of little boy and eating all the cake, not thinking of sister)

Here is the answer/ Man is self-centered. Everything revolves around him, or so he thinks. And he can find all sorts of excuses for why he is the way he is.

(Illustration of zoo creatures, & descended from monkeys, Card:Human Nature)

It is someone else; it is environment; it is parents; it is fellow-workers; it is everyone else but ME.

So how do we resolve all of this mess? We go back to the beginning. We go back to God. It ~~has~~ must start with Him. He is Holy and we are sinners. This is the point we must come to. We must see ourselves as sinners in the hands of a Righteous God. Then when we see things from this perspective we are made aware that our lives need to be straightened out and we see things in their proper perspective. Then we begin to think of other people; their needs, their feelings and the other things that make up their lives where we can help. If each day each of us would seek to help someone who needed help, regardless of who that person was, the Golden Rule would start to become a reality for us. We would forget self, and concentrate on being of use and service to others. But as long as we sit around and brood over our problems and ailments, our lives will be strictly self-centered. Jesus not only gave us the Golden Rule, but He also gave us another illustration with the parable of the Good Samaritan. How often do we have the opportunity of being of real help or service and we let it slip away? And then how many times do we berate ourselves for not helping? Have you ever driven by a woman standing helplessly by her car with a flat tire and passed by on the other side? Did you ever think that ~~may~~^{could} happen to your wife? Have you ever watched while a neighbor perhaps struggles with a heavy load and you never offered to help? Did you ever stop to think maybe ~~xxx~~ someday you would be in those shoes and wish for someone's help? This is what Jesus was saying. Get self out of the road. If you truly love God as you should, you will see your neighbor as someone whom God also loves and seek to do and act toward that neighbor, as you want him to do and act in your life. "Therefore, all things whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them: for this is the law and the prophets."

"Intersection: Broadway And Turnstile"

Scripture: Matthew 7:13-14

Probably one of the most well known intersections in our nation, if not the entire world is Broadway and 42nd Streets in New York City. It is at this point that all of the glamour and glitter of New York's nightlife emerges, emblazoned in neon lights and marquee signs. It has well been called, "The Great White Way." All of this is to detract and distract any and all who happen along. ~~xxxxxx~~ The purpose is to appeal to the individual's desire to be entertained, to be amused, to be wine and dined, and perhaps behind all of this to be separate from the world for a time and forget life in general. But I don't believe we need to travel to New York City to encounter an intersection of much more importance. I believe there is an intersection that each person comes to at which he or she must make a choice. This encounter may take place at any point of the individual's life. There is no definite time nor age we can set for this encounter. All of this is in the hands of God. But I believe that Intersection could be called "Broadway And Turnstile." The road of life as we each live it could well be compared to those super-highways we have today which we know as "Interstates." I think we are all familiar with ^{THE} broad and spacious means ~~they offer~~ ^{THEY OFFER.} of travel. They are well marked and well lit to direct us to the proper exits and turnoffs. But picture if you will traveling on ~~this highway~~ a highway such as this and the name of the road is Broadway. As you travel down that well paved highway you are in the midst of the crowd. You're surrounded by smiling happy faces. Everyone seems to be in a festive spirit. Everyone seems to be hurrying to get to where they are going. As you travel along you see the very brightly lit exit signs giving information of all kinds. Each exit only takes you ~~xi~~ off Broadway for a short piece and it is there that you find whatever it is you are seeking. There are exits for fun and pleasure, exits for profit and gain, exits to satisfy every whim of any and all. ~~ME~~ As you make your exits and ~~xxxxxxxxxxxxxxBroadway~~ spend some time in making your selections for life, you then get back on Broadway and discover that the crowds are still there,

"Intersection: Broadway And Turnstile"

Scripture: Matthew 7:13-14

I believe there is an intersection that each person comes to at which he or she must make a choice. This encounter may take place at any point of the individual's life. There is no definite time nor age we can set for this encounter. All of this is in the hands of God.

But I believe that Intersection could be called "Broadway And Turnstile."

The road of life as we each live it could well be compared to those super-highways we have today which we know as "Interstates." I think we are all familiar with ^{THE} broad and spacious means ~~they offer~~ ^{THEY OFFER.} of travel. They are well marked and well lit to direct us to the proper exits and turnoffs. But picture if you will traveling on ~~this highway~~ a highway such as this and the name of the road is Broadway. As you travel down that well paved highway you are in the midst of the crowd. You're surrounded by smiling happy faces. Everyone seems to be in a festive spirit. Everyone seems to be hurrying to get to where they are going. As you travel along you see the very brightly lit exit signs giving information of all kinds. Each exit only takes you ~~xi~~ off Broadway for a short piece and it is there that you find whatever it is you are seeking. There are exits for fun and pleasure, exits for profit and gain, exits to satisfy every whim of any and all. ~~xi~~ As you make your exits and ~~xxxxxxxxxxxxxxBroadway~~ spend some time in making your selections for life, you then get back on Broadway and discover that the crowds are still there, and the wide open well-lit road stretches out before you. But at some point on Broadway you come to a dimly lit exit. It doesn't have all of the advertisements of allurements and pleasures the others have had. It isn't a wide sweep off the main highway such as the others. In fact, it is only a very narrow lane with a ~~turnstile~~ "Turnstile," which only permits one person at a time to enter the exit. There is something about this exit which is appealing and yet, it requires a great decision to be made.

Instantly, the comparison begins. On one hand is the beautiful, smooth, wide well-lit, well-marked Broadway. On it are many, many friends, even relatives. There is the lure of life at its fullest and best. There is the chance to take a chance, or gamble on many things. And compared to the exit with the "Turnstile," there just is no comparison. Beyond the "Turnstile" the road cannot be seen since immediately after the ~~ex~~ actual exit it ~~turns~~ turns who knows where. There doesn't seem to be any glamour or glitter beyond, so the choice is difficult. But there is something about that exit which is tempting because of ~~the~~ ^{its} vast contrast to "Broadway." There is that nagging question of will it be ~~more~~ fulfilling, more satisfying than anything tried thus far? Because of its stark lack of light and glitter to allure and attract, there is a challenge that it just might, it just might offer something never dreamed of before. There is that Call that seems to offer more than Broadway has offered thus far. Jesus extended that and extends that call. He invites, "Enter ye in at the strait gate." There is the call, the invitation to depart ^{the} from gleam and glitter of worldly allurements. But the call is to an altogether different way of life and this is the first roadblock to answer that call. For too long there have been those who have painted a gloomy picture of what life is after the call of Jesus Christ is answered. Life does not take on a negative aspect as some would have us believe. Just the opposite is true. Life becomes positive because Jesus Christ is in control. But there are those who would carry this to the opposite extreme also. They speak of all problems being done away with and life is supposedly rosy from there on out. But the truth is that when the call is answered, a search for guidance and help should begin. But what happens in a believers life when he first answers the call of Christ? Many people begin to say how much better off they were before they came to Christ. And the answer is that before they came to Christ they were living in the world, the domain of Satan. As long as they were there he had no need to worry about them. But when they answered the call of Christ he knew he lost them and so he sought to bring them back by causing turmoil and problems in their lives. And what is often the path of least resistance? The answer of the world is, "If you can't beat em, join em." And that is exactly what many people do. On the narrow winding path to be followed after passing through the Turnstile there are still exits leading to Broadway and that way was easier, and many friends are still there, so why Search? Exit Turnstile and go back to Broadway. But along with the call Jesus issued a declaration which should be the slogan for every traveler of life. He said, "For wide is the gate, and broad is the way that leadeth to destruction, and many there be which go in thereat," (Vs. 13b). That Broadway may seem the place to be with its bright lights and fun and games. But in the end it will bring destruction to any and all who travel on it.

Once the call is answered, the exit from Broadway is made, the Turnstile has been passed through and the search has begun, there should be that resolve to stay on the narrow way. Jesus gives for our motto, "Because strait is the gate, and narrow is the way, which leadeth unto life, and few there be that find it," (vs. 14). There is life at the end of the twisting narrow way, and destruction lies at the end of Broadway. Which will it be?

This is the plight of the world today and we can't have it both ways. We can't live for Satan in this life and expect to live with God hereafter. Perhaps some of you this morning have been struggling to answer the Call, or perhaps you may have answered it, but life may have gotten worse. Jesus gives us the comparison and we can't say we haven't heard of it, or been told of it. That comparison is, "Destruction," of, "Life." Which will it be? Broadway, or the antistile exit?

Someone has written, "He who prepares for this life but not for eternity is wise for a moment, but a fool forever." "Enter ye in at the strait gate: for wide is the gate, and broad is the way, that leadeth to destruction, and many there be which go in thereat: because strait is the gate, and narrow is the way, which leadeth unto life, and few there be that find it."

"Non-Prophet Prophets"

Scripture: Matthew 7:15-16

(Illustration of baloonist and useless information)

This is partially what Jesus was getting at when He was speaking of false prophets. But He meant much more than just the giving of useless information. The false prophets He was speaking of gave true information, but it was their methods and motives He was talking about.

Jesus said, "Beware of false prophets, which come to you in sheep's clothing, but inwardly they are ravening wolves." Jesus was issuing a warning to His followers that these false prophets would keep them from entering the narrow gate and instead of being led to eternal life, will be led to eternal destruction. ~~by following these prophets~~. He then gives instructions how to distinguish between true prophets and false prophets by stating, "Ye shall know them by their fruits. Do men gather grapes of thorns, or figs of thistles?" It is the fulfillment of prophecy which will show whether they are true or false. The logical questions are asked about edible fruit coming from unedible products such as thorns and thistles.

A perfect example of what Jesus was saying took place in the life of the prophet Jeremiah. This incident is found in the 28th chapter of his prophecy. Let us look at this illustration.

Jeremiah had been led by God to make a wooden yoke and to place it around his neck. This yoke was symbolic of the yoke of bondage and exile the Israelites were to endure. Jeremiah was to speak to the king and tell him how the people were to submit to King Nebuchadnezzar. In the previous chapter, ~~chapter~~ ^{THE} 27TH, he warned the people not to listen to the false prophets which were in their midst. Now in this 28th chapter we read of an actual encounter between Jeremiah and one of these prophets.

Verses 1-4=Hananiah gives a prophecy which is very glowing and encouraging for the people of Israel. The prophecy speaks of the people being brought back from exile by God to Jerusalem. The prophecy supposedly came from God. Verses 5-6=Even Jeremiah says Amen to this prophecy. It certainly sounds good to all of them and it certainly is encouraging news at long last.

Verses 7-8= But Jeremiah reminds the people that many prophets of old had predicted that there would be war, evil, and pestilence the people must endure.

Verse 9=Jeremiah reminds the people that the true test of a prophet, whether he was a true or a false prophet was the final outcome. If he prophesied peace and peace came forth then he was God's true messenger.

But these words were not pleasing to Hananiah and so we read of his action in the 10th verse, (Read this).

Verse 11=Just as Hananiah broke Jeremiah's yoke, so the Lord is going to break the yoke which Babylon held Israel and others captive~~xxx~~ with . Or so Hananiah prophesied.

Verses 12-14=The word of God comes to Jeremiah to return and speak to Hananiah the real truth.

Verses 15-16=Jeremiah speaks the words of God to Hananiah and reveals him as a false prophet. For this God's judgement is upon him and he is destroyed by God.

If we examine the messages of Jeremiah and Hananiah we can make the comparisons necessary to see the difference between them. Hananiah was not an unwelcome unintelligent man. He was a priest and considered a prophet. Therefore he was respectable and listened to. Jeremiah on the other hand was not as freely accepted with his prophecies even though he was also a priest. The difference was that Jeremiah's message was one which was unpopular. Hananiah on the other hand spoke what the people wanted to hear. He didn't speak of God's ~~right~~ demand for righteousness. Nor of God's judgement of sin, His destruction of evil and the evil doer. Hananiah ~~didn't~~ spoke of God's love only. Men need to hear of God's love. But they also need to know ~~that God~~ of the Holiness, the righteousness, the justice, and the wrath of God. This is what Jeremiah preached and prophesied and for it he was ~~not~~ hated. Jeremiah saw the "Non-Prophet Prophets" around him and spoke the true message of God, but he was not heard. Jesus spoke the true message of God, but instead, the priests, the rabbis, the Scribes and the Pharisees were heard.~~xxxx~~ Martin Luther lashed out at the "Non-Prophet Prophets" of the Church of his day and for it he was e communicated and branded a heretic. Why? Because the message of the real prophet is that of truth. Karl Marx one of the founders of Communism said, "Religion is the opiate of the people." We who believe in God want to deny this.

But in all seriousness we must say there is a ring of truth within the statement.
Why is the church so ineffective today? Why is it that people are not ~~turn~~ turning to the church in difficult times as they once did? The answer is that the church is and has been ~~lulling people~~ drugging people much like opium or some other drug with a Non-Prophetic message. This movement began to really gain momentum from the turn of the century to our present day. It started as an intellectual discovery of what is called "Higher Criticism." This meant that everything of the faith has been looked at in more critical light, in more scholarly investigation. Everything from the authenticity of the different authors of the books of the Bible, to the actual words which Jesus spoke and re they His or put there by authors; the questioning of His virgin birth, His miracles, His death on the cross, and His bodily resurrection; not to mention that He is not actually coming again, and this was added or misunderstood by the Apostles. All of this has led to the fact that many clergy do not believe, much less preach about the Deity of Jesus Christ, the blood atonement of His death on the cross and the other fundamentals of the faith. They mat mention the name of Jesus, or speak of God. But it is done with no discomfort or a plea for self-examination of all of the congregation. They are sheep in wolves clothing. They are actually tearing at the body of Christ much as a wolf would tear and destroy ~~harmless~~ harmless sheep. They are "Non-Prophet Prophets."
(Illustration of atheist, church fire, and never fire in this church before).
There needs to be fire coming from the pulpits of every church so that people are not lulled into the false sense of security of simply living good moral lives and this is the ticket to eternity. John Wesley once said, "When I preach
I set myself on fire and people come to see me burn." This is what every preach~~er~~ er should do. A prophet was not necessarily just a man who had a special message of foretelling future events. A prophet was to be a "Forth" teller of God's message. He was to tell forth, put forward, the word of God in complete truth and honesty. There was to be no glossing over it, or worrying about tramping on toes. The message was to be ~~for~~ given to the very poorest on up to the most influential; from the least educated to the intellectual. But the message is not only to come from the preacher, it is to be "Forth-told" by every member of the congregation. We are each a prophet for God and we can't pass it off as being only the duty of God's appointed messengers, the clergy. The question is what kind of prophet am I? Am I a Non-Prophet Prophet? Or am I a true prophet who speaks ~~and~~ of Jesus Christ, and gives evidence of Him in my life?

"Visible Fruits"

Scripture: Matthew 7:17-20

Text: Matthew 7:20

(Illustration kindergarden teacher mistaking man on subway as father of pupil)
Perhaps this is a good example that things are not always what they appear to be. Someone has said something to the effect, "If it looks like a duck, walks like a duck, quacks like a duck, does everything a duck is supposed to do, then it must be a duck. But with many circumstances as they are in today's world, this doesn't necessarily hold true. Look at all of the things man has been able to counterfeit. There is imitation butter, salt, sugar and so on. If we were to assume that we could determine what everything was by outward appearances we would quickly learn how wrong we may be. Modern dress is a good example. Many young people have been into a craze of wearing denim clothing. Not too long ago the only people wearing denim to any great degree were farmers, and cowboys. Would we say then that every boy or girl wearing blue jeans to school are farmers or cowboys? Another craze has been painters pants. Are all teenagers wearing painters pants, painters? Of course not. This is the dilemma Jesus was trying to point up in this particular portion of Scripture.

We had read of false prophets last week and Jesus had said, "Ye shall know them by their fruits." But He added to this thought by saying, (read verses 17-20). Once again as we have pointed out before, Jesus is making a comparison. He was speaking of false prophets and how ~~their~~ the fruit, or results from their lives would identify them. Now He carries it one step further and makes the comparison between good and bad trees. We must understand this comparison in order to get the point which Jesus is making. He is not talking about good trees and rotten trees. Rotten trees, or decayed trees do not bring forth fruit. There is a subtle element which Jesus is pointing out. He is speaking of trees that may resemble each other, but there is a distinct difference between their fruits. In our neighborhood where I grew up one of the neighbors had some apple trees. Those trees all looked very much the same. We would watch those apples getting bigger and juicer as summer moved along. Then when the apples appeared to be just about right we would pick a few off the ground which had been helped to get there by someone up in the tree. But we soon discovered that apples from two different trees were different. They were both red; both juicy; both ripe; but the similarity ended when bitten into. One was sweet and the other sour. This didn't mean one was evil or corrupt, but the appearances were deceiving. This is the subtle point Jesus is making. It continues to be directed at His followers. We call these people Christians. Jesus was making the point that it could be determined what kind of fruit they were by observation. The evidence will come forth and may be seen. We are dealing with the summation of this entire Sermon on the Mount as we look at this comparison. Jesus had given the foundation stones upon which the Christian life is to be based. By looking at ~~these~~ the distinguishing marks of the Christian we can see if that Christian is poor in spirit; if he is able to mourn over sin and evil; if he seeks to be meek, in control of himself; if he hungers and thirsts after righteousness; if he is merciful, pure, a peacemaker and so on. These are the fruits that can and should be seen in a Christian. If they are not then the conclusion is that the tree is evil, false, untrue.

An unknown author had this to say about worship:

"A week filled with selfishness, and the sabbath stuffed full of religious exercises, will make a good Pharisee, but a poor Christian. There are many persons who think Sunday is a sponge with which to wipe out the sins of the past week. Now, God's altar stands from Sunday to Sunday, and the seventh day is no more for religion than any other. It is for rest. The whole seven are for religion, and one of them for rest."

How do we live outside of these walls? Can people look at the lives we live and see the fruit of Christianity? Actually, when we look at that 20th verse we see that the word is plural. It is, "Fruits." That means there are many.

We know them from the ~~list~~ listing given in the Beatitudes and even though we know it is impossible to live this sermon on the Mount completely. Yet we are to be striving to live it. Jesus knows the struggle we face daily. He is willing to aid us and to forgive us when we fail and fall. ~~But He doesn't want those who are trying to be His followers to pretend to be living the Christian~~ ~~life life life~~ He knows that it isn't easy. But He wants us to know that He will reveal pretenders for what they are. "By their fruits ye shall know them." This is serious business and it becomes more serious when we read of the consequences of living either for or against God. In John 15:1 we read, (Read this). The non-bearing branches, the unfruitful, or the bad fruit, will be done away with. Those branches that are producing and bearing fruit will only be pruned, trimmed, and helped along to be more fruitful. We are not left alone as we strive to live this life. But we must be pointed in the right direction. (Illustration of boy, father, and "Is your face toward me?") Is everything clear between you and the Lord? Is your face toward His, so His face can be toward you? What kind of fruit are we known by? Jesus said, "Wherefore, by their fruits ye shall know them."

"It's More Than Verbal"

Scripture: Matthew 7:21-23

Text: Matthew 7:21

Jesus is continuing His summation of this Sermon on The Mount and at this point He utters what are perhaps the most serious words of the entire sermon. He is speaking of actual commitment as opposed to lip service. He starts by stating, "Not every one that saith unto Me, Lord, Lord, shall enter ~~xxx~~ into the kingdom of heaven, but he that doeth the will of My Father, who is in heaven." It is not just the outward, verbal acceptance of Christ which makes one eligible for God's eternal kingdom. Jesus is speaking here of a type of self-deception. Too much of what has been and is being passed off as Christianity stresses the importance of saying the right words and knowing the proper things. Jesus is stressing that it is much much more than this.

As usual He puts forth His point and now He elaborates on the outcome of it.

In the 22nd verse He states, "Many will say to me in that day, Lord, Lord, have we not prophesied in Thy name? And in Thy name have cast out devils?

And in Thy name done many wonderful works?" Jesus knew human nature only too well. He knew that there are people who make a commitment to God and seek to have that commitment be evident in all they do and say. But He also knew that there are those who make a commitment and at best it is only half-hearted from the very beginning. These are the ones who will defend themselves in God's eternal kingdom and argue with God about what they have done in this life.

Its interesting that Jesus uses the analogy of casting out devils as a proof of commitment and obedience. If we look at an example of Jesus casting out demons, we can see the point He is making. In the 8th chapter of Matthew, Jesus is dealing with two people who are demon possessed. In the 29th verse we read of His conversation with them, (read this). Notice what they call Him. They say, "Jesus Thou Son of God." This indicates they are aware of Him as being Lord. They are in essence saying, "Lord, Lord." So it is evident that if even demons themselves know the right words, it is something beyond just making use of that name, "Lord, Lord," over and over again.

Jesus is calling the believer to self-examination. That is what this entire Sermon on the Mount is about. Jesus spoke it to believers and for the believer all of this wealth of information is put forth for self-examination to see just where the believers are in their spiritual lives.

The Apostle John was inspired by God to write on this very thing in his letters. In 1st John chapter 2, the 4th verse we read, (read this). He goes on to say, in verses 5 and 6, (read these). It is more than just saying, Lord, Lord." It is walking as He walked. In others words, being like Jesus is our everyday lives. The answer Jesus tells us which He will give to these people who can only say, "Lord, Lord," and it means nothing is rather harsh. In the 23rd verse He says, "And then will I profess unto them, I never knew you; depart from me, ye that work iniquity." And why would Jesus dismiss these people from His presence? It certainly isn't because they prophesied, or cast out demons, it was because these things were done to please themselves. Our works must be done for Him and Him only. It isn't for others to notice us, or pat us on the back. Remember what Jesus said in another portion of this sermon about the plaudits of the world? He said those who seek the praise of men will get their reward. But that reward is from men and not from God. We are to look at our motives as we serve God. Is it to glorify Him? Is it to honor Him and His name? Or is it to be seen of men and praised by them?

In another portion of this Gospel of Matthew we find an illustration of what Jesus is talking about. If you will turn to the 21st chapter and look at the 28th verse, (read this and vs 29-31 also). The one son told his father that he would not go and then he changed his mind. The other son said he would go and didn't. This is the case with those who know all about Jesus, His life, His ministry, His death, His resurrection and have come and said they would commit their life to Him, but it stopped right there. We can know all of these things and believe we belong to Him. But if ~~therefore~~ we are not living the life along with the profession of faith, Jesus said we will not enter His kingdom. Jesus said this because He wanted His followers to be constantly

The opportunity is there for each of us to have a "fresh start." This is why Jesus bothered to speak about this issue. Let us examine ourselves and see if perhaps our service has been one of only calling, Lord, Lord, with nothing else about it. It's more than verbal, it is action as well.

"When Is Thanks, Giving?"

Scripture: Deuteronomy 8:10-17

xt: Deuteronomy 8: 11a, 17

I would imagine that the origin of Thanksgiving is ~~xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx~~ one thing which is commonly learned at a very early age. All school children I am sure learn that the Pilgrims came to this nation to have freedom of religion and because of God's providence to them set aside a day in which they rendered thanks to Him. That day's observance has been handed down to us as a national holiday and particularly a day in which we observe a feast and fellowship with our loved ones. A good example of how this holiday is looked at is illustrated by a family who observed that day in a different way:

(Illustration of family, problems, illness, & boy ask, "What ever happened to Thanksgiving?")

For that family, Thanksgiving was not what it usually was. We may well ask this question in our materialistic society, but I believe there is a more important question to be asked. And before some wise acre answers this question with the fact that Thanksgiving is this coming Thursday, let me point out that the question is, "When Is Thanks, (comma), Giving?" To put it more bluntly, "When does our thanks, actually become giving, or motivate us to give?

This is a question we need to wrestle with because of some of our attitudes toward giving.

In our Scripture this morning, God was elaborating all that had transpired in the 40 years of wandering in the wilderness by His people. Moses is relating these words from God and they tell of the wonderful providence He had given to them. In the first 9 verses, which we did not read, ~~xxxxxxxx~~ are recounted those blessings by God. And beginning now in the 10th verse we read, (read this). God is warning them that when their hunger is satisfied, they should not forget where it all came from. For 40 years they had been miraculously fed; their clothes had not ~~be~~ worn out; they had had to rely upon God for all of this and He was reminding them that they should not forget whence it came.

Along with His reminder to render thanks to Him, God issues a ~~warning~~ warning as we read in the 12th and following verses, (read vs 12 through 17).

en this chapter closes with two promises. The first promise we read in the 18th verse, (read this). This is the promise of further blessing from God. The second promise is found in the 19th and 20th verses, (read these). This is the promise of destruction if the people forget God.

I believe the key to this particular Scripture is found in the first part of the 11th verse with the 17th verse added to it. If we then read this as our text it becomes, "Beware that thou forget not the Lord thy God, and thou say in thine heart, my power and the might of my hand hath gotten me this wealth." I believe this is the danger point we have reached today both as a nation and as individuals. We tend to read a Scripture such as this one found in Deuteronomy and pass it off as being just a history of a long forgotten people. But it stands as a reminder that God has done this over and over again for many, many nations and people. Look at the nations of history who stood forth and were prospered by God, but who forgot Him and in turn are now unknown in the world. Think of your own life how before you ever came to know the Lord, you were wandering in the wilderness of this world; lost; seeking; yet not really destitute in the things of this world. Then think of how your life changed when you came to know the Lord and blessings without number have come your way. With ~~at~~ each increase of your blessings, what has been your response to God? You may have thought about your life and been thankful for all that you have when you have reflected upon it. But tell me, "When Is Thanks, Giving?" When has your thankfulness turned to giving more to God?

We look at our times and we ~~human~~ moan about what is happening. But has it ever occurred to anyone that we have ridden the wave of prosperity for over 40 years getting and getting, but giving less and less? Has it ever occurred to ~~any~~ any of us that one day God was going to remind us that we owe Him an accounting of all that we have received and the little we have given back?

How many of us have come to the point where we have said as God warned, "My power and the might of my hand hath gotten me this wealth?"

Who does everything we have belong to? How much does God require of us to return to Him as rightfully His? The answer is a Tithe. And a Tithe is a 10th of everything. This doesn't mean 1% of income, 1% of talent, and so on adding up to 10% total. It is 10% of income, plus 10% of time, 10% of abilities and so on. This is Scriptural and the very least that God seeks from us. But we don't want to hear this because it conflicts with what we want to do. You have heard me preach this for almost 9 years and yet it hasn't had a great deal of effect on the majority of the congregation. We have all sorts of excuses why we don't do it. We blame the times, we say we are retired, we are widows and the list goes on and on. ~~These times are not what we would like them to be.~~

~~But, tell me, how many of us have missed any meals because of these times? How many of us have less clothing, or shelter than we had last year? How many of us are deprived in material things? Yet, what are giving in return for these continued blessings? When is Thanks, Giving?~~

Let me tell you a true story I happen to know. It involves a ~~widow~~ lady who was a widow for about 25 years before she died. This is what she did in those years. (Illustration of Mom, social security; rent; giving etc)

"When Is Thanks, Giving?" Sure, times are tough, but tell me, how many of us have missed any meals because of these times? How many of us have less clothing than we did last year? How many of us are deprived of the material things of life? Yet, what are we giving in return for what God has given us, and for His continued blessings in our lives?

I believe that with all that God has given us, it is an affront to Him for this congregation to not meet its budget for whatever reason we may give. How many of us are actually doing all that we can for God physically, spiritually, and financially? We are much like the Israelites of old in our expression of thanks to God. It is somewhat like the story I have told before. But it bears repeating. (Illustration of "What have you done for me lately, Sam?")

All we need to do is to look at the past recent hours and we can answer that question of what have you done for me ~~xxxxxx~~ lately, God? We had a night's sleep and rest in a comfortable home; we had food this morning; we have a nice sanctuary to worship Him in; and that list could go on and on also.

"When Is Thanks, Giving?" It is when we look at what we have, what has been given and continues to be given to us and then out of love for all that He has given us, we in turn give to Him. Our giving should be a sacrifice, not just what we can give of our surplus. When it is a sacrifice, it becomes one which is well pleasing in His sight and then God will do in your life what the Apostle said He would do as recorded in the 4th chapter of his letter to the Philippians, the 19th verse, "But my God shall supply all your need according to His riches in glory by Christ Jesus." That is, "All your needs," not your wants. This Thanksgiving, let us look seriously at what we have, what has been given to us and remember the admonition of God, "Beware that thou forget not the Lord thy God and ~~say~~ thou say in thine heart, 'My power and the might of mine hand hath gotten me this wealth.'" "Wise Or Foolish?"

Scripture: Matthew 7:24, 26

One of the basic things we read in the Bible over and over is the value of choice. ~~Jesus gave the people of Israel the choice~~ God gives to His people the right of choice over and over again. Just a few examples from the Bible make this abundantly clear. Joshua gave the people of Israel a choice as to whom they would serve. The One God, or the idols of the heathens around them; Ruth chose to become an Israelite and turn from being a Moabite; Solomon asked to be able to be wise, to choose between good and bad, right and wrong; David spoke of having chosen that which was truth in his Psalms; all these and others are choices made by servants of God. Jesus made choosing a part of His message. His parables spoke of making choices over and over. The Prodigal Son, the wise and foolish virgins, the Good Samaritan, the Talents and many others. In each instance something is put forth as being desirable and undesirable and the choice is to be made on that basis. Therefore, it is not surprising that at the very beginning of His ministry, in this Sermon on the Mount He gave opportunity for choices over and over again. But the choice is always tied up in a comparison so the choosee has a chance to see both sides of his choice. In this respect Jesus was a very unique teacher. We have looked at these comparisons and we now come to another one which has many sides to it. Today, we are going to look at the personalities involved in this choice and see the similarities and dissimilarities between them. One individual was Wise, and the other was Foolish.

We read of these two men in the 24th and the 26th verses, (read these). As we look at them we see that in many respects they are exactly alike. They both wanted to build a house in which they and their family could live. Jesus made no distinction between the two houses which were built, so we could safely assume that both men built identically the same house. They were made of the same materials so there was no distinct advantage over one being better constructed than the other. They were both built in exactly the same locality.

So we cannot say that one was subjected to more weather than the other. It is obvious from what Jesus said that the men had the same desire, built the same kind of house, located it in the same area and the only difference between the two houses was the foundation. The location of that foundation is what caused the only difference between the two men.

I would imagine that Jesus could have pointed some individuals out in His audience as examples of these two men. But as He most often did, He spoke of hypothetical cases and people. Jesus was not one to point the finger to cause someone to be embarrassed. Thus He used the hypothetical approach to many subjects. But there are times when we look at a hypothetical case and find it difficult to picture what could or could not take place. It is then we need to have an actual example to help us through this problem. There are several examples we could use from Scripture and one I believe stands out at this point above all of the rest. This example is found in the Old Testament book of Genesis and it involves Abram and his nephew Lot. Turn if you will to the 13th chapter of Genesis. At this point in time God had not changed his name to Abraham yet, so he was still called Abram. The flocks and herds of Abram and Lot had grown and multiplied to ~~un~~manageable proportions. So it was that Abram's servants, and Lot's servants argued over the pastureland and watering rights.

As we begin this story we read of this background in verses 1 through 7. Then ^{and following verses} in verse 8 we read of Abram's solution to this problem, (read verses 8-9). Abram being an honorable man, not wanting to take advantage of his nephew Lot, gives him first choice.

Verse 10 describes how Lot selected the land of his choice, (read this). ~~What~~ What did he use to make his selection? His eyes. He looked and he beheld. He used his human instincts and emotions to make his choice. There was no calling upon God for direction and guidance. It was strictly from the human instincts that Lot made his choice. Then verse 11 tells us of this choice, (read this). Verse 12 relates where it was that Lot chose to live, and verse 13 tells us what kind of people lived there, (read these). Is this how God wants us to make our choices? No it isn't. But this is the way the natural man, the unsaved man makes his choices and unfortunately it is the way many saved people or those who know the Lord make their decisions. Decisions of all kinds need to be made in the sight of God. That means that we consult Him for anything and everything which we are to do. That is what God wants from us. When He has control of our thoughts and ideas, He can use us and as a result bless us in many ways.

So God commanded Abram to look upon his land in which he was to settle and the place in which he did settle. Verses 14 through 18 tell us this. One man chose in and through his humanness, while the other chose through God. One man's foundation was built upon the Rock; the other man's foundation was built upon the sand; one man built for this life; the other built for eternity. This is the subtle point Jesus was trying to make in our Scripture today. Once again He is pointing not at unbelievers but the difference between two believers. He is pointing out that there are those who are believers in every sense of the word. Their lives are rooted and grounded on a solid foundation. But there are others living and moving among these solid foundation believers who are ~~only~~ believers in name only. He is trying to warn everyone of the danger of being self-deceived by going through the motions of thinking all is well. He had a real burden that everyone should be wholly and totally committed to the building of their ~~spirit~~ spiritual lives. Just as a house foundation is laid block by block, so must the spiritual foundation. In previous verses He told how to look for the real and genuine as opposed to the false and unreal not only in others, but in ourselves as well. It continues to be self-examination all of us must be about. Our goal always is to make certain our choices are the ones God wants us to make.

Roland Hill a famous English preacher of yesteryear was once preaching to a large crowd on a main highway. A magnificent carriage with an obviously titled lady inside, and bound for the palace came along. A man who was called an ~~Outrider~~ "Outrider" walked in front to clear the way. Mr. Hill said that ~~the~~

then proceeded to speak to the lady in verse form and this is what he said:
(Illustration of "Choosing Aright," as found in "2400 Illustrations - Naismith")
What choice are we making for the building of these houses of ours? Our choice is either that of being "Wise Or ~~Foolish~~ Foolish."

Scripture: Matthew 7: 24-27

Text: Matthew 7:25b, 27b

Last week we looked at two verses from this block of Scripture. Those two verses dealt with the individuals involved in the illustration Jesus was using. Today we are going to look at the entire block of Scripture to determine just what Jesus was saying in total. As is so often the case it would be literally impossible to relate all of the issues and side issues that may be involved in a Scripture like this.

This particular portion of Scripture is the summation of all of the Sermon on the Mount. It is at this point that Jesus ties all of it together in one last illustration. He begins by saying, "Therefore whosoever heareth these sayings of mine, and doeth them, I will liken him unto a wise man which built his house upon a rock." Mt. 7:24. Then He ~~xi~~ makes a comparison between this man and another man by stating as we read in the 26th verse, "And every one that heareth these sayings of mine, and doeth them not, shall be likened unto a foolish man, which built his house upon the sand." Mt. 7:26. We dealt partially with the
Or
"Wise ~~and~~ Foolish," last week. The background that Jesus was using is the entire Sermon on the Mount. It is chapters 5, 6, and 7 of this Gospel of Matthew. It includes the Beatitudes, the Lord's Prayer, and all of the admonitions to live and act in a certain way. It was directed to believers as we have said time after time. It was directed to those who were professing to be followers of Him and these instructions were to help any and all to live the Christian life. But we must point out once more that all of the instructions given could not possibly be lived by any one individual. To live everything ~~as~~ Jesus gave as guidelines for life would make an individual perfect, and we all know that perfection in this life is impossible for any mere human. Since we cannot completely live the Sermon on the Mount is no reason to refuse to try, nor are we to think of our Christian walk in this life as following sets of rules and regulations. Either of these two choices is far from what Jesus was advocating. He knew He was addressing Himself to mortals, but He also knew there must be the desire within the heart of the individual to draw closer to God.

With these thoughts in mind then, let us look at some things Jesus was saying in summing up this complete Sermon.

The entire comparison which is used in this section of Scripture and which Jesus uses throughout the entire sermon is between two people. It is always the true believer and the false believer; the pretender and compared to the serious believer. We cannot escape that comparison not only for our lives, but in the lives of others. ~~XXXXXX~~ The question lies at our doorsteps over and over, "Am I really a true believer, or am I merely playing games with Christianity, going through the motions?" Dr. D. Martyn Lloyd Jones makes a definite distinction between the false believer and the true believer. In his book, "Studies In The Sermon On The Mount," this is what he says of the false believer, (Quote on this as found on page 308, volume II.)

These are the pretenders, the ones who have their foundation built upon sand.

How did Jesus differentiate between them? He said it was "He that heareth these sayings and doeth them."

But what of the true believer then? Who is he? He is the one who faces the teachings of Jesus and strives to do them and live them. He is striving to let the Bible speak to him. He is not picking and choosing only that which he likes; he is accepting all of it even when it tramps on his toes and pinches him along the way. He is the one who looks at Jesus and longs to be like Him, and not only longs for that but strives to follow His guidelines for this life. Once again looking at Dr. Jones words we read of what he identifies the true believer to be when he states, (Quote from Jones, Page 314, volume II).

But coming back to the words of Jesus we see that He gives three elements which come into the life of everyone. But He shows the difference between the results when they come into the life of a true believer as opposed to ~~XXXXXX~~ a false believer. The first element is rain. From Scripture we learn that in this life we are under attack from the world, the flesh, and the devil. I believe that what Jesus is referring to about the rains beating upon the house are the works of the flesh, and against the flesh. Sickness, disease, disappointments, sudden reversals, or circumstances turning differently than anticipated, and grief or bereavement are all a part of the rain Jesus was saying descended upon both of the houses in His comparison.

Then He spoke of floods and I believe the floods are the works of the world which beat against the house of the true believer as well as the false believer. The worldly things creep into all of our lives; things that appeal to our human nature to draw us from God; the enticements that tear at us; or perhaps even persecutions from sources within the world. These are the floods which beat upon the house.

Then Jesus spoke of winds. I believe the winds which blow against our houses are the winds of Satan the devil. Just as it is difficult to stand and walk in a windstorm, so it is to resist and stand against the forces of Satan blowing against our lives daily. He attacks in the most insidious ways that often we are not even thinking of him as being behind the storms of life that assail us. Each of the two houses received the rain, the flood, and the wind. The only difference in the end result was upon what the foundation was anchored. Jesus said the house built upon the rock, "Fell not: for it was founded upon a rock." The house whose foundation was in the sand, "Fell: and great was the fall of it!" Notice, that it didn't say the house on the rock didn't encounter the same storms ~~and was not destroyed~~ of life. Each of them had the storms, but only the house on the solid foundation withstood those storms. Those storms caused the occupants of the house to encounter fears, anxieties, concerns and all the other emotional problems of a normal life. But since the house withstood the storms the occupants were kept safe. How could this happen? Because those who founded that house upon a rock had within an element the others who build upon the sand do not have. What is that ingredient?

It was predicted and prophesied that Jesus would be the Prince of Peace. Mankind looked for the coming of a king of sorts. As a result much of mankind has missed His coming because they have looked and continue to look for that which they can never have. We can run from any problem in this life, but we can never escape it. The only way we can have peace, true peace in these lives is through Jesus Christ living at the center of them. David who had sought peace and fulfillment all of his life came to the point in his old age that he wrote in the 37th Psalm the 37th verse, "Mark the perfect man, and behold the upright: for the end of that man is peace." Through all of the storms, rains, winds, and floods of life. The one who prevails is the one who has built his house upon the Rock, and he has peace.

"Who Was That Man?"

Scripture: Matthew 7:28-29

Text: Matthew 7:29

The setting is a familiar one. The person or persons who had been on the verge of being cheated out of land, or money, or physical goods stand ~~looking into the distance toward a cloud of dust being raised by a figure on a white horse, fast disappearing from sight. One of the people turns to someone nearby and asks, "Who was that man?" The answer is, "Why that was the Lone Ranger."~~ looking into the distance toward a cloud of dust being raised by a figure on a white horse, fast disappearing from sight. One of the people turns to someone nearby and asks, "Who was that man?" The answer is, "Why that was the Lone Ranger." We have probably all seen this on TV or heard the program on the radio.

The question is always asked because of the unexpected help and assistance the masked man gives to those in need. I wouldn't say the writer of the Lone Ranger stories had Jesus Christ in mind, but this was the question asked of Him many times. Matthew adds an editorial comment to the end of the Sermon on the Mount with the words, (read Mt. 7:28-29). We have talked about all of the things Jesus had said. Bit by bit, piece by piece Jesus had shared His thoughts and ideas with His followers. All of the focus was upon what He had to say. Now we must direct our attention to the One doing the speaking. And we may well ask just as many others have, "Who Was That Man?"

Here was a large crowd of people on this mountain. Jesus had come with His Disciples and perhaps it was just He and them walking together with Him telling them His message. As they approached the mountain, people had been coming from all directions because word had spread that He was in the area. Since there were so many, He went up on the hillside and sat down facing them and began to teach. He had just begun His ministry and ^{many of} those in the crowd had only heard that He was different. So they perhaps whispered to one another, "Who Is This Man?" They had heard He was from Galilee, He was only the son of a carpenter and had not attended The Jerusalem Theological Seminary, so how could He know so much? Where did He get His learning? But especially, Why was He so different from their other teachers? Matthew puts his finger on the pulse of the crowd when he states, "The people were astonished at His doctrine; for He taught them as one having authority." The word Authority in Greek is EXOUSIA and it means, "power, ruling power, a bearer of authority"

In the sense that it is used here of Jesus it is not an authority or power that is granted by the Holy Spirit. Instead, it is a power or authority that is on a par with the authority of God. Thus, when Matthew says "He taught them as one with authority," he is stating that the people recognized that this was very, very, special teaching. Matthew also adds, "And not as the scribes." This was due to the fact that the scribes taught by using a quotation from someone to prove this point, and a quotation from someone to prove another point. None of their teaching was original. It was always what someone else had said along a certain line. We could compare it to a present day lawyer preparing a court case, and citing a certain case years ago which set a precedent for arguing the case in a certain way.

~~Look~~ We need only look at what He said to see the Authority which He exhibited. In the 5th chapter we see several examples of this. Verse 21, starts by saying, "Ye have heard ~~xxxxxx~~ that it was said by them of old," and then He goes on to state what that statement was, and then He adds, "But I say unto you." The scribes didn't dare make that statement. When Jesus was making these statements He was correcting the teaching of the Pharisees and the scribes. But His message had a ring of originality about it. It was not the same old stale advice given by the Jewish leaders. It was new and fresh, and people were able to understand what God's Law was really all about. He made it simple for them, but He didn't promise the ~~xxxx~~ living of the Law was simple. But He not only showed Authority when He taught, He put Himself into the teaching. Look at the 11th verse of the 5th chapter. (Read this). What does He say about Himself? "For MY sake." It isn't that you will be blessed because of the teachings sake, or that you will be blessed if you are persecuted for striving to put into practice these teachings. It is "For MY Sake." He is saying that we must be prepared to suffer for His sake. And then He says "Ye are the salt of the earth," and "Ye are the light of the world," and all of this is possible ~~xxxxxxx~~ through being a Disciple of His. He is showing that He was indeed God in the flesh. No one dared tamper with the Law and the

"Someday, Somewhere"

Scripture: Assorted verses Old and New Testaments

The Christmas story actually began in a garden called Eden back at the creation. GOD'S plan for perfection had been cast aside by His enemy Satan, and instead of joy and happiness in the lives of Adam and Eve, there now resided darkness and sin. In this stark moment, God whispered a promise. That promise was vague and obscure. That promise was that "Someday, Somewhere," One would come forth as God's Deliverer. He wasn't named, it was not told when He would come. God simply said to Satan as recorded in Genesis 3:15, (read this) A SEED! Just a SEED, and that's all. But man began to look forward to what God would do. He couldn't see it, he didn't understand it, but that promise was there.

But thousands of years went by and it was still, "Someday, Somewhere," and nothing more. But once again God whispered, this time to a man named Abraham. This is what He said, (Read Gen. 12:1-3). The promise was carried on from Abraham to his son Isaac and to Isaac's son Jacob and then to Jacob's son Judah. And God spoke to Judah and said, (read Gen. 49:10). Once again the heart of man quickened. A man was going to come, SHILOH, a man of peace. To be born into the family of Judah. But when? No answer, Where? Silence. Man waited. Another 600 years passed and a strange man named Balaam, said, (read Numbers 24:17a). A Seed, a Son, A Star from the family of Judah; a Scepter from Israel. A Seed is a beginning, a Son is a descendant, a Star gives light, and a Scepter means a Ruler. Not much to go on to solve the mystery that was going to take place, "Someday, Somewhere. But the promise was there and it made men look and listen and dream.

Moses caught a part of God's plan shortly before his death and he told the people of Israel, (read Deut. 18:15). A prophet who will speak the truth. One who will be a brother among the people of Israel. The promise is: A Seed, A Son, A Star, A Scepter, A Prophet, A Brother. Yet with all of this man struggled with what God was saying.

King David added to the mystery and sees this Deliverer. But he sees Him not : a son of Abraham, Isaac, Jacob, and Judah. But he hears the Lord say, "He is My Son," (read Psalm 2:7).

~~XXXX~~ A Seed, A son told to Abraham, spelled with a small "s." A Son spelled with a capital "S." Judah's son, God's Son; A Star, A Scepter, A Prophet, A Brother, but all of it a mystery.

Another 300 years slip by and the Prophet Isaiah sees this Deliverer. He doesn't know His name, nor His birthplace, nor His birthdate, but he tells Israel a day will come when gloom for them will be over and he prophesies, (read Isaiah ~~9~~x 9:2, 6, 7). A Seed, A son of Judah, The Son of God, A Star, A Scepter, A Prophet, A Brother, A Light, A Deliverer, A Child, A Governor, A Counselor, A Prince, A King, A God all of this and He will live forever. What a promise this has evolved into! What a mystery instead and how the people longed to see this all come to pass. Added to this is the statement of Isaiah that this God was going to be born like any other baby, to a woman who was a virgin, an unknown woman, and so the mystery deepens.

Another 30 years went by and another Prophet named Micah said, (read Micah 5:2). This promise now is narrowed to the obscure little village called, "Bethlehem." A Seed, A Son, A Star, A Scepter, A Prophet, A Brother, A Light, A Deliverer, A Child, A Governor, A Counselor, A Prince, A King, A God, A Little Baby, AMystery. But God carried that mystery to its ultimate conclusion. He revealed all of this by the Spirit, His Holy Spirit.

The apostle Paul inspired by all of this wrote, "For when the fulness of time was come, God sent forth His Son, made of a woman, made under the law, to redeem them that were under the law, that we might receive the adoption of sons." (Gal 4:4-5). Yes, in the fulness of time, in the fulness of God's time, the Mystery unfolded. For, "It came to pass, etc - (verses 1-11 of Luke 2,). Then A Seed, A Son, A Star, etc, etc, (read from paper).

Then: Luke 12-20, chapter 2, & read from paper conclusion.

Glories stream from heaven afar,
Heavenly hosts sing alleluia;
Christ the Savior, is born! Christ, the Savior, is born!

3. Silent night, holy night, Son of God, love's pure light Radiant beams from Thy holy face,
With the dawn of redeeming grace,
Jesus, Lord, at Thy birth, Jesus, Lord, at Thy birth.

 Come, O Come let us adore Him.

He was a skinny little guy. In fact, he was shorter than most 12 year old boys and his friends all called him, "Shorty." His name was Johnny and he lived with his mother and little 8 year old sister in a small apartment above the drug store. Shorty was a go-getter. In the summer he mowed lawns for some of the older folks of the small town in which they lived. He ran errands, raked leaves and did all sort of odd jobs to help his mother meet their bills. But Shorty never had his hand out. If people paid him for the things he did, he accepted it gratefully. But if they didn't he thanked them for letting him do them a favor. His mother had taught him that God looks at the heart of a person to see what their motives are. He also learned this in Sunday School from ~~his kindly teacher~~ Bill his teacher. With his mother and Bill taught him that God watches to see what you will do in a certain situation and life was not made up of being paid for everything one did. Shorty's Dad was dead and his mother worked long hours scrubbing floors ~~in~~ and cleaning several offices around town. So whatever help he could provide he gladly did so. He often looked at his mother's rough, red hands and ~~thought~~ wished he could make lots of money so his mother would never have to work again. So it was not by chance that Shorty had made special plans for ~~this~~ what he meant to be a special Christmas for not only his mother, but his little sister as well.

[illegible]

The only problem was that Jack was a businessman and he demanded ~~xxxxx2x~~ two-thirds cash for the greens and the balance on Christmas Eve at closing time. The greens cost $15.00 and that took Shorty's ten dollars he had been saving all year. ~~xxxxxx~~ Shorty just knew that he would make that $5.00 dollars plus the extra amount he needed to buy his mother and sister nice presents.

So Shorty had made the necessary arrangements to sell his corsages outside of Sam's Hardware store. Sam was a kindly old man who loved kids. He not only sold hardware, but sold toys, general household ~~xxxx~~ items and had a counter for candy and bubble gum. Most of the ~~xxxxxxhacks~~ kids stopped at the store after school and on Saturdays. From time to time Sam had to evict some of them for their horseplay, but the next day they would be back with a warning from Sam that if they continued to misbehave they would be barred for good. But that was only a ~~warning~~ threat which was never carried out. Sam loved kids and showed it many, many times. His full name was Samuel Clouse and the kids lovingly called him Sammy Claus. He pretended to get mad, but they knew he loved the title.

Shorty's plans were all falling into place. He had spent ~~the~~ the Friday and Saturday after Thanksgiving making the small corsages of evergreen branches, and placing the little red artificial berries he had also bought at Sam's on them. Now each Saturday he was outside of Sam's Hardware store from 9:00 in the morning until 9:00 at night. When he wasn't busy making a sale, (which was quite often), he was in the store looking around at what he could get for his mother and sister. He finally settled on a pair of gloves to keep his mother's red hands warm and for his sister some baby dolls clothes for her special baby doll he knew she was going to get. He talked to Sam about these things and Sam had suggested the more expensive gloves because they were lined and the more expensive box of doll clothes, because he would get more for his money. This was OK with Shorty because he figured he would make at least $15.00 dollars from his sales of corsages. Let's see, he owed Jack $5.00 dollars, the gloves cost $4.50 and the doll clothes cost $3.50. That left him with $2.00 dollars left over. Why he could buy that model airplane he had been looking at and wanting for so long. He had told his mother about the plane but her reply had been that she could not squeeze the extra two dollars to buy it. She had asked him if he minded making a sacrifice this year so his little sister could have the doll her heart was set on getting. Not wanting to see his sister disappointed he had agreed to do this. After all, his mother had told him, Jesus had said it was more blessed to give than to receive.

So there he was each Saturday shivering in the cold, in his shoes with worn through soles, and pieces of cardboard to cover the holes, trying to sell his corsages so they could all have a nice Christmas. He whistled to the Christmas carols played over the loudspeaker mounted ~~above Sam's doorway and stomped his cold little feet. When he had the opportunity he had his nose pressed against the glass looking at the nice warm gloves he was going to buy for his mother and at the box containing the doll clothes she was going to buy for his sister and at the model airplane he was going to buy for himself.~~ above Sam's doorway and stomped his cold little feet. When he had the opportunity he had his nose pressed against the glass looking at the nice warm gloves he was going to buy for his mother. He thought how ~~happy she would be as she tried them on, on Christmas morning and how proud he would be to know that her rough red hands would be covered from the weather.~~ He looked at the box of doll clothes and dreamed of how his sister would ~~like to see him open the box and get all big eyed as she discovered how much added fun she would have with this present. And he looked lovingly at the box containing the model airplane which would be his when he was done selling his corsages late Christmas Eve.~~ open the box and get all big eyed as she discovered how much added fun she would have with this present. And he looked lovingly at the box containing the model airplane which would be his when he was done selling his corsages late Christmas Eve.

Now it was Christmas Eve. He had been outside Sam's every night after school until Sam had closed each night this week at 9:00 O'clock. He felt in his pocket and the money was there and he had $12.00 dollars. Now he only needed ~~two~~ three more and he could pay Jack the five dollars for the greens, pay Sam the ten dollars he needed and the gloves, doll clothes and model plane would be his. It was after lunch and the afternoon dragged on. He had sold a couple corsage in the morning and he just knew he would make the three dollars he needed yet. He kept pressing his nose against the glass to peer inside at the presents he knew would be his very shortly. Sam noticed the number of nose prints which had appeared on his window just this week and smiled to himself as he thought of the boyish anticipation of a simple, yet wonderful Christmas that family would have. Between noon and three O'clock Shorty sold two corsages and that meant he had $13.00 dollars. Only two more to go.

As he waited there calling out to passersby, "Get your Christmas corsages here," he saw a man come staggering across the street carrying a Christmas tree. At first he thought the man was staggering because of the tree, but when he went to step up on the curb and fell down, Shorty knew the man had been drinking. He rushed over to the curb and helped the man get to his feet, and as he re-adjusted the Christmas tree in his grasp, he mumbled, "Merry Christmas sonny," and staggered off. Shorty watched him as he lurched from side to side down the sidewalk, and wished he had a daddy to bring home a tree but not a daddy who was drunk. While this was taking place Sam was looking out the door and saw what Shorty had done. When Shorty turned back to look in the window again Sam quickly pretended to be busy at his counters. Between three O'clock and four-thirty he sold one more corsage so now he had $13.50 just a dollar and a half to go. Shorty just knew that at five O'clock when Sam closed his store he would have the money to buy what he wanted. He just knew it.

While he was looking in the window at his presents he was startled by a familiar voice saying, "Johnny, you're smearing Sam's window." He quickly turned around and there was his mother. She hugged him and bent over to kiss him and Shorty quickly looked around to see if any of his pals were around, as he wiped the kiss off. But he knew and his mother knew that he liked her to make a fuss over him. She told him she was going to stop at Jack's and see if she could buy a little tree to decorate their apartment with after they got home from church that night when little sister was in bed. She told him to be careful and to come right home at 5:00 for supper. He watched her as she walked away pulling her thin sweater ~~xxxxxxxshoulder~~ closer to her to keep warm and wished with all of his heart that he could ~~xxxxxxx~~ get her a nice warm coat instead of just gloves. It was now 4:45 and as he stamped his feet to try to keep them warm, he began to wonder if he was really going to make the money he needed. He still needed a dollar and a half. He saw that the streets were becoming empty. The stores were getting ready to close and the people were rushing home. He called out, "Last chance to get a nice corsage of greens," but the people walked by. He saw a rather shabbily dressed woman with a small girl approach him. The mother stopped and looked at the few corsages Shorty had left. She smiled and started to walk away. The little girl stood there looking at them and stayed behind as her mother kept walking. She whispered, "How much are they?" Shorty said, "fifty cents." The little girl opened her hand and Shorty saw that she only had a quarter, but her saw the look of desire to get one of these corsages for her mother. "Here he said, "as he handed her what he thought was the ~~xxxx~~ best one left, "give this to your mother," She handed him the quarter as she took the corsage and immediately Shorty felt guilty about taking her ~~xxxx~~ money. "Maybe you can use this to buy something else too," he said as he handed her back her quarter. "And have a Merry Christmas," he added. The little girl's face was all aglow as she quickly skipped off to catch up with her mother who was looking in a window further down the street. Shorty knew that transaction didn't help him meet his quota, but somehow he felt good inside. While this was taking place, Sam had been looking out the window and watching. But now as Shorty turned back to press his nose against the glass again, Sam busied himself with setting the store in order to close for the day. Shorty did a quick count and realized he'd only have 50 cents left. The minutes slowly ticked by and Shorty glanced up at the big clock down the street as it began to ~~xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx~~ strike the hour with its deep bass tone. One, Two, Three, Shorty didn't want to count. He wished he could stop it because Sam wanted to close up and he had to go inside and buy his presents, but he didn't have what he wanted yet. "Four, Five," and the time to closeup for the night had arrived. Sam came to the window and tapped on it for Shorty to come inside. He went in and told Sam he could buy the gloves and the doll clothes, but he would have to wait to buy the model plane. Sam put the gloves and the ~~xxxx~~ box of doll clothes in a bag and Shorty handed him the money. Sam ~~xxxxxxxthathe was not buying the model plane and he~~ looked at Shorty as he wistfully glanced at the box sitting ~~xxxxxx~~ on the counter. He handed Shorty the bag and as he walked to the door with him to lock it after him he said, "Merry Christmas Shorty." Shorty replied Merry Christmas in return and walked out into the now dark cold night. He stopped at Jack's produce store and gave him the $5.00 dollars he owed him for the greens and trudged on home. He came home and went to his room to wrap the presents. This he did with the only wrapping paper available which was newspaper tied with a string. His mother called him for supper and he glanced at the scrawny crooked little tree which was sitting in the corner of the living room with one string of colored lights and a few decorations on it. They sat down to their meal of chicken noodle soup and ~~xxxx~~ the evening moved on and soon it was time to go to the Christmas Eve service. Shorty snuggled next to his mother in the nice warm church. He heard the preacher say about the joy of giving as the ~~xxxx~~ offering was about to be taken. While the ushers were coming up the aisle, Shorty was fingering the 50 cents in his pocket. He wanted to give it, and yet he didn't. He knew this was all he had and if he gave it he wouldn't even have this small amount to add money to in order to buy the model plane he wanted. But as the plate came to him he impulsively pulled the money out of his pocket and onto the plate and then it was gone. His mother noticed what he had done and she patted his hand as though to reassure him he had done the right thing. And he had to admit inside that it did make him feel good. The preacher started into his sermon and the long day, the effect of cold air all day soon took its toll and Shorty was fast asleep. The last thing he heard was about the joy of a gift from God. He soon was dreaming of shepherds and sheep, angels, and all of the other things of the Christmas story. The next thin he knew he was awakened by his mother and it was time to go home. They went to their little apartment and his mother made them a cup of hot chocolate and they went to bed.

The next morning he awakened and went into the living room. He peeked under the tree and saw a couple more presents. One was actually wrapped in regular Christmas paper. He could hardly wait until his mother and sister got up so he could see their faces as they opened their presents. But he was curious about the other two presents as well.

Very soon his mother and sister were up and his mother distributed the presents. She handed him the two extra boxes with the instructions that the one in real Christmas paper be opened first. ~~xxxxxxx~~ But he waited until his mother and little sister had opened their presents. His sister tore off the paper and squealed in delight as she saw the doll clothes she could now use to dress the new doll she got. His mother cried when she saw the warm lined gloves he had gotten her because she knew the sacrifice he had made to do so.

Then she told him to open his presents. He tore the ~~paper~~ Christmas paper off the one and discovered the box contained a Bible. In the Bible was a note.

The note said, "This is for you Johnny with love from your Sunday School teacher, Bill. Please read the verse marked in the book of Acts." He opened the Bible to the book of Acts at the bookmark and read from the 20th ~~xxxxxxx~~ chapter, the 35th verse, "I have shewed you all things, how that so laboring ye ought to support the weak, and to remember the words of the Lord Jesus, how He said, 'It is more blessed to give than to receive.'" This is just what he had heard at church, from his mother and from his Sunday School teacher. But he wanted to open the other present because it was wrapped in newspaper and he figured his mother had gotten the model plane for him after all. As he tore the paper off he discovered that it was the model plane, but there was a note inside. The note said, "Dear Shorty, I watched you looking in my window ~~xxx~~ for several weeks. In fact, I had to clean your nose prints off the glass. But I didn't mind that because I knew that when your sales were over I would make a couple. But I watched you on Christmas Eve as you helped a drunken father to his feet; I watched you be considerate to many people; but then I saw you give a little girl a corsage who had little money so she could give her mother something. So this model is my gift to you. You have discovered the secret of Christmas. Your friend, Sam."

The world stood for thousands of years, much like Shorty with their noses as it were pressed against the glass. The glass symbolizes that which separates people and keeps them from what they should have. Mankind has sought for that which would give them peace. Even today, many people are leaving nose prints on glass seeking that which will fulfill and satisfy. But that has already been given and we need to open the doors of our hearts and take that gift so freely given, so freely offered by Almighty God. We need to hear the words, "For unto you is born this day a Saviour which is Christ the Lord." And we need to let that Saviour in, and ~~xxxxxxx~~ lift our hearts and voices in the heavenly chorus, "Joy to the world, the Lord is come, O Come, let us adore him."

Ralph C. Link

I am the youngest of five children. I was born just prior to the onset of the Depression. Our family was very poor. My father was an alcoholic and my mother was a very religious person who was searching for the Lord. During my childhood she did her best to teach me the things of the Lord. Later in life she came to a personal relationship with Him.

I grew up in the Evangelical and Reformed Church where salvation by grace alone was not preached nor taught. I knew all about Jesus, what He did, how He lived, His miracles, His death and resurrection, but I didn't know Him personally.

My life had many ups and downs and all the while I was attending church and striving with my good works to please God. At a very low point in my life when we were deeply in debt and my wife and three children were all ill, I came to the crossroads. I watched a Billy Graham Crusade on television from some distant city and the message he preached seemed to be directed right at me. I wrestled with making that commitment to Christ, but didn't. The next afternoon and evening at work on the 4 to 12 shift I came to the conclusion that I needed to make that commitment to Christ. It seemed like there was no other choice if life was to have any meaning. That night when I came home from work at 1:00 A.M., I laid face down on the living room floor and told God that I couldn't live my life in my own strength and I accepted the gift of salvation from my Savior Jesus Christ. My life has never been the same.

Through several meaningful circumstances I was called by God to serve Him in the Christian Ministry and to help spread that wonderful message of salvation through the shed blood of Jesus Christ. What a wonderful and rewarding time it has been and I give Him all the praise for my salvation and the opportunity to serve Him.

Ralph C. Link

I believe the Bible, both the Old and New Testaments to be the inspired inerrant Word of God. I believe the Bible is the complete revelation of His will for the salvation of men and it is the final authority for the Christian faith and life.

I believe in one God, who is eternally existent in three persons: Father, Son and Holy Spirit.

I believe in the Deity of the Lord Jesus Christ that He is true God and true man. I believe that He was born of the Virgin Mary, that He lived in sinless life, that He performed the miracles recorded in Scripture, that He died on the cross as a sacrifice for our sins, that He bodily arose from the dead, that He ascended on high where He is at the right hand of Almighty God as our intercessor.

I believe in the Holy Spirit and that He comes and indwells each believer at the time of conversion. I believe that He lives in each believer to lead, to instruct, and to convict so that a believer may live a more godly life.

I believe that through the shed blood of Jesus Christ and through His resurrection, this is the only ground for justification and salvation for all who receive Him. A Lord and Savior and to such as receive Him, they are born of the Holy Spirit and become children of God.

I believe water baptism and the Lord's Supper are ordinances of the Church but are not means of salvation.

I believe in the personal and premillennial and imminent coming of the Lord Jesus Christ.

I believe in the resurrection of the dead, for the believer to resurrection of life and joy with the Lord, for the unbeliever to resurrection of judgement and everlasting punishment.
